DILLON JAYCEE AUXILIARY PRESENTS AWARDS TO OUTSTANDING WOMAN AND OUTSTANDING YOUNG WOMAN

Janey Eudaily was awarded the "Outstanding Woman of the Year" and Ashly Cottom was awarded "Outstanding Young Woman of the Year" at an awards ceremony hosted by Dillon Jaycee Auxiliary on February 18, 2014, at the Beaverhead Golf Course.

Each year the Dillon Jaycee Auxiliary presents these two awards to deserving women in the community. Other very deserving ladies nominated for the award of 2013 Outstanding Woman were Dorothy DeHart and Jean Bergeson. Robin Ellis was also nominated for Outstanding Young Woman.

The "Woman of the Year" award was organized by the Dillon Soroptomist Organization in 1973. In later years the Jayceen Organization, now known as Jaycee Auxiliary, became involved and is in charge of the selection of the awards of "Outstanding Woman" and "Outstanding Young Woman." Nominations are submitted by community members at the beginning of each year.

Special thanks to Womack's Printing, www.todayindillon.com, and KDBM/KBEV for press leading up to the event, and to Stephen's Greenhouse, Wildwood Floral, The 3-D Store, Dillon Medical Supply, and Cottom Farms for sponsoring flowers, awards, the raffle basket, and potatoes for the event.

AFTER THE MEETING

I have stood up in public meetings and addressed issues that I think are wrong. I have stood and told people when I was proud of what they have accomplished. I have asked questions when I didn't understand. I have waited my turn and raised my hand. I have listened to the other side. It is certainly great in a country where we are allowed to do such things and I am proud of that.

I did speak at the council meeting last night and I said I have talked to many people since the last meeting. My phone rings constantly and I have been to several functions where people are saying they are tired of the city fighting and are tired of paying more money for the lawsuit and fight in court. Even if we ask for attorney fees and hope for getting our money back, the only guarantee we have is to get another bill. There are so many productive things we could be working on like the streets. That is what many people in the community have been saying to me.

By all means - that isn't the opinion of everyone.

I do not speak for everyone - nor would I want to. That opportunity is open to all of you. It is a public meeting and there is time for public comment. However, there were many people that just came to listen. That is fine also.

Last night - as I left the meeting and stepped out of the door, there were a couple people outside and I was told in no uncertain terms to not speak for them. They don't agree with me and don't want me to speak for them. Believe me - I'm not. Why, however, if you want to speak and tell your side, don't you - why tell me off on the sidewalk in the dark.

This is a country of free speech, and I did speak. I will continue to address issues that I feel I want to discuss and ask questions if I think I want answers. Our government is set up to have checks and balances and when things are done in the open at public meetings the opportunity is there for us all to know what is being done by those that represent us.

Many times in my business I have gotten letters against someone in the public or in our community or even against myself and the person doesn't sign the letter. No name, no address, no courage - we should be civil enough agree to disagree who ever you are.

Speaking for myself - Brenda Womack

Letter to the Editor
LaVon D. Brillhart

There has been great pressure to build the Keystone XL pipe line. Will this be a good deal for the United States. This will be a $5.3 billion project and the main goal is to transport 830,000 barrels of oil each day. Did you know there are over 55,000 miles of crude oil pipeline in the U.S. and 95,000 miles of pipeline carrying gasoline, jet fuel, home heating oil and diesel fuel? A lot of pipeline already!

The Keystone pipe line will be owned by Canada not the U.S. This pipeline will cross more than 70 rivers and streams including the Yellowstone, Missouri, Plate and Arkansas Rivers. This pipeline will cross major aquifers which supply drinking water to millions of people. This pipeline will take private land confiscated by eminent domain. When the oil gets to U.S. Gulf Coast it will be sent to Europe and China. It will be transported by foreign ships, not the U.S. Sounds like a great deal for the United States. The oil companies will make billions of dollars. The oil companies will be given more tax breaks. And yes, the politicians will line their pickets with oily money. Yes, it will create some jobs. Not as many as first projected and they will be temporary. Taking away land, going through rivers and not to mention oil spills, deforestation and toxic runoff. It will happen as in the past.

A pipeline that smells a bit oily. But we know it will get built sooner or later and the rich will get richer and the middle class will pay the bills when there is an oil spill. Money talks but it has an oily breath.

Happy Birthday, Mom... "Myself Third". To

Last week I submitted an article on my dad's 130th birthday, titled Happy Birthday Pop. In the tribute to my Pop I named a choice bit of advice he instilled in me.

This week, February 20th, will mark my Mom's 117th birthday. Mom was born in Missoula in 1897. It is only fitting that I share with you the legacy that was handed down to me by this wonderful lady. This is a story I wrote a few years ago.

