VOTE FOR COACH THOMAS

Beavers coach Terry Thomas is one of six finalists in a USA Today contest in which fans vote for Montana's best high school boys basketball coach. The contest is made up of three rounds of voting and began Tuesday. Voting in the state round ends Jan. 21, with the top two vote getters advancing to the next rounds. To vote in the contest, visit usatodayhss.com.

The other coaches in the state contests are Doug Robison of Billings West, Pat Hansen of Laurel, Mark Branger of Huntley Project, Jason Grebe of Melstone and Cary Finberg of Columbia Falls.

ATTENTION FISHERMEN

The Beaverhead Search and Rescue has canceled the 2014 Stan Shafer Ice Fishing Derby. It was scheduled to take place at Clark Canyon Reservoir on Saturday, the 25th of January. Due to deteriorating ice conditions at the reservoir and projected warm weather, it has been deemed unsafe by the unit to support this event this year.

There is open water in multiple areas around the lake. There is even open water extending out to the middle of the reservoir. We regret having to do this but our primary concern is the welfare and safety of the public.

If you have purchased tickets for this event and wish to be reimbursed for your tickets, contact the individual who sold it / them to you and they can give your money back. The other way to get reimbursed is to send your ticket in by mail to the unit and we will gladly mail you a refund.

Send tickets to: Beaverhead Search and Rescue

Ticket Refunds

P.O. Box 567, Dillon, MT 59725

We apologize for the inconvenience and regret having to cancel the event. We want to thank everyone for your continued support of the Beaverhead Search & Rescue. We will try the event again next year.

CITY COUNCIL MEETING

By: MJ

OH MY: The saga at city hall continues. January 15, 2014 city council meeting was held and went smoothly up to the point where Mayor Klakken presented his appointments for administrative officials. The mayor explained why he was making the appointments to the council prior to the vote.

Mayor Klakken appointed James Dolan to replace Duke Gilbert and Neal D. Straus to replace Ty Cobb. The council, by majority vote rejected both of these appointments. It was explained in detail by an attorney in the audience why the reason given by Ms. Westads for her nay vote was flawed. After the attorney set down there was complete silence around the council table (no discussion). Were the council members in agreement on how they would vote for the appointees prior to the council meeting? Why was it ok for the ex-mayor to make appointments however it is not ok for Mayor Klakken???????

Tonight the council tied one arm behind Mayor Klakken's back however he continued to proceed in a professional manner.

It seemed that around the council table there was a display of argumentative, unreasonable and unhappy people professing they were making the best decisions for Dillon.

MONTANA WESTERN MEN'S BASKETBALL
ANNOUNCES FIRST RECRUIT SIGNING

The University of Montana Western head basketball coach Steve Keller announced the signing of Florence, Mont. native Quinn Smith to a Frontier Conference/NAIA letter of intent.

Smith is the starting center for Miles Community College in eastern Mont. He is 6' 10" tall and is averaging ten points and five rebounds a game this season. Currently the Bulldogs have two players who are listed taller than 6' 5" on their roster, and they are both seniors. The signing of Quinn is a great start to the recruiting season for Keller and his program.

"We are excited that Quinn has decided to join our basketball program at Montana Western," said Coach Keller of his newest Bulldog. "Quinn is a very mobile 6' 10" center who is very active on both ends of the floor. Quinn is a very strong, physical player that will help our team at the post position for the next two years."

He was coached in high school by Sam Baerlocher. The current head coach at Miles Community College is Chase Tait who was an assistant for UMW coach Steve Keller for a year and a half.

Quinn is the son of Mike and Bernice Johnston. He plans to study education while attending Montana Western.

Letter to the Editor

I never thought that one of the most positive experiences of my life, thus far, would be my stay in a convalescent facility. After my surgery, my doctor told me that I was being sent to Parkview Acres, because I was not well enough to go home. I was shocked at first. Like most people, I had heard some rather negative stories about nursing homes. From the moment of my arrival, I was surrounded by supportive, caring, compassionate staff. From administration, to doctors, nurses, therapists, CNA's, dieticians, activities, laundry, and so forth, one thing stood out in extreme clarity. Every staff member functioned in absolute unity and harmony to ensure that every patient was cared for in a manner that reflected compassion, dignity and respect.

