Irmgard Killen, 81 is Remembered

Irgmgard Anna Frieda Killen (otherwise known as "Mutti" to most) of Jackson, died peacefully at home with her family present on July 3rd, 2013 after suffering a stroke. Irmgard was born on June 20, 1932 to Georg and Ida Englehardt in Biedenkopf, Germany, experiencing all the challenges of a post war country.

In 1952, she married Walter Heck and daughter, Ingeborg was born. The couple later divorced and in 1957, Irmgard married Franz Schrankler and they had a daughter, Karin.

During the early part of her motherhood, Irmgard was a stay-at-hoome mom. Later, she learned how to keep books for her husband's business, ventured into the insurance business and finally became a nurse assistant for a Catholic Hospice. She and her husband loved going dancing to Country Western music.

In 1990, Irmgard came to visit daughter Inge in Jackson and since she was recently widowed, decided to stay in Montana. In 1991, Irmgard married Don Killen, a ranch cook in the Big Hole Valley, with whom she continued her enjoyment of Country Western music. Widowed again in 1996, she lived for a while in Dillon and enjoyed spending time with fellow German lady friends.

In 2001, Irmgard was diagnosed with Alzheimers Disease and began her courageous journey of learning to live with this challenge. She lived with her daughter, Inge.

Irmgard is survived by her daughters, Karen Loewe (Andreas), Ingeborg (Inge) Peterson (Monte), brother, Karl Engelhardt (Sieglinde), grandchildren, Melanie Loeewe, Claudia Loewe (Bojana), Jason Goeltz (Melissa), great grandchildren, Aspen and Ella Goeltz, Minou Loewe and Nephews Kasten and Olaf Engelhardt.

Socializing with family and friends meant everything to her and we will celebrate her life with an afternoon tea at her home in Jackson on Saturday, July 27th at 2 p.m. Express Condolences at www.brundagefuneralhome.com.

Welcome RAINBOWS! Please make yourselves at home! Steal from our Businesses, (again) either by stealing merchandise or by running off paying customers, mooch from our hard working good hearted citizens, (again) bankrupt our hospital with your pre-planned births and your idiotic alcohol/drug related injuries, (again), overpopulate our animal shelter with your disease ridden dogs and cats, (again) desecrate our Public lands, (again) we certainly couldn't get away with the crap you people do, oh and be sure to leave every non-running eye-sore vehicle behind when you go, (again). ADSON CREEK FENCE REMOVAL PROJECT A SUCCESS

In early June, nine members of the Butte Chapter of the Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation (RMEF) volunteered to remove approximately two miles of wire fencing and fiberglass posts from three large wildlife exclosures in the Adson Creek area east of the Pioneer Mountains Scenic Byway near Wise River.

The exclosures constructed in the 1990's provided protection around aspen clones that had received vegetation treatments to improve the health of aspen in the area. Treatments included removal of conifers from within the aspen stands to open the area to sunlight and reduce competition for water from other plants, shrubs and trees. The intent of the treatments was to help aspen clones continue to grow and provide important habitat for a variety of local wildlife species.

The fencing was installed to temporarily keep wildlife from browsing on the aspen clones. Now that the clones have continued to grow, the fencing was no longer needed and became a barrier to wildlife movement.

Last fall, the Beaverhead-Deerlodge NF submitted a wildlife enhancement project proposal to the RMEF to remove the fencing, and the Butte Chapter volunteered to complete the work. "The work the RMEF volunteers did helped to improve the habitat in the Adson Creek area," commented Wise River District Ranger Russ Riebe. "By opening access to these clones, it has enhanced elk habitat in this highly popular hunting area in southwestern Montana."

Fire Calls

On Tuesday evening at 6:23pm Dillon Volunteer Fire Dept was called to 810 North Montana Street for a Carbon Monoxide alarm. It was determined a faulty natural gas hot water heater caused the leak setting off the detector. Northwestern Energy red tagged the water heater and recommended it be replaced. On Wednesday morning at 10:27am we were called to 76 West Center for a smoke alarm activated. It was found that burnt food set the alarm off. Wednesday evening 28 members spent three hours pressure testing all of the fire hose on the structure fire engines for the City and the Fire District

OTTER ATTACK IN WEST YELLOWSTONE AREA

Montana Fish, Wildlife and Parks is asking the public to use caution around otters after a confirmed attack on a woman in the Hebgen Basin. The attack occurred Tuesday night near the Madison River Bridge (mile marker four on Highway 191). The woman suffered significant bites to her hand. There is also an unconfirmed report of a male angler being attacked as well later in the evening.

While otter attacks are extremely rare, these are wild animals and they can be aggressive making it especially important for people to keep a safe distance from adults and their pups.

FWP is posting signs in the area warning of the danger.
