LOCALS INDUCTED INTO THE MONTANA PRO-RODEO HALL OF FAME

Two southwest Montana cowboys, the late Tex Smith of Dillon and Charlie Hahnkamp of Melrose, will have the honor of being inducted into the Montana ProRodeo Hall of Fame in Billings on January 26, 2013. Their names will be permanently engraved into the monument site near the entrance to the MetraPark Arena in Billings.

Tex started his rodeo career in the late thirties and continued to compete until hanging up his spurs in 1993 at the age of 72. Tex rodeoed from Salt Lake City to Calgary, from Pendleton to Omaha, and most places in between....winning some and losing some. On two of his trips to Omaha, Nebraska he won a go-around in bulldogging and placed in calf roping. At the Calgary Stampede he made the top 10 calf ropers in the finals and placed there. Some of his special memories included winning the all-around at Missoula in 1945 and the calf roping in Dillon in 1950. He won bulldogging in Red Lodge, Helena, and Dillon, Tex competed in all rodeo events, from calf roping, bulldogging and team roping to riding roughstock in saddle bronc, bareback and bullriding in his younger years. Tex was a member of the Cowboy Turtles, the Rodeo Cowboys Association, a gold card holder in the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association, Senior Pro Rodeo Association and amateur rodeo associations in Idaho and Montana.

Charlie started in the late 1970's as a pick-up man at pro rodeos for Reg Kesler. Charlie furnished roping and bulldogging stock at many rodeos and was also a competitor. Charlie is also well know as a real ranch cowboy.

DILLON FESTIVAL OF TREES 2012/2013

The 2012 Dillon Festival of Trees, held November 2012, was a great success resulting in the presentation of $8000 each to the Fifth Judicial Voice for Children (CASA) and Beaverhead Ski Patrol.

The event kicked off Friday night with a preview of auction items, complimentary photos with Santa and Mrs. Claus and opening of the homemade candy store. Cookies and cider were served and children had the chance to win fun-filled baskets and grab bags.

Community support by means of auction donations and event attendance were unsurpassed. Exquisite glass center piece ensembles, beautiful themed trees and wreaths, antiques, wine basket, and weekend getaways were among the live auction items, not to mention, the more whimsical themed trees, which were a big hit with the light-hearted.

Guests were presented the opportunity to win door prizes and a gorgeous lighted table top tree, adorned with one hundred dollars. Attendees munched on appetizers and wine and punch while bidding the silent auction, which offered something for the young, the old, the practical, the frivolous, and everyone in between. Some folks attended just to splurge on melt-in-your-mouth fudge, caramels, divinity, peanut brittle or other dilectibles of the homemade candy store.

The Honorable Judge Loran Tucker and Leslie Cottom spoke on behalf of the Fifth Judicial Voice for Children and Beaverhead Ski Patrol, respectively, thanking the gracious crowd for their attendance and generosity.

Funds raised at the Festival were used to help sustain the remarkable CASA program and to finish the new ski patrol emergency care building.

The Dillon Festival of Trees Board would like to express their gratitude to the Beaverhead County community for supporting our annual event.

We would like to invite all non-profit organizations to complete an application to receive funds raised at the 2013 Festival. Applications are available at the Knock About and are due March 1st.

UMW MEN'S BASKETBALL WINS TWO

The University of Montana Western men's basketball team heated up in their second straight weekend at home. On Friday, Jan. 18, the Bulldogs took down Rocky Mountain College 75-67. The next afternoon, Dickinson State was handed a 78-51 loss.

On the weekend, the Bulldogs only trailed for the first minute and 47 seconds against Dickinson State. The rest was all Montana Western as their excellent team play dominated every statistical category: points 153-118, rebounds 87-66, assists 51-24, turnovers 27-35, blocks 14-6 and steals 21-13.

In the first half against the Rocky Mountain College Battlin' Bears, the Bulldogs steadily built their lead, shot 47 percent (17-36) from the field, held Rocky Mountain to 27 percent (10-37) and took a 42-26 lead into halftime.

The Bears came back in the second half with 63 percent (15-24) shooting from the floor and 55 percent (6-11) from three-point land. On two occasions, Rocky Mountain would get within two points but the Bulldogs held them off thanks to five points by Maazin Butler in the final two minutes.

