Dillon Volunteer Fire Dept.

On Monday, February 24th at 10:01 pm the Dillon Volunteer Fire Dept. was called to North Idaho and Franklin Street for a power line down. It ended up being a TV cable. The pager went off again at 2:07 am for a motor vehicle accident on Highway 278 at mile marker 13. The vehicle had run off the road.

MONTANA WESTERN RODEO BANQUET HONORS TWO LOCAL COWBOYS

The 46th Annual University of Montana Western Rodeo Banquet will pay tribute to two influential cowboys.

For their contributions to the UMW rodeo team and the sport of rodeo, Benny Reynolds and Charley Hahnkamp will be recognized at this years banquet. The two men have helped shape Montana's rodeo culture.

Reynolds passed away Feb. 14 at the age of 77 at his Twin Bridges ranch. He was a pro rodeo Hall of Fame member and won more than 360 championship buckles during his career, which spanned four decades. Reynolds was originally from Melrose.

In 2013, Hahnkamp was inducted into the Montana Cowboy Hall of Fame. A Melrose resident, he has been a cowboy in the area for 50 years. He has contributed livestock and his expertise to high school and college rodeo programs.

For ticket information, please call the UMW foundation at 406-683-7306. The banquet is March 28 in the Keltz Arena on the Montana Western campus.

Live music will be provided by the band King Friday.

RAMMED-EARTH HOUSE IS TOPIC AT DILLON ROTARY WEDNESDAY

Architect Kreg Jones will address Dillon's Rotarians and guests Wednesday to explain and discuss the "Rammed-earth" house he is building in our area. Visitors are welcome. Programs begin at 12:30 and end by one p.m.

Anyone interested in learning more about Rotary should come at noon to be a guest for lunch. Rotary meets in the Guild Hall of St. James Episcopal Church, 203 East Glendale. For more information, email club president Kelly McIntosh, at director@cscfswmt.org.

BULLDOGS OPEN POST-SEASON PLAY WITH HOME GAME

The University of Montana Western men's basketball team will open their post-season journey at home this Friday at 7 p.m. versus Lewis-Clark State College. The Bulldogs finished their regular season conference schedule with a 9-7 record and a fourth place finish. The Warriors finished 8-7 and in fifth place in the conference.

Montana Western finished with a 16-11 overall record, and a 9-7 Frontier Conference record. The Bulldogs are led by seniors Jake Owsley and Maazin Butler. Butler is averaging 15 points and nearly three assists a game, while Owsley has recorded a team leading six double-doubles including a 15 point and 11 rebound outing versus Lewis-Clark on Jan. 3. Jordan Overstreet, a key contributor off the bench, is the third UMW player averaging double figures in points with nearly 12 a game and has recorded 17 double figure scoring games this season. Senior Tyler Miller has scored in double figures four of the last six games.

The Warriors finished the season with a 21-9 overall record, and an 8-7 record in Frontier Conference play. In conference play LCSC went 6-2 at home, but were only 2-5 when they played on the road and traveled away from the Activity Center in Lewiston, Idaho. Lewis-Clark is led by E.J. Farris' 21 points a game. Brady Bagby is leading the team by pulling down almost five rebounds a game.

The Bulldogs split their games versus Lewis-Clark this season. UMW won a thriller on Jan. 3 with a 74-71 win over the Warriors. In that game Maazin Butler dropped 18 points and Jake Owsley had one of his six double-doubles with 15 points and 11 rebounds. Shyke Smalls came off the bench and was a spark on both ends of the court adding ten points of his own. LCSC was led by Farris who scored 18 points and Bagby added 15.

In the second match-up the Warriors road a 42-20 half-time lead to an 83-67 win in the season finale last weekend. The Bulldogs missed all ten of their three-point attempts in the first half going zero-for-10 while the Warriors hit on a 47 percent clip making 9-of-19. The Bulldogs went 9-for-33 from the field in the first half. UMW shot better in the second half going 10-of-18 from behind the arc and going 15-for-29 for 52 percent overall in the second half. Even with the better shooting, however, the Bulldogs were unable to overcome the half-time deficit.

The game tips off at 7 p.m. on Friday Feb. 28 in Straugh Gymnasium. The winner advances to play next week in the tournament semifinals while the loser must look to next year. The game can be seen via Montana Western webcast at <http://www.livestream.com/westernbulldogs>.

UMW WOMEN'S BASKETBALL HOSTS FIRST ROUND TOURNAMENT GAME

The University of Montana Western women's basketball team finished the regular season in fourth place in the Frontier Conference. The Bulldogs had an 8-8 conference record one game better than Great Falls who finished fifth via tie breakers over Carroll and Montana Tech. Great Falls comes to Dillon on Saturday March 1 to take on Montana Western.

The Montana Western women finished the season with an overall record of 14-12 and an even 8-8 conference record. The women catapulted up the conference standings with a six game win streak over a three week stretch. The Bulldogs are led by senior Sammi Bignell who is averaging 15.6 points a game, over seven rebounds, and almost two steals a game. Jenna Banks leads the team in assists averaging close to three a game. Banks has the ability to score as well finishing the season scoring in double figures in six of the last seven games, with a season high of 19 points and scored 18 twice this season.