I am home now and doing great, thanks to my time at Parkview Acres. If I am blessed to still be living in Dillon, Montana when I am older and need to take up residency in a nursing facility, It's comforting to know that is one detail that I have no worries about. Our community is blessed. To everyone at Parkview, I just want to say, I love and appreciate you.

And, thank you for all you continue to do for me, as I am being wonderfully cared for in occupational therapy.

Preston Duvall

RECREATION GROUPS CHEER CIRCUIT COURT VICTORY

Recreation groups are thrilled by a just-released Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals decision upholding the validity of the Custer National Forest's Beartooth Ranger District Travel Management Plan. The Plan was released in 2008 to designate routes for motorized access in the Beartooth Ranger District, which includes the Pryor Mountains, in south-central Montana. Despite the Plan's numerous restrictions on long-existing motorized access, it was challenged in federal court by the Pryors Coalition, an assortment of nonprofit organizations and individuals including Wildlands CPR and local chapters of the Montana Wilderness Association, Audubon Society and Backcountry Horsemen. The Coalition's suit was dismissed by U.S. District Judge Richard F. Cebull. The Coalition appealed, and their appeal was heard on December 4, 2013 before a three-judge panel of the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals, which included retired Supreme Court Justice Sandra Day O'Connor sitting by designation. The Ninth Circuit released its memorandum decision on January 7, 2014, affirming the district court and leaving the Travel Plan in place.

"This decision validates our patience and hard work on this project defending the sound management of a treasured place on our public lands," said Bruce Reiersen, of the Treasure State ATV Association. "We are still frustrated by some of the closures in this plan, but are encouraged that aggressive preservationists' efforts to second guess the Forest Service were not rewarded here by our courts," added Mona Ehnes of the Montana Trail Vehicle Riders Association.

"This decision has some strong and intriguing language, particularly on the hot topic of 'minimizing' impacts of vehicle use and the 40-year-old Executive Orders from which that duty supposedly emanates," noted Paul Turcke, an attorney for the recreation groups. "In candor, we have suffered a number of frustrating decisions at the district court level on the minimization issue. We hope that a circuit court decision, reflecting the intellect and wisdom of a retired Supreme Court Justice, might foreshadow a positive turn as our overburdened and underbudgeted Forest Service addresses the challenge of managing recreation on our public lands," Turcke concluded.

The recreation groups intervening in the case to assist in defense of the Forest Service decision included the Treasure State ATV Association, the Montana Trail Vehicle Riders Association, the Great Falls Trail Bike Riders Association, Families for Outdoor Recreation, Citizens for Balanced Use, and the BlueRibbon Coalition. The recreation groups were represented by Paul Turcke of Boise, Idaho, and Rob Bell of Missoula.

A copy of the Ninth Circuit decision can be viewed at www.ca9uscourts.gov (Click on Opinions, then Unpublished for Case# 11-35733).

TREE PRUNING & REMOVAL

This is just a word of caution to those of you who are tempted to use a tree removal/pruning company or person who goes door to door soliciting business. Please thoroughly check their credentials and talk to their references. It is easy to print a flyer which says they are insured, but I would encourage you to verify insurance coverage by calling the insurance company. If a tree or branch damages your property you do not want to be the one responsible. Secondly, it is always good to get at least two estimates for the work to be done. Some of the tree work which has been done in Dillon recently came with a high price tag. It appears elderly folks are often their best customers.

There are American National Standards operations for tree care, (ANSI 300), which are followed by all certified arborists. The tree ordinance for the City of Dillon requires that only certified arborists may work on public trees, which includes boulevard trees. If you want to have your trees pruned, please check out their credentials and get references. You can go online and search for certified arborists or call the City of Dillon and they will put you in touch with a Tree Board member to assist you. Improper pruning cuts and removing more than 25% of the tree canopy combined may result in tree mortality or a tree so ugly it wishes it were dead. Tree topping is never an acceptable pruning method unless the tree is planted in the wrong place like under a utility line.

The city of Dillon and the Dillon Tree Board are currently seeking bids on a large pruning contract that will take place in the city this winter. The areas to be pruned include the dead limbs in the white poplars at Mountain View Cemetery, prune and shape all the large trees on Atlantic Street, and prune and/or remove trees at the Depot Park. This contract will be awarded to a certified arborist and the work is to begin in mid February. This work is funded by three sources; 2014 DNRC Program Development Grant, 2014 Tree City of the Year Award, and proceeds from last September's Great Harvest Bake Sale.

