GROUNDWATER AND SURFACE WATER

Hydro geologists from the Ground Water Investigation Program are providing information from a newly completed study that could be useful to Dillon area landowners.

The program initiated a study in 2009. The study was started because of a lack of detailed information concerning groundwater and surface water.

Lack of information became a problem for water resource management and development in Montana.

The study was conducted Ginette Abdo and other employees of the Montana Bureau of Mines and Geology, throughout the Lower Beaverhead River and Dillon area.

An increase in high-volume irrigation wells raised concerns about stream depletion and impacts to senior water rights holders.

The groundwater levels were measured continuously in 2010 by a probe that was used to go down into the well and measure and verify water levels.

"We saw a clear interaction of the river with groundwater. The other significant finding was just the impact of these canals that they have on groundwater recharge in the basin. Without the canals there would be significantly less water coming into the system," Abdo said.

FIRE CALLS

Monday morning at 10:27am DVFD was called to Sawmill Road for a controlled burn that got out of control.

Monday afternoon we were called to the Horse Prairie to assist the DNRC with a burn.

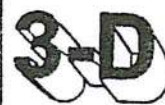

DISPOSAL OF AMERICAN FLAGS

The American Legion Post No. 20 at Dillon will hold an American Flag Disposal Ceremony for un-useable flags at 2:00 p.m. Friday, June 14th at the Montana Army National Guard Armory. Boy Scouts from Troop No. 1665 will assist with the ceremony. The Scout Master for Troop No. 1665 is Mrs. Robin Johnson.

Un-useable American flags may be deposited at the following locations: 1. Dillon's 3-D Store 2. "Dillonite Daily at Womack's Printing" 3. Flag Disposal Barrel located in front of the American Legion Hall. Legionnaires ask that only un-useable flags only be placed in the barrel.

The program will demonstrate how to properly dispose of un-useable flags. The flag cutting and burning will be punctuated with patriotic group singing led by Legionnaire Chuck Thompson. The public is invited to attend the ceremony. For more information on this program, you may call Jim Keef at 683-0062

Promise Yourself

To be so strong that nothing can disturb your peace of mind.
To talk health, happiness and prosperity to every person you meet.
To make all your friends feel that there is something in them.
To look at the sunny side of everything and make your optimism come true.
To think only of the best, to work only for the best, and expect only the best.
To be just as enthusiastic about the success of others as you are about your own.
To forget the mistakes of the past and press on to the greater achievements of the future.
To wear a cheerful countenance at all times and give every living creature you meet a smile.
To give so much time to the improvement of yourself that you have no time to criticize others.
To be too large for worry, too noble for anger, too strong for fear, and too happy to permit the presence of trouble.

FWP CELEBRATES JERRY WALKER'S 30 YEARS OF SERVICE

Starting as a summer tour guide at Lewis and Clark Caverns in 1973, Region 3 Montana State Parks Manager Jerry Walker has worked for the Parks Division of Fish, Wildlife and Parks for 30 years. He was recognized for his service at a small ceremony at Region 3 Headquarters on Friday.

In a letter read at the ceremony, FWP Director Jeff Hagener praised Walker's leadership and his ability to implement great changes. Hagener highlighted a number of Walker's specific achievements including receiving both the Director's Special Achievement Award in 2007 and the Parks Division Lifetime Achievement Award. Plus, Hagener wrote, "One of your greatest achievements over the years has been your ability to supervise and mentor your staff with a sense of fairness, compassion and leadership."

In his time with FWP, Walker has worked on a recreational use study of the Blackfoot River, acted as Park Operations Specialist in Region 5, took on the role of Lake Elmo State Park Manager, and then was hired as Region 3 Parks Manager in 1991.

Walker still enjoys giving an occasional tour of the Caverns – something he learned in his first year on the job.

HISTORIC CHURCH IN MELROSE
The congregation of a historic church in Melrose hopes to fit its growing needs and replace the nearly 100-year-old place of worship with a newer facility.
Members of the congregation at St. John the Apostle Mission in Melrose asked for permission from the Butte-Silver Bow Historic Preservation Commission to demolish the old brick-and-wood building. The congregation plans to build a new church in that spot and expand into a neighboring lot.
The commission put a 90-day wait in place for the intended demolition and asked for more information about the plans for the future church. The county's historic preservation officer Jim Jarvis said the commission wanted to take its time since the historic structure is a church.

CHANGING CHANNELS
Some landowners near Glen reported to the Big Hole Watershed Committee that they are worried the Big Hole River channel is getting ready to change from the south to the north.
There is a county bridge in the area could be affected too.
Landowners in the area recently entered into a conservation easement, which could have some control over any projects to address the problem, The Natural Resource Conservation Service says.
Big Hole Watershed Committee Executive Director Jen Titus says it will be addressed later this summer and that there is no immediate threat.

Steakhouse Survival Guide

Whether you're celebrating a special occasion or just feel like a red-meat meal, the steakhouse can be an intimidating place when it comes to staying on Plan. Our interactive guide will help you make Grade-A choices before you dig in.

Article By: Mary Elizabeth Hurn

It's not that steak is unhealthy, necessarily. When you have a lean cut it's high in protein and low in fat (in fact, it's a Power Food!). But most steakhouses prioritize flavor at all costs, and along with flavor comes fat, butter, and oil. And that's before you factor in appetizers, sides, desserts, and drinks!

But navigating a steakhouse menu doesn't have to be as daunting as you think. If you keep a few key things in mind, it's definitely possible to stay within your Daily PointsPlus Allowance. Your biggest concern should be portion control, so fill up on low PointsPlus values foods while still indulging your meat-loving self. And remember, you always have your Weekly Allowance to fall back on.

Steakhouse Rules to Eat By:

Have a small healthy snack at home. Before you head out, nosh on some veggies dipped in hummus or even a juicy apple. You'll be less likely to pounce on the bread basket the minute you sit down.

Know what ½ cup of creamed spinach looks like—before you go. It can be difficult to maintain control around family-style side dishes—and really, who knows what a ½ cup looks like when it's floating on plate the size of an end table? You will if you do a little planning. Next time you make spinach or mashed potatoes at home, measure out exactly a ½ cup so you know what it looks like when spooned out onto a dinner plate.

Split apps and desserts with a tablemate. Don't feel like sharing? Decide ahead of time which one you'd prefer, and stick to your plan.

Make the meal last. Take half of your steak home and enjoy it again during the week. You can even spread it out: top your salad with sliced filet for lunch, then make a stir fry for dinner.

Track everything. Don't panic if you over-indulge. Do your best to estimate what and how much you ate, track it, and then start fresh with the next meal.

Careful With Condiments

Salads, bread, baked potatoes, and steaks are all potential vehicles for unwanted PointsPlus values. See how dressings, toppings and sauces can unexpectedly put you in the red.

Feeling thirsty? Check out the PointsPlus values of your favorite drinks—and work them into the budget for your meal—by checking out our Cocktail Cheat Sheet.

Craving something sweet? Sometimes it feels good to go home instead of going big at the end of your meal. But if you've got to satisfy that sweet tooth, our Dessert Cheat Sheet will tell you how that cheesecake or soufflé will impact the PointsPlus values of your meal.

Attention middle school GIRLS!

Girls' Group will be meeting on Wednesday, June 12th @ 3:00pm at Cornell Park. All girls are welcome and encouraged to join us as we head off for summer adventures!