The Argos finished the season 17-12 and 7-9 in the Frontier Conference. Great Falls finished in fifth in the conference via tie breakers. UGF has won five of their last six games and three in a row to finish the season and make the tournament. The Argos were responsible for snapping the Bulldogs six game win streak back on Feb. 15. Great Falls is led by Erin Legel who is averaging 18.5 points and six assists a game. Lindsay Abramson is pulling down 11.6 rebounds a game.

The two teams split the regular season, each winning on the others' home court. On Jan. 25 the Bulldogs went to Great Falls and came out 80-59 winners. The Montana Western women had five players score in double digits, led by Melody McCloud's season high 16 points. Kaci Matthies added a double-double with 13 points and 13 rebounds. The Bulldogs went 31-for-37 from the free-throw line for 84% and outrebounded the UGF team 52 to 29. In the second contest the Argos came to Dillon on Feb. 15 and won 83-63. Great Falls had all five starters score in double figures led by Lindsay Abramson and Taylor Statton who each had 16 points. The bench for UGF scored only nine points on the night. The UMW women were led by Sammi Bignell who had 18 points and seven rebounds. Roxy Thurman added 13 points. The Bulldogs were outrebounded that game and were held to 35% shooting from the field.

"It's a one game season and we have a week to prepare. UGF is a very talented team and has a lot of fire-power on the offensive end," said Bulldog head coach Lindsay Woolley. "The biggest key to the game is going to be on the glass and at the free throw line. We have got to find a way to limit their second chance scoring while playing defense without fouling. They attack the basket aggressively and really work hard to get to the free throw line. I am confident we will put up a better showing then we did a couple weeks ago on senior night."

The game will tip-off at 7 p.m. on Saturday March 1 in Straugh Gymnasium. The winner will advance to next weeks' semifinals and the loser will go home. The game can be seen via Montana Western webcast at <http://www.livestream.com/westernbulldogs>.

Soft Drinks: The Beginning of the End?

Tyrades! By Danny Tyree

According to the Los Angeles Times, California state Senator Bill Monning on February 13 introduced a controversial bill that could make California the first state in the nation to require prominent health warnings (about obesity, diabetes and tooth decay) on sugary drinks.

Monning sees his proposal as a model for the rest of the nation, so suddenly I see my history with carbonated beverages in a different light.

When my late father was a Webelos Scout leader, he would use an antique cream separator to dispense a multi-soda concoction affectionately known as "Suicide." Taking into consideration recent health warnings, was the name prophetic? (And has anyone studied the long-term effects of scouts squirting Cheez Whiz into fellow campers' sleeping bags?)

As a teen, I pored through yellowing newspapers and magazines and discovered cartoon advertising icons "Pepsi and Pete, the Pepsi Cola Cops." Nowadays a "Pepsi Cola Cop" would probably be someone who profiled purveyors of second-hand syrup.

My college Advertising professor used to emphasize how Coca-Cola products were so ubiquitous in the South as to make Coke a generic name for soft drink, as in "Would you like to go for a Coke?" Debonair chap that I was, I approached an attractive classmate with the question "Would you like to go for a Coke?" Perhaps we went out only three times because she came to be creeped out by the subtext of "We would make a cute couple until we become snaggle-toothed burdens on society."

I have quaffed my share of carbonated beverages. Selling soda pop and junk food helped finance my teenage hobbies. Soft drink ads probably help support this newspaper. On the other hand, I've known way too many people with diabetes and tsk-tsked countless portly kids waddling to the drink dispenser.

So I'm in a quandary about this issue. What's the best I can hope for to come out of this?

Will the crusaders stop with labeling, or will they segue into ever-escalating "sin taxes" and public shaming? At the very least, they'll probably commandeer soft drink slogans and indoctrinate us with "You can't beat the Real Thing — but these dentures are a halfway decent substitute," "I'm a pariah, you're a pariah, wouldn't you like to be a pariah, too?," "Do the Dew — Your Days Are Few," and "You've got a lot to live and...oops. Guess you DIDN'T have a lot to live."

Perhaps the legislators will broaden their approach and provide other valuable information for the geniuses who don't know about weight gain or basic dental hygiene. ("Honest, there is not an invisible person opening the supermarket door every time you approach it.")

Perhaps parents en masse will suddenly advise "Drink your salad," and our intelligence agencies will stick with good old waterboarding instead of descending to the level of savages by "7 Upping" terrorists.

Maybe the implementation of the plan would steer away from vilifying beverage companies and take a more positive approach of extolling the virtues of exercise, balanced diet and regular teeth brushing. You catch more flies with honey than with vinegar.

Of course in California once they caught the flies, they would put them in a wild game preserve spa.

Sigh Makes me long for a good stiff (soft) drink and a chorus of "I'd Like To Teach The World To Perform Dialysis, In Perfect Harmony..."