If you are in need of tree work, please feel free to give me a call and I will be happy to let you know when the certified arborist is in Dillon. It takes a very long time to grow a tree here in Dillon and it only takes minutes to remove them. If you have a 'messy' tree which fruits and you are tired of the mess realize that there is a product called 'Florel' which can be sprayed on fruiting trees at blossom time to inhibit fruit set. The tree will flower as normal, but it will not set fruit. Local nurseries carry this product. Lastly, certified arborists rarely go door to door soliciting business.

Wisdom, Mont., Jan. 14, 2014 — Volunteers from the Bitterroot Cross Country Ski Club will be offering free ski lessons on Saturday, January 18. Beginners and experienced Cross-Country Skiers will get a chance to sharpen their skills from club members starting at noon on Saturday. Lessons will originate from the Chief Joseph Trailhead parking area, located one mile east of Montana Highway 93 and adjacent to Highway 43.

The Bitterroot Cross-Country Ski Club grooms the Chief Joseph Ski trails each week for use by both Classic and Skate skiers. There is abundant snow this year and the Bitterroot Grooming Crew has been hard at work for weeks getting the trails in top condition for all to enjoy. In addition to the groomed trails, skiers can stop at the Gordon Reese Cabin to warm up and grab a hot drink.

For visitors who prefer a different challenge there are many miles of ungroomed ski trails located just across the highway and accessed from the same Chief Joseph Trailhead. Maps for all the trails are available at the sign-in box at the entrance to the groomed trail system. Dogs are welcome on the ungroomed trail system, but are not permitted on the groomed system.

For more information call the Wisdom Ranger District at (406) 689-3243 or the Bitterroot Cross-Country Ski Club at (406) 360-3803.

Letter to the Editor

I was reading the comments from Mr. Dishno and wanted to reply.

Since they have their multi million dollar hospital that was charged to the tax payers of Beaverhead County, then why did I have to go to Butte to figure out what was wrong with me.

I went to Butte before appointments in Missoula to be told that what doctors in Dillon said was wrong with me was false. It saved me a lot of money to not have more test and procedures done.

DILLON PUBLIC LIBRARY TO HOST DISCUSSION ON MINARET

Dillon Public Library will host the final session in a free five-part reading and discussion series called Let's Talk About It: Muslim Journeys. This reading and discussion series is part of Humanities Montana's Hometown Humanities Dillon initiative.

The final evening's discussion centers around the book Minaret by Leila Aboulela, a novel of cross-cultural encounters, Sudanese patriarchy, feminism, the lures of an individualist consumer culture and the promise of a communitarian religious experience, and more. It is the story of a woman exiled in London by a political coup in Sudan who finds herself orphaned and alone, cleaning houses for rich Arab families. She finds solace and companionship at the mosque and then begins to fall in love. The program will be held on Thursday, December 19 at 6:00 p.m. at the Dillon Public Library. For details or to register, please contact Marie Habener at (406) 683-4544 or email mhabener@bresnan.net. Reading the book is not a requirement to attend the discussion.

"With the help of a well-qualified scholar and using carefully selected literature, this series has been an interesting and inspiring experience. We started with genies and sultans and are ending with a modern Muslim aristocratic woman exiled to London; it's a fascinating journey," said Project Director Samantha Dwyer.

Professor Samir Bitar will lead a discussion of the book. Bitar holds a master's degree in linguistics, teaching methods, and cultural geography. His extensive teaching and lecturing experience includes the courses "Intro to Arabic Poetry & Literature" and "The Arab World: Its History, Peoples, and Cultures." Bitar is a native Palestinian who came to Montana at age 16 as a freshman in college.

Funding for Let's Talk About: Muslim Journeys is provided by a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH) and the American Library Association (ALA). The Bridging Cultures Bookshelf is a project of NEH, conducted in cooperation with the ALA Public Programs Office, with support from the Carnegie Corporation of New York. Additional support for the arts and media components was provided by the Doris Duke Foundation for Islamic Arts. Local support is provided by Humanities Montana.
