FIRE CALLS FOR VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPARTMENT

DVFD was called to a motor vehicle accident near the Glen Interchange on Friday morning, and on Friday afternoon at 2:45 pm we were called to a grass fire near mile marker 41 on Interstate 15. Sat. night, we were called to a motor vehicle accident on Highway 278, mile marker 14.

Last night at 10:40 pm we were called to 307 S. Pacific for a gas odor and Monday morning at 8:07 am we were called to 1200 Hwy 41 for a gas odor. We worked with Northwestern Energy on these calls.

The smoke filling the valley is coming from fires in Idaho, West of Salmon and West of Challis.

The community organizers are coming

By Dustin Hurst / Watchdog.org

Backed by federal cash, community health centers around Montana collectively will hire 27 workers tasked only with pushing more people into Obamacare.

Last week, U.S. Department of Health and Human Service Secretary Kathleen Sebelius announced $150 million in community health center grants, money that will go to hire more than 1,100 Obamacare outreach workers across the country.

HHS will give 16 Montana health centers almost $1.5 million to hire the 27 workers a year. The federal agency expects Treasure State outreach coordinators will enroll more than 14,000 people in health programs.

Funds will flow to clinics in Billings, Cut Bank, Missoula, Butte and Great Falls, among others.

What exactly will these workers do for the next year? In short, they'll help people enroll in Medicaid if they qualify, or inform them of their option to purchase coverage through the exchange, an Amazon.com of health insurance that's a key tenet of the health reform law.

"Investing in health centers means that people in neighborhoods and towns across the country have one more resource to help them understand their insurance options and enroll in affordable coverage," Sebelius said in a news release.

Outreach workers likely will work with community groups and nonprofits to spread the word about Obamacare. They'll certainly have their work cut out for them. A Kaiser Family Foundation poll released earlier this year revealed that more than 40 percent of Americans are unaware that Obamacare is the law of the land.

Ben Domenec, a research fellow at the conservative Heartland Institute, longtime skeptics of Obama's health reform law, says the money only means more bureaucracy and overhead costs added to an already-bloated health system.

"There are already thousands of employees focused on enrolling people in Medicaid and CHIP at these health centers, but HHS wants to double the number, because they understand that the more people they shove into this unsustainable program, the harder it will be to repeal," Domenech told Watchdog.org last week.

Domenech and others allege that the workers hired will act as public relations specialists with the sole intent of propping up Obamacare.

"They're going to use this money to hire Obamacare promoters, who will push people who come through their doors to sign up for taxpayer-subsidized coverage, whether through Medicaid, the CHIP or the (private insurance) exchanges," he told Watchdog.org.

MOOSE MEADOWS FIRE

The Moose Meadows fire has grown to 2200 acres with 0% containment. The strategy is full suppression with 30 structures being threatened and structure protection is implemented. The number of firefighters on the incident is 419. Resources assigned include eight crews, six helicopters, seven engines, three water tenders, one dozer, four skidgins, two feller bunchers, and support personnel.

Great Harvest holds Bake Day event to support Grasshopper Valley Fire Company

All sales from July 31, August 1-2 event will go towards purchase of patient monitor/defibrillator.

Dillon's Great Harvest Bread Company will hold its popular Bake Day fundraiser July 31 and August 1-2 to raise money for the Grasshopper Valley Fire Company. All sales from the three-day event will go towards the purchase of a much-needed patient monitor and defibrillator unit to support emergency rescue efforts.

"As a Montana-based, homegrown company, we want to give back to our region and see it flourish," says Janet Tatarka, Great Harvest's director of bakery logistics and training. "Our local emergency response teams need the best tools and facilities possible so that they can care for and support our region to their best ability. We hope this event will help them to raise the funds they need to purchase this new equipment."

The Grasshopper Valley Fire Company is composed of a volunteer team of fire response professionals that are charged with handling the rescue and emergency response needs of the area. As a recreational destination, the valley often receives community members and visitors that come to enjoy its cross country trails, ski hill, hot springs, and other outdoor venues.

"The Grasshopper Valley is a popular spot for people throughout our region, which is why we chose this nonprofit to support," says Tatarka. "We want to do something that will provide a meaningful impact, and the patient monitor/defibrillator will be an important life-saving device for their team."

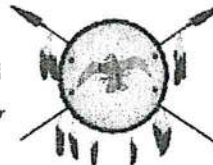

The Dillon bakery serves as a model for Great Harvest stores nationwide, and new owners come to Dillon to understand the intricacies of what it takes to own and operate a successful store. Bake Day events are held in conjunction with these new-owner visits to provide them with a real-world retail experience before returning to their own community to open a store.

Bake Day events donate 100 percent of the proceeds from all three days. In the past, these events were only one day, but the extended time frame benefits both the new owners and the community.

On sale will be a variety of delicious breads and treats including its

ELECTRIC STOVE NEEDED

Needed! The Women's Resource Center's shelter, where victims are housed, is in dire need of a new electric stove. The one we have is unable to be repaired because it is too old to find parts for.

If you have an electric stove you are able to donate, please call Jackie or Connie @ 683-6106. We are so grateful for your help! Together we are "People Helping People".

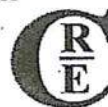

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

Due to the 'Red Flag' conditions that we are experiencing across western Montana, the Moose Meadows fire has grown substantially in a northeasterly direction from Whetstone Lake. The fire's growth towards the Middle Fork Road and Kaiser Lake has prompted the sheriff's office to issue an evacuation of the residents on the Middle Fork Road south of the junction of Road 5130.

The evacuation proceeded in an orderly fashion, and was completed by Sunday afternoon. A shelter for displaced people has been set up at the Philipsburg High School. For more information on emergency services please call the Department of Emergency Services at 406-560-1462.

Forest Service Urges Responsible OHV Riding

The forested beauty of southwest Montana appeals to everyone, and taking a trip into the Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest is one of summer's great delights.

One way to travel is on all-terrain vehicles (ATVs), motorcycles, and other "off-highway vehicles" or OHV's.

"But like anything, you have to use your machine responsibly," said Patty Bates Beaverhead-Deerlodge NF Staff Officer.

"If we find resource damage from wheel tracks, we have the responsibility to fix the problem, which may require closing the road or trail," she said. "Fixing damaged areas can take time and cost thousands of taxpayer dollars, too."

The rule for traveling on an OHV in National Forests in Montana is to stay on designated or legally designated routes. Cross-country driving is prohibited.

"If you're on a route that's narrower than your wheels, you're in the wrong place," Bates said.

ATV's don't belong on a single-track route, for example.

Montana law says vehicles on public roads, like county roads or numbered Forest Service roads, must be "street legal" and driven by licensed drivers. State law also requires riders under 18 to wear helmets.

"Street legal" means ATV's or motorcycles on public roads have working headlights, tail and brake lights, rear-view mirrors, horns, and license plates.

OHV's that operate only on national forest trails don't have to be "street legal," but they must have a license plate and a state OHV sticker, available from most county treasure offices, ATV dealers or from Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks.

"Remember, too, that campgrounds aren't places to joy ride with an ATV. Keep the dust and the noise down and be considerate of other campers," she said.

For maps, information and suggestions for enjoying OHV's in the National Forest, call or visit your local Forest Service office.