Kris Castro put up a career-high 19 points followed by Jake Owsley with 14, Butler with 12 and Kris Collins with nine. Jordan Overstreet and Gabe Rucker each dished four assists while Butler and Castro had three apiece. Owsley also chipped in eight rebounds and four blocks while Castro had two blocks and four steals for the Bulldogs.

On Saturday afternoon, the Dickinson State Blue Hawks stayed with Montana Western in the first half until the Bulldogs went on a 20-3 run over the final nine minutes for a 43-17 lead at the break. Montana Western shot 50 percent (17-34) from the field and 54 percent (7-13) behind the arc, compared to Dickinson State's 22 percent for both (6-27 from the field and 2-9 behind the arc).

The Bulldogs continued to dominate in the second half, never letting the Blue Hawks within 20 points. Their largest lead, at 35 points, came at the 16:29 mark when Jordan Overstreet made his third straight three-pointer in one minute. The difference in the game was in the paint, where Montana Western outscored Dickinson State 34-8.

All twelve Bulldogs scored, led by Jake Owsley with 14 points on six-of-10 shooting, Overstreet with 12 points all from behind the arc and Gabe Rucker with 11. Kris Castro had a career-high nine assists and Rucker dished seven.

Connor Woodill, Grant Fink and Castro each pulled down six rebounds to lead the Bulldogs to a 46-36 advantage. Tyler Miller and Woodill had three steals apiece while Kris Collins and Castro each had a pair of blocks.

Not a single Dickinson State player reached double digits.

The weekend sweep moves the Bulldogs to 14-6, 4-3. They are now tied for fourth place in the Frontier Conference standings (with Westminster and Rocky Mountain). There is also a three-way tie for first, with Lewis-Clark State, MSU-Northern and Great Falls all sporting 5-2 records.

Montana Western will now turn around and head to Billings, Mont. and Dickinson, N.D. to play Rocky Mountain and Dickinson State on their home floors. Tip-off in Billings will be at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, Jan. 24. In Dickinson on Saturday, Jan. 26, the ball will drop at 4 p.m.

UMW WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

The University of Montana Western women's basketball team picked up two more conference wins this past weekend against Rocky Mountain College and Dickinson State University.

The Bulldogs played on back-to-back nights Friday Jan. 18 against the Rocky Mountain Battlin' Bears and then again on Saturday afternoon Jan. 19 against the Dickinson State Blue Hawks.

Montana Western played a tough but low scoring game against Rocky Mountain College and ended up getting the win with a score of 48-36. Neither team shot the ball well with only two three-pointers made the entire night. The Bears were 0-16 from the three while the Bulldogs were only 2-16 from three-point range.

Sammi Bignell led her team with another close double-double as she put up 14 points and nine rebounds. Kaci Matthies added eight points while Jenna Banks and Alecia Wilson both chipped in seven points apiece. Wilson also had a game-high seven assists.

On Saturday, the Bulldogs took on the Dickinson State Blue Hawks in a battle that ended in Montana Western's favor. The score was tied nine times in this game with the lead changing 13 times. With about two minutes left in regulation, the game was tied 53-53 when Jenna Banks drove the lane and made a layup to put the Bulldogs up by two. Montana Western got a key stop on the defensive end before Roxy Thurman was fouled and sent to the free throw line for a bonus. Thurman missed the free throw but, determined to get the ball back, ran in and got her own rebound to give Montana Western another chance to score. Jenna Banks ended up with the ball and was fouled, which put her at the free throw line for bonus free throws. Banks made both of them to send the Bulldogs into a four-point win.

Although it was another slow shooting night for the Bulldogs (32 percent from the field and 33 percent from three-point range) they managed to pull out the win 57-53. Bignell and senior Brittney Leibenguth led the team in scoring, both ending the night with 13 points. Bignell ended with another double-double as she also grabbed 10 rebounds. Banks added 12 points and four assists while Thurman chipped in nine. Wilson led the team in assists with five.

The wins move the Bulldogs to a 4-3 record in conference play and 12-9 overall. Montana Western is now tied for third place in the Frontier Conference with Montana Tech, who is also 4-3 in conference.

This upcoming weekend the Bulldogs will be on the road, traveling to Billings, Mont. to take on the Battlin' Bears again on Thursday Jan. 24. Montana Western then heads to Dickinson, N.D. to play the Dickinson State Blue Hawks on Saturday Jan. 26.