Myself Third

By Chuck Dishno

Many years ago when I was about 10, I remember coming home from school and heading straight to the cookie jar. When I lifted the lid I found a little scrap of paper taped to the inside. In my Mom's scrawled handwriting it said, "Myself Third".

I didn't think too much about it but when I went to the cupboard to get a glass for my milk, there was another note that said, "Myself Third". It still didn't make much of an impression on me until I went to the bathroom and when I lifted the seat, there was the same message taped on the underside of the toilet lid.

My curiosity was beginning to get to me and the hunt was on to see where else I could find that strange message. It was everywhere. In the closet, in my sock drawer, on the stovetop, under plates, just about everywhere I looked that strange note was lurking. Now with my curiosity peaked, I went looking for Mom and found her in the kitchen making me a sandwich.

When I asked about this strange note, Mom said "Well, Charles, I was thinking about life today and decided that is how I should lead my life - God First, Others Second and Myself Third."

What a great way to look at life. That's the way Mom was, not a brilliant philosopher but just a wonderful lady with a love for God and knew how to put things in the proper order.

Mom lived to be 95, the last 9 years with Roz and I. Mom never changed her outlook on life and God. She was the most religious person I have ever known and if she is not in Heaven now then there is no Heaven.

If you are traipsing around Mountain View Cemetery and happen upon the Dishno family plot you will see mom's headstone with the inscription at the bottom, "Myself Third". It is my tribute to this wonderful lady

I now say to you, Mom, "Thank you for the values of life you taught me and I will always try to think of myself as "Myself Third."

Bulldog Football adds three more to 2014 class

University of Montana Western head football coach B.J. Robertson has announced the signing of Stevensville, Mont., senior Chris Bergman, Whitefish, Mont., senior Calub Thilmony, and Pocatello, Idaho senior Angel Chavez to Frontier Conference/NAIA letters of intent.

Bergman is a 6' 1" 170 pound wide receiver from Stevensville High School. Chris played numerous positions during his career for the Yellow Jackets. In addition to receiver he played strong safety, returned punts, and was the kick returner as well. Bergman played football all four years and was voted a team captain his senior year by his peers. He was a member of the 2012-13 state champion basketball team and a four year basketball player for the Jackets.

"Chris was recommended to us by his coach and a former Western Bulldog Hank Praast. We loved that he played offense, defense, and was a returner," said Coach Robertson. "He also played basketball and was a team captain. We are excited to add Chris' athleticism and versatility to our team."

Chris plans on studying Health and Human Performance while attending Montana Western. He is the son of Chris and Jennifer Bergman.

Thilmony is a 6' 0" 210 pound running back/linebacker from Whitefish High School. From his linebacker position Calub tallied 45 unassisted tackles, 12 tackles for loss, three forced fumbles, one interception, and totaled 75 tackles on the season. Following his senior season he was honored as a first team all-conference linebacker and second team all-conference fullback. Calub was a first team all-state selection at linebacker following the 2013 season as well. His junior year he was selected as a second team all-conference linebacker and honorable mention fullback. As a sophomore he was selected as an honorable mention all-conference linebacker.

"We were fortunate to get to meet and work with Calub this summer at our team camp," commented Coach Robertson. "What stood out to us was his love of the game and his physical play. Those two qualities will serve him very well as a member of the Bulldog Football Family."

Calub plans on studying environmental science while attending Montana Western. He is the son of Nancy Thilmony.

Chavez is a 5' 11" 180 pound cornerback from Highland High School in Pocatello, Idaho. During his senior season he totaled 37 tackles and had two interceptions from his cornerback position. He was selected as a first team all-conference performer following both his junior and senior seasons for the Rams. Following his junior season he earned all-state honors as well.

"We are elated Angel has decided to commit to Montana Western and the Bulldog Football Family," said Coach Robertson. "Being from Highland High School (Pocatello, Idaho) he has a history of success and playing in big games against tough competition. He has the competitive spirit and play making ability we look for in a defensive back."

Angel plans to study biology while attending Montana Western. He is the son of Darin and Janie Watt.

THANK YOU

On behalf of the Beaverhead Outdoors Association, I'd like to thank everyone who made this year's annual banquet a real successful event. Those who so generously gave us their time, attempt to thank each individual nor business for fear of leaving someone out. However, it again shows just how generous our community and surrounding areas can be.

We at the BOA hope that our small contribution to the area is as deserving as our supporters. Our board members will meet soon to discuss any successes and failures that we may be able to improve on at all future events.

We do encourage others to attend our monthly meetings, and to assist us in future activities.

*J. Darrell Johnson, President
Beaverhead Outdoors Association*
