EVE PALMER MALO

Eve Palmer Malo broke free of her earthly bonds shortly after midnight on March 5, 2013. She was surrounded by members of her loving family and passed as she lived: en paz.

Eve was a grand soul — a mother, grandmother, great-grandmother, social activist, professor emeritus at UM Western, human rights and peace advocate, cherished member of Dillon's Quaker community, an author, a fierce advocate for the abolition of the death penalty, and a friend to many. Eve provided us with a cherished example of a life lived fully and well.

Eve was born on Nov. 15, 1928, to Janet MacDonald and Harold Palmer. The seeds of Eve's lifelong activism were sown early in life when she was 4 years old and moved to Europe with her mother. She was educated in Swiss and English schools where international studies were emphasized and where she learned to speak three different languages. She and her mother traveled extensively throughout Europe during the summers, and it was during these travels in Europe in the late 1930s that Eve first encountered social injustice as she witnessed the rise of Hitler in Germany. Her mother introduced her to Mahatma Gandhi's writings and the peace movement through teaching her about the League of Nations. So, at an early age, Eve learned about the need for people to solve their problems and differences through dialogue as opposed to violent means.

Her doctorate in education was earned from the University of New Mexico at the same time Eve was single parenting her children. She was hired into the Montana University system in 1985, by accepting a teaching position at what was then Northern Montana College in Havre. Five years later, she accepted a teaching position at the University of Montana Western at Dillon where she remains as a professor emeritus.

Eve was a generous person who extended to everyone the respect she believed all people deserved.

Eve is survived by her nine children: Anthony, Joseph, Thomas, Victoria, Lisa, Daniel, Teresa, Mary Ellen, and Peter. She is also survived by numerous grandchildren, great-grandchildren, her longtime partner, Martin, and a vast and varied collection of friends and admirers. A memorial service is being planned and an announcement regarding the time and place will be announced.

Letter to the Editor:

Yup, Spring is coming. Folks will be or are out riding their bicycles. One would hope that if they insist on being out after dark, that they are intelligent enough to add REFLECTIVE tape to their outerwear, and a RED tail light would show up also, as after dark it is the LAW!

In driving up such roads as the Blacktail Road, this doesn't appear to be the case however. After dark trying to watch for deer in the headlights and the cars that don't dim their lights and are often coming down the middle of the towards you, which hasn't had the middle stripe repainted for more than 30 years, it keeps you alert! But with little humps in the road and it being dark, it is very easy to miss that lady on the bicycle weaving on the road, on her way home from work, after dark with a tiny little white light on the back of her bike, and no reflective tape or outerwear. Tuesday night last week; I had to slam on my brakes behind her in the dark on a 45 MPH road as she was not well marked and the oncoming car coming over the hill blinded me, as of course I was watching about for deer, not bicycles after dark, which if they were well marked one could spot.

I am sure that she didn't appreciate my loud horn, but then I didn't appreciate once again almost hitting here with my vehicle in the dark.

The same goes for folks with children, if they are strung out heading to town in the dark, again you will spot the reflective wear in time to avoid hitting someone...

Sincerely,
B. Rutenbur

BARRETT
HOSPITAL & HEALTHCARE

"BHH ONCE AGAIN NAMED AS A TOP 100 CRITICAL ACCESS HOSPITALS IN U.S."

The National Rural Health Association and iVantage Health Analytics named Barrett Hospital & HealthCare and three other Montana hospitals in the "Top 100 Critical Access Hospitals (CAHs) in America for 2013". These four Montana hospitals were among the 1,267 hospitals to be evaluated. The Montana hospitals being recognized include Community Hospital of Anaconda, Sidney Health Center in Sidney, and Marcus Daly Hospital of Hamilton. The Top 100 were chosen based on their Hospital Strength Index™, which offers objective measurements of relative performance among peers across 56 different performance metrics. The Index is a valuable tool which offers hospital executives, trustees and boards a measurable performance indicators and metrics.

The 56 measures identify hospitals which are best prepared for continued success. Market Strength, Value-Based Strength, and Financial Strength are utilized as measurements for benchmarking and goal-setting. Competitive strength, intensity, and size are included in Market Strength. Quality, outcomes, patient perspectives, and cost and charge indicators are included in Value-Based Strength. Income statement and balance sheet ratios that best predict long-term sustainability are included in the Financial Strength measurements.

Barrett Hospital & HealthCare was also awarded this recognition in 2011. CEO Ken Westman states "This distinction is a testament to our staff and their hard work and commitment to providing the highest quality and compassionate care."

PRUNING OF COMMUNITY FOREST

Scott Makoutz, certified arborist and owner of Gallatin Tree Care of Bozeman was awarded the tree pruning and removal contract for the 2013 MT DNRC Program Development Grant. The contract is being administered by the city of Dillon and the Dillon Tree Board.

Work has begun at Mountain View Cemetery with the pruning of 41 White Poplar Trees and the removal of one dead tree. The purpose of the Development Grant is to help small communities promote proper tree care. Only certified arborists are permitted to bid on these contracts and they must follow ANSI 300 standards as set forth by the Tree Care Industry Association.

Mr. Makoutz is working in conjunction with Danny Devers, cemetery caretaker, and city employees, to reduce the risk to both visitors and memorial stones by removing the dead trees, tops and branches. Anyone wishing to direct memorial funds to the purchase of trees in the cemetery may contact Danny Devers, or Harvey Lake, the City Council member on the cemetery committee or the Dillon Tree Board.

Gallatin Tree Care will begin work at the Beaverhead County Museum next week, beginning on March 18. Scott will prune the 29 green ash trees in front of the museum. This pruning will remove the dead material in the trees and open the canopies to help prevent snow and storm damage in the future. Pruning improves tree health by increasing vigor and resilience of the tree.

The public is reminded to stay clear of the work that is being performed. Crews are busy and won't always see you when they are working, so please stay at least 60 feet away from all pruning activity.

Gallatin Tree Care will be working in Dillon for the next few weeks. Anyone wishing to have professional tree care work done while their equipment is still here may contact Scott Makoutz at 406-209-1163.

WESTERN BULLDOGS MOVE ON

No. 14 Montana Western battled back from a 15-point first half deficit and claimed a 99-94 overtime victory over Philander Smith (Ark.) at the NAIA Division I Men's Basketball National Championship. The Bulldogs will advance to the second round and play Lee (Tenn.) on Friday, March 15 at 10:45 a.m. CDT.

Kris Collins and Tyler Miller had 22 points each for Western while Maazin Butler finished with 16 points and Jordan Overstreet matched Vince Turk with 11 points apiece. Kris Castro and Jake Owsley pulled down 10 rebounds each for the Bulldogs.

Philander Smith raced out of the gates and led by 15 points midway through the first half. Montana Western trailed by 10 with 10:00 remaining in the second half before Miller and Collins hit back-to-back three-pointers. Collins added another trey with 6:51 in regulation to make it a one-point game. The first of four ties in regulation came with 4:46 to play after a bucket by Butler and Turk sent the game into overtime. The Bulldogs took control of overtime with 12-straight points after Juvon Demerson scored on the opening possession for the Panthers. Jordan Overstreet hit a three-pointer around a pair of buckets by Collins while Philander Smith missed five-straight shots to fall behind by as much as 11 points.

After making just 12-of-34 (.353) field goals in the first half, Montana Western converted 59.5 percent (22-of-37) in the second half and overtime and knocked down 16-of-21 free throws.
