BE AWARE OF BISON ON HIGHWAY 89

This is the time of year bison migrate out of Yellowstone National Park in greater numbers leaving the snow and higher elevation behind them to roam adjacent lands in Montana. Right now, bison are distributed throughout the Gardiner basin, and many are foraging within the Highway 89 corridor. For this reason, Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks is urging caution when traveling the southern portion of Highway 89. Drivers should pay particular attention south of Yankee Jim Canyon and reduce speed during nighttime hours.

In addition to bison, elk and deer are abundant within the Highway 89 corridor and frequently cross the highway. It's important that drivers take this risk seriously, slow down, and obey posted signs.

CITIZENS FOR BALANCED USE RELEASES STATEMENT IN SUPPORT OF FOUR FEDERAL BILLS AIMING TO UPDATE THE ENDANGERED SPECIES ACT

The House Natural Resources Committee announces four common-sense bills aimed to update the Endangered Species Act

Citizens for Balanced Use made the following statements in support of four bills that will be heard in a Tuesday, April 8th, U.S. House Natural Resources Committee meeting that aim to update the Endangered Species Act.

"These four, straightforward, bills are the beginnings of a much needed update to the Endangered Species Act," said Kerry White, CBU Executive Board member. "Making data available to the public online and allowing state, tribal and local data to be a part of the process of listing a species is common-sense if the real goal is to protect a species. State, local and tribal input is important because it's the most raw, real-time form of information available from the 'boots on the ground' in areas of interest."

The four bills include (hyperlinked): H.R. 4315, 21st Century Endangered Species Transparency Act (Chairman Doc Hastings), H.R. 4316, Endangered Species Recovery Transparency Act (Rep. Lummis), H.R. 4317, State, Tribal and Local Species Transparency and Recovery Act (Rep. Neugebauer) and H.R. 4318, Endangered Species Litigation Reasonableness Act (Rep. Huizenga).

"For too long, the Endangered Species Act has been driven by litigation rather than sound science and management principles," said White. "These four bills not only add transparency to the process, but will reduce litigation and the cost of litigation to allow for more accountable and common-sense management."

Citizens for Balanced Use is a Montana-based 501(c)3 organization dedicated to promoting common-sense stewardship and local management of public lands. CBU was founded in 2004 and is a regional resource in educating the public on and advocating against "Wilderness area" designations and other issues that threaten the culture, people and the multiple use heritage of the West. More information can be found at Balanceduse.org.

MALLARD'S REST FISHING ACCESS SITE REOPENS

After a winter-long closure, Mallard's Rest Fishing Access Site on the Yellowstone River reopened Monday. The site - south of Livingston - had been closed since mid-December after a large ice jam caused major flooding and a number of maintenance issues. FWP decided to reopen the site once the road became safe to drive and the boat ramp became accessible.

Repairs to the site will continue, and the latrines remain closed.

At this point only Ennis Fishing Access Site on the Madison River remains closed in Region 3 due to ice jam related flooding issues.

Information on FAS closures (and closures related to fire and drought) can be found on FWP's website by following links on the "Restrictions, Closures and Reopenings" page found at <http://fwp.mt.gov/news/restrictions/>.

FESTIVAL OF TREES SELECTS RECIPIENTS

The Dillon festival of Trees fundraiser set for Nov. 21-22 at the Dillon Elks Lodge will benefit the Kiwanis Club of Dillon and the Jackson Fire Department.

The Kiwanis have plans to make improvements to the Kiwanis Veterans memorial Park and DVFD memorial Pavilion plus many other projects. Their lighting display at Christmas is one to look forward to.

The Jackson Volunteer Fire Dept. provides emergency services to approximately 263000 acres in the Big Hole Valley. Funds from the Festival will expand their present facilities which will include a training and meeting room that will be open to the public.

These groups are vital part of giving that occurs in our community. This event gives a chance to give back to them.

I Count each moment.

Jane Wise is one strong woman, despite her small stature and soft voice. Jane lives her life to the fullest and believes that strength means finding balance and peace within—no matter what life throws in your path. During her diagnosis of ovarian cancer, Jane found a compassionate group of people who shared their encouragement, time and services to help navigate her diagnosis.

Cancer Survivor Support Group is offered the 3rd Thursday of each month, 12:00-1:00pm at Barrett Hospital & HealthCare. Available free of charge for people diagnosed with cancer.

To participate and find out more, give us a call at 582-1600 or visit online www.cancersupportmontana.org
