Margaret Anne Stanley April 5, 1937 - March 12, 2014

Margaret Anne (Platt) Stanley's room in Heaven became available to her on March 12, 2014 at the age of 76. She passed away from the effects of scleroderma surrounded by the love of family and friends at Kalispell Regional Medical Center. Margaret was born on April 5, 1937 in Lincoln, Nebraska to Robert and Edith Platt. The family moved to Rock Island, Illinois where she was raised with her younger brother Bill. She completed her schooling and attended Grinnell College, Augustana College, and the University of Iowa.

It was during the serendipitous summer of 1960 that she met the love of her life Bill Stanley. They were both working summer resort jobs in Evergreen, Colorado when he noticed "the good-looking girl across the room" in the employee cafeteria at Troutdale In The Pines. Later that summer they both worked at The Stanley Hotel in Estes Park and enjoyed meeting at the local pancake house when they were done with their late night/early morning shifts. There they would share breakfast and a quiet cup of coffee together. They were engaged in December of 1961 and were married on September 1, 1962 at Broadway Presbyterian Church in Rock Island, Illinois.

Their early years were spent at Shaw Air Force Base in Sumter, South Carolina while Bill served in the United States Air Force as an intelligence officer. Their daughter Sheryl was born in October of 1964, and their son Scott was born in October of 1965. After Bill's medical discharge from the service the family moved to Coralville, Iowa where Bill worked as a cartographer for the Geography Department and a programmer analyst for the Weeg Computer Center at the University of Iowa. Their third child Sarah was born in May of 1973.

Margaret was a devoted wife, mother, and partner with her husband in their Amway business. They were delighted to meet new people and make friends while building their business together. It was during a trip to Montana to visit their daughter Sarah and son-in-law Don, when they became enamored with the Flathead Valley. The area reminded them of their times together in the Colorado Rockies. They built their home near Columbia Falls, Montana and reveled in their newfound elbow room in the West. She loved their herd of miniature horses and the many dogs they had. Margaret was an animal and bird lover, and her favorites were dogs, horses, and owls. Animals provided much joy and comfort to her throughout her life and she always loved to exchange stories of pets and wild animals. She was a passionate reader of books such as history, politics, biographies, poetry, fiction, and animal stories. Her recent favorites were works by C.S. Lewis, Thomas Savage, Jim Kjelgaard, and Dean Koontz. She would periodically remind others that "You can't be bored if you have books!" On trips to Dillon she enjoyed browsing through the Dillonite Daily. She loved visits from family and friends, and finding thoughtful gifts for her children and grandchildren.

She was diagnosed with rheumatoid arthritis in her mid 40's, and eventually developed scleroderma (GERD and CREST). In spite of the health challenges she always maintained a sense of humor and a good outlook on life. She loved hearing about the activities of her family and seven grandchildren. "One grandchild for each day of the week!" she said.

Margaret was preceded in death by her parents Robert and Edith Platt, and her brother Bill Platt. She is survived by Bill, her loving husband of 51 years, and their children and families: daughter Sheryl and husband Chris Dolan, and grandchildren Kenyon, Eva, and Fiona of Cedar Rapids, IA; son Scott and wife Sara Stanley, and grandchildren Lydia and Carson of Urbandale, IA; and daughter Sarah and husband Don Copple, and grandchildren Olivette and Amelie of Dillon, MT.

Visitation and services were March 19 at Columbia Mortuary in Columbia Falls followed immediately by interment at Fairview Cemetery. Memorials may be given to Dogs for the Deaf 10175 Wheeler Road Central Point, OR 97502; 800-990-DOGS or online at www.dogsforthe deaf.org. She would wish all of you Happy Trails!

Prices for families are $25.00, $8.00/ adult, $6.00/ children 12 and under, and free for children 6 and under. The last fish fry of the Lenten season will be on April 11, 2014. Everyone is invited to attend.

PROFITING FROM SAFETY

Montana worker's compensation costs are among some of the nation's highest, but millions can be saved if more businesses improved their safety. "Profiting From Safety" shows specific steps businesses can take to reduce work comp costs by creating a safe work environment. Following the 30-minute "Profiting From Safety" presentation, business owners wanting to download a safety plan will be introduced to the Safety Writer program. This is a free online tool that allows business-ess to download a written safety plan. Having a written safety plan will help reduce workplace injuries, lower employers work comp costs, improve productivity and grow the bottom line.

MONTANA NON-PROFIT ASSISTING IN OREGON FOREST PLANNING PUBLIC COMMENTING PROCESS

Montana based Citizens for Balanced Use dedicates resources, experience and manpower to Forest Access for All in Oregon's Blue Mountains Forest Planning Draft Environmental Impact Statement Public Commenting Process

With the announcement of a 90-day public commenting period for Oregon's Blue Mountains Forest Plan Revision and Draft Environmental Impact Statement (DEIS), Citizens for Balanced Use, a Montana-based 501c3, is teaming up with its Oregon counterpart, Forest Access for All, in effort to raise public awareness and increase number of substantive comments on the Blue Mountains Forest Plan Revision DEIS.

"Forest Access for All is working hard to provide examples of substantive comments on the DEIS," said John George, of Forest Access for All in Oregon. "CBU's willingness to help us develop and distribute this information is a great example of concerned citizens from all necks of the woods stepping up to help each-other out in critical situations like this. We are excited to continue working with the CBU team to further inform and provide crucial informational materials to the people of Oregon and the local communities that will be most impacted by this DEIS."

Citizens for Balanced Use has created an online "Action Center" for Oregonians to access important links to the DEIS materials, maps and Forest Service information. Including comment deadlines, comment examples and issues of importance for Oregonians to study while drafting their comments on the DEIS and Revised Forest Plan for the Wallowa-Whitman, Malheur and Umatilla Forests. In addition to this online "Action Center," CBU updates Oregonians who've opted in to an e-mail list.

"Citizens for Balanced Use has worked for the past five-years with John George at Forest Access for All and the people of Oregon to maintain multiple use management on our national forests," said Kerry White, CBU Executive Board Member. "Designation of further wilderness areas is equally as detrimental to Oregon's counties and families as they are in Montana. Working together with Forest Access for All is a way to build a strong framework for multiple use and common sense public land stewardship advocacy across the West and nation."

MALLARD'S REST FISHING ACCESS SITE REMAINS CLOSED

This winter's ice jam near Mallard's Rest Fishing Access Site (FAS) on the Yellowstone River south of Livingston resulted in a number of maintenance issues requiring the site to remain closed to the public until repairs to the interior roadway, latrines, boat ramp and a several camp sites can be completed. The site has been closed since mid-December.

FWP anticipates Mallard's Rest FAS to re-open by the second week of April.

Additionally, Ennis FAS on the Madison River remains closed due to ice jam related flooding issues. However, on Monday, FWP was able to re-open nearby Valley Garden FAS on the Madison River.

FWP appreciates the public's patience as closed sites are readied for safe public use.

Information on FAS closures (and closures related to fire and drought) can be found on FWP's website by following links on the "Restrictions, Closures and Reopenings" page found at <http://fwp.mt.gov/news/restrictions/>.
