FINAL WISHES GRANTED

DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVY

USS MICHIGAN (SSGN 727)
 FPO AP 96698-2096

13 Nov 13

Mrs. Ruth Elsie McClure

Dillon, MT 59725

Dear Mrs. McClure,

As you requested, the cremains of your husband, CDR John Samuel "Jack" McClure, were committed to the sea from USS MICHIGAN (SSGN 727).

The cremains were brought to the ship on 8 November 2013 while in port at Port Hadlock, WA. We departed 12 November 2013, 0847, to conduct at-sea testing and transit in support of our Nation's commitment to freedom of the seas. As a submarine veteran of World War II, Korea and Vietnam, Jack gave many years of service to his country and it was a fitting choice that he was committed to the deep from the deck of a proud submarine so employed.

The burial at sea ceremony took place on the ship's bridge on 13 November 2013, 0930. Just prior to the ceremony commencing the MICHIGAN was visited by eight Pacific White Sided Dolphins and there was a thick rainbow on the horizon off the starboard bow. The dolphins played in the ship's wake for some ten minutes. For submarines there is a certain affinity for dolphins and I thought it very special to be visited by this group shortly before the ceremony.

Conforming to naval tradition, the ship was slowed, colors displayed, and the participating officers and crew were paraded in service uniform. The morning was cool with slight winds and seas. Under these favorable conditions, the religious ceremony was conducted with dignity and solemnity. I, CAPT Robert V. James III, U.S. Navy was the military commander of the ceremony. My Chief of the Boat, MMCM(SS) Paul W. Coffin led the ceremony and STSCM(SS/DV) Michael A. Johnson performed the committal. A detail was formed from the crew of the USS MICHIGAN (SSGN 727) (GOLD).

On USS MICHIGAN, we have a deep respect for those submariners who went before us. It is part of our command philosophy. The officers and crew of the USS MICHIGAN are proud and honored to have had the opportunity to participate in Jack's committal ceremony. Jack stands among the heroes of our nation, the U.S. Navy, and the Submarine Force.

On behalf of my entire crew, please accept my personal and warm regards and sincerest sympathy in your time of great loss.

Sincerely,

R. V. JAMES III
 Captain, U.S. Navy
