IT'S A NEW YEAR:

By: MJ

I read this saying on a card and wanted to share: "I would like to thank all the people who came into my life & made it outstanding & also thank all the people who walk out of my life and made it fantastic."

All kidding aside: There is not a person that has come into my life throughout all my years that I have not been thankful for. They have blessed me in numerous ways

There is a story that tells how people hop on & off our trains. Some people stay & ride for a short time, some stay for a longer ride while a few never get off. Over the years many have rode my train & every person has made an impact on my life. I am grateful & thankful for another year.

May your New Year be the very best it can & everything you need it to be? Happy New Year

A PAIR OF OVERTIME WINS

The Bulldogs came up with a couple of over time wins in Frontier Conference play last week over Montana Tech.

The Montana Western ladies had some great defensive stops in overtime to finish 57-52 for their first league win.

The Lady Bulldogs in double digit scoring were Jenna Banks with 19, that was including her three 3-pointers, Sammi Bignell put in 12 and McCall Hasquet knocked down another 11 for the team.

It was really a close game all night for the ladies.

The Bulldog mens team went to double overtime before coming up with the victory at home over Tech also. Tech missed three shots in the end that didn't hurt Western on the score board either. The Jake Owsley had a huge game with 25 points, and 16 rebounds to lead the Western Bulldogs to their 94-91 win. Some other standouts for the night were Mazzin Butler with 23 on the board and Jordan Overstreet came off the bench to add 21 points. 17 of Overstreet's points were from the 19 attempted at the stripe.

DILLON CHARMS THE SNAKES IN ANACONDA

The Dillon girls basketball team seemed to get off to a slow start on the hardwood last Thursday night. However, once they heated up they were on the attack at the rim to grind out a 48-28 win on the road in the Snake Pit.

The first quarter started 10-0 from Dillon's 3-point-er from Audrey Schurg, then four points added from free throws by Courtney Linder and an Alex Rouse three point shot to get the Beavers rolling. Holly Anderson got a three in the second quarter to slow the run that Anaconda got started on. The slow start by both team showed with the 16-9 half time numbers on the score board. The girls had a strong showing with the three points shots that didn't allow Anaconda to get back in the game leading 35-20 at the start of the final quarter. Some of the scores from the Dillon girls were Courtney Linder, Holly Andersen and Alex Rouse 9 each, Audrey Schurg 7 and Jordan Peterson and Cierra Lamey both adding 6 through the nets.

This game was the first for Alex Rouse who had been out since last spring with a knee injury. It was good to see her be able to join the team on the courts.

WRESTLERS WIN OVER BELGRADE

The Dillon wrestlers hosted the Belgrade Panthers at home on the mats last Thursday night. The score was 39 to 39 for a tie that gave the win to Dillon who had four pins while the Panthers' had only three.

The match of the night for the Beavers was the win at 106 pounds of Kohltin Starkel's with a 10-3 decision.

Bridger Nelson and chance Snellman got wins by forfeit for the team.

The four pins came from Kwin Stoddard at 126 lbs in 54 sec., Parker Tezah, 195 at 2:22, Mic Wetherbee, 220 in a time of 4:42 and Donovan Hucke, heavyweight in 28 sec.

Speech, Drama, and Debate

Three Forks High School hosted the Gallatin Valley Invitational on Saturday, January 4th to kick off the second half of the Speech, Drama, and Debate season. It was a large meet with 23 Class AA, A, B and C schools in attendance.

Cameron Freebury emerged as champion in the Humorous Oral Interpretation event, having very impressive scores in the preliminary rounds, and a strong finish in finals. There were 15 competitors in this event, creating very strong competitors. Finley Andrew also did extremely well in her preliminary rounds to finish in the seventh place spot for the day. Maggie Magee was the third competitor in Humorous Oral Interp for the Beavers and unfortunately she lost the tie breaker to propel her into finals and finished in ninth place.

Cameron de los Rios competed in the largest event of the day, with 21 competitors, including the reigning class B state champion from 2012. She had an excellent day with very strong preliminary scores in the Serious Oral Interpretation event. Carmen finished in second place, behind the state champ.

Jade D'Esposito and Elizabeth Ostler had a great day, finishing in second place in Classical Theatre.

Josey Creger and Abby Thomas competed in the always tough Serious Solo Acting event, and did very well against excellent competition. Josey finished in fourth place for her efforts and Abby Thomas placed fifth.

The Speech and Drama teams placed second at this meet behind Belgrade.

The Beavers compete next weekend in Missoula at Loyola Invitational.

Class warfare & why:

By: MJ

Folks who are getting the free stuff don't like the folks who are paying for the free stuff. The folks who are paying for the freebies can no longer afford to pay for someone else's free stuff and pay for their own stuff so they want to overhaul the system.

1) Greed sets in: The folks who are getting the free stuff want more and more.

2) The politicians who are passing laws, rules, regulations that are forcing the people who pay for the free stuff, are telling the people who are RECEIVING the freebies that the people who are PAYING are being mean, prejudiced, and racist. The people who are GETTING the freebies have been convinced they need to hate the people who are paying for the freebies. Old tactic: "divide and conquer"--rich verses poor. Many people classified as rich are middle income earning people with families to support.

3) The government has been passing out and increasing the amount of free stuff for so long that there are now more people getting free stuff than paying for the free stuff.

•NOTE: All great democracies have committed financial suicide somewhere between 200 and 250 years after being founded because the voters figured out they could vote themselves money from the treasury in exchange for electing them.

