Betty L. Babcock, age 91, of Helena

Betty Ruth Lee Babcock was born on March 11, 1922 in Aplington, Iowa to Otis Forest "Bill" Lee and Ruth Travis Lee. She joined a ten year old brother, Cloyd "Sonny" Lee. At the age of two, after her mother's death Betty went to live with her Uncle Elwood "Wood" Lee and his wife Katherine "Nandy" in Glendive, MT where she lived until she married her high school sweetheart Tim Babcock on September 21st, 1941 in Las Vegas, NV. Betty became the First Lady of Montana in 1962 and thus began her tireless work for the state she loved. She represented her state by; writing the First Lady's cookbook from which proceeds funded several Montana projects, serving on Shodair's board of directors, becoming a member of the 1972 constitutional convention, serving as a Montana House representative in 1974, chairing the Montana Capitol Restoration Foundation, working with the Montana Historical Society, and representing Montana at seventeen republican conventions. Betty also belonged to the organizations; Beta Sigma Phi, the PEO, Daughters of the American Revolution, Eastern Star and Daughters of the Nile.

Betty was truly devoted to her family and friends. More than anything, she loved spending time with them and bragging about them to anyone who would listen. She was dedicated to her family's genealogy and spent a great deal of time researching and recording the history of her family. She was committed to the core to her causes and beliefs. She was a true patriot's patriot. Helping others succeed is what made her happiest. For her family she was the fun loving, matriarch, to her friends she was the one you could count on, and to everyone who met her she was genuine and sincere. Her love of God, her dedication to her family and friends, and her unwavering commitment to her country and her state are what we will remember the most about Betty.

Betty is survived by her loving husband, former Gov. Tim Babcock, daughter Lorna Kuney(Bill), grandchildren Lee Ann Ruud(Monte), Tim Kuney(Tina), Ralph Kuney, Phoebe Winchester (Johnny) Mathew Fillinger and great-grandchildren Kate, Lizzy, and Jon Ruud, Jack and Anna Kuney, Connor and Nevan Olson, Trace and Marlee Williams, and Cody, Wireless Cell Phone Plans:

By: MJ

Do you get discouraged when looking for a wireless phone plan? You're not alone. Companies know that the public is easily befuddled when checking into the many options they offer and they take advantage of that confusion to sell you a higher price plan. When you ask the sales clerk what the difference between two plans are, because they seem to offer the same options with a different price, the clerk continues to mudding the waters with their answer.

There is a sight on the internet that will help you figure out the price of a plan for your needs. WSJ.com/PhonePlan

Marriage Is Alive and Well — for Some

By Tom Purcell

Boy, are some Americans losing interest in marriage these days.

According to a National Center for Family and Marriage Research (NCFMR) study, the U.S. marriage rate is on the decline.

Whereas 92 out of 1,000 single women married in 1920, only 31 out of 1,000 are marrying today.

In a 2011 study, the Pew Research Center found that 51 percent of Americans were married, compared to 72 percent in 1960 — the marriage rate has declined by 60 percent since 1979.

Social scientists offer a variety of reasons for the shift. Younger people are much more likely to cohabitate than marry. Some prefer to remain single and focus on their careers and themselves. And the down economy has caused no small number of couples to delay their wedding day.

And then there is the "soul mate" factor, a modern construct.

Brad Wilcox, director of the National Marriage Project, explained to The Associated Press that single people today have a high degree of "expressive individualism." They are demanding an unrealistic level of fulfillment from their mates.

It wasn't so long ago that a fellow could get by without movie-star looks and a captivating personality — even a bald, chubby guy could win the affections of a nice lady, so long as he had a good heart and was a CPA.

But nowadays, many single people are holding out for the perfect person — perfect looks and personality — and the good-hearted CPA isn't likely to make the cut.

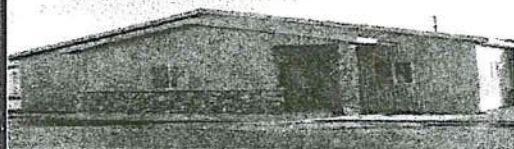

The fact is, no one person can ever live up to our high soul-mate ideals — so, many people remain single.

ABOUT TOWN

If this was a movie, what was bubblin' up may have been crude. However, the Hillbillies would be disappointed to just have water. That was all that seemed to bubble up on Bannack Street last week. After days of water running from there to Washington St., there was a crew with heavy equipment digging up the street to fix the leak.