•People have figured out they could vote themselves money from the treasury by electing people who promised to give them money from the treasury in exchange for electing them. Candidates are bribing the people, buying a position with promises. Government freebies are everywhere.

The United States officially became a Republic in 1776 -- 236 years ago.

The number of people now getting free stuff outnumbers the people paying for the free stuff. Failure to change spending policies spells the end of the United States as we know it today.

ELECTION 2014 IS COMING

Humans today have a tendency to be incredibly self serving. Money in some shape or form can and will buy most Americans off. They believe that if the law or agreement with the government doesn't lower or affect their personal paycheck or income then they will accept it. The Truth is "what hurts one -- in the end will affect all". We forget to support our neighbors even though there are no personal immediate benefits. A Nation of Sheep Breeds a Government of Wolves!

BEAVER BOYS COME UP WITH TWO

The Beaver boys go on a run of 20-6 in the third quarter of the game against Anaconda Friday night at home and come up with a 66-28 solid win. The Beavers put on a great display of pressure against the ball handlers to keep Anaconda from getting shots off. The high scorers for this game were Troy Scott with 21 and Nick Huber adding another 10 to the board.

Then on Saturday the Beavers had an almost identical game with their win over Corvallis on the hardwood floors 60-31 to put them at 5-0, and 2-0 in conference play. The Beavers don't let their rivals take many shots while they keep throwing the ball at the rim. The Beavers had a lot more shots though some had trouble getting through the net. Troy Scott had 15 points while Chance Kluesner and Jason Ferris added 7 a piece and we saw 6 points each from Justin Ferris and Nate Simkins.

Avalanche Safety and Snow Stability Update

Winter is here, and with it comes the opportunity to enjoy snow in the backcountry whether on snowmobile, skis, snowboard, or other devices. Regardless of your preferred way to enjoy the snow, Forest Service officials recommend winter backcountry travelers prepare for the possibility of avalanches by heeding the following advice:

- GET THE GEAR: Ensure everyone has an avalanche transceiver, shovel, and probe on their person and knows how to use them.
- GET THE TRAINING: Take an avalanche course.
- GET THE FORECAST: Make a riding plan based on the current avalanche and weather forecast.
- GET THE PICTURE: If you see recent avalanche activity, unstable snow exists. Riding on or underneath steep slopes is dangerous.
- GET OUT OF HARM'S WAY: Don't go to help your stuck friend. One at a time on all avalanche slopes. Don't group up in runout zones.

Many backcountry enthusiasts seek out deep snow in steep mountain terrain, however some days poor snow stability can make being in avalanche terrain dangerous and even deadly. Forest Service avalanche specialists advise avoidance of avalanche terrain, between 30 and 45 degrees steepness, is the most effective way to safely recreate when snow stability is poor. "Not every day is a good day to be on steep slopes. Avoiding slopes greater than 30 degrees is a good idea if you suspect the snow is unstable," said Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest avalanche safety coordinator Alex Dunn. Signs of recent avalanches, cracking, and/or collapsing of the snow, otherwise known as "wumpling", are what avalanche specialists call "bulls eye data" – clear warning signs that the snow is unstable. Trails and low-angle meadows without steep slopes above them are safer terrain choices at times of poor snow stability, as is avoidance of avalanche runout zones below steep slopes.

Snow stability in the mountains around the Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest varies depending upon what mountain range you choose to recreate in. Many mountain areas have sugary layers of snow near the ground. This is especially true where the snow is shallow: three to four feet deep or less. You must dig down in the snow to identify this weak layer. If present in the snowpack, this weak snow has the potential to produce avalanches.

For more information on snow conditions in your area contact your local Ranger District. For general avalanche information and education opportunities contact Beaverhead-Deerlodge avalanche safety coordinator Alex Dunn at (406) 683-3864.

WESTERN BULLDOGS HAVE TWO CLOSE GAMES

Western men and women were on the home court Friday night and split with Lewis Clark State. The lady Bulldogs came up short in a close match 49-45 that saw a hard defensive game for Western but low percentage shooting (30% from the field and 47% from the stripe) couldn't get the job done. The Warriors had a poor 24% shooting from the field also to keep this game from being a miss match.

Sammi Bignell had the game high of 16 points and 12 rebounds while the only other starter to help on the score board was Jenna Banks with 10 points. From the bench, the Bulldogs got help from Melody McCloud with 11 points and 7 rebounds.

The Western men held on to get the win at home 74-71 against the Warriors. If you like close games, the Western teams have kept the fans on the edge of their seats for a couple nights in a row. Hats go off to Maazin Butler with hit a big three-point shot with 1.9 seconds to go to break the tie and give the Bulldogs another win for the home town crowd. He had a total of 18 for the night.

Jake Owsley had another good night with 11 rebounds and 15 points and from the bench Shyke Smalls showed some spunk with 10 points up on the board.

Western was behind 38-35 going into the locker room at half time. Thursday the Bulldogs will go up to play MSU-Northern in Havre.

BEAVERS GIRLS STORM PAST CORVALLIS

The storm power of Cierra Lamey and Alex Rouse with 14 points each lead the Beavers to a 57-31 win over Corvallis on the road. Other Beavers with double digit scores were Courtney Linder with 11 and Rachael Nye adding 10.

HEAVYWEIGHT TITLE TO BEAVERS

The heavyweight title went to the Dillon Beavers own Donovan Hucke at the Tom LeProwse Wrestling Invitation-al in Bozeman on Saturday. The team finished in 15th place overall.

The other Beavers to place were Kohltin Starkle at 106 lbs. and Paker Tezak at 195 lbs. both third place titles.
