Letter to the Editor

Clarification

Yesterday a letter to the editor, attacking me with misinformation and presumption, ran in the Dillon Tribune.

May 9th, on my way to Wisdom, a friend called to inform me of negative campaign materials that she had received. I had picked up the mail before I left home, but had not discovered the materials until her phone call. I stopped in Wisdom to meet voters. At the first home, a voter and I discussed our thoughts on the expansion of Medicaid. I mentioned the campaign flyers of which I just been made aware and my concern they be attributed to me. She hadn't seen them. At her request I left them with her. By Carl Miles definition, that was a distribution campaign.

I called Carl Miles when I read his letter to the editor (this was the first time I had a conversation with this man). He told me that he has supported Jeff Welborn for a long time. He had little interest in hearing what I had to say. I then called the woman who had taken the flyers from me. She meant no harm to me in giving them to Carl Miles. She is supportive of me.

A candidate is asked how they distinguish themselves from the incumbent. If they didn't differ on issues, it would be pointless to challenge. Discussing what differentiates is not negative campaigning. It is a waste of time to defend unverified accusations, and waste of voter time to read about it. If you want to know how I stand on an issue that is relevant, simply ask.

NOT NEW PROBLEM

The present problem with the one VA is not new and it is not just one VA center to have a problem. I can only talk about what it was like in 1965 and since that time. I only came across the VA via a contact with the Military Order of the Purple heart at the VA hospital in Long Beach California. They said they were appalled at what had not been done then and it almost reached a point that litigation was suggested. I did not at the time think anyone owed me a thing, let alone did I know then that was really was suffering from many things that still have not really been addressed, in that is is and was easier to make it into a mental health thing, in that I had a thinking disorder due to my thinking that I really had been a Prisoner of War in Vietnam in 1961 and 1962. I am just happy that I am alive with the wonderful and supportive wife I have now. We try our best to pass on positive thoughts and help to others in worse shape than us. The Younger Veterans coming home now with the current politicians, is no different than it was many years ago. May we have the patience to be there for others and remember that on this Memorial Day "WE WILL AND CAN NOT EVERY FORGET THOSE WHO HAVE GONE BEFORE US" Sincerely in brotherhood, George Fryett 1956 to 1964, with only six months as a captive of the Vietcong in South Vietnam 24 December 1961 until 24 June 1962.

Exhibition:

“Leading the Way -Montana Woman Suffrage & the Struggle for Equal Citizenship”

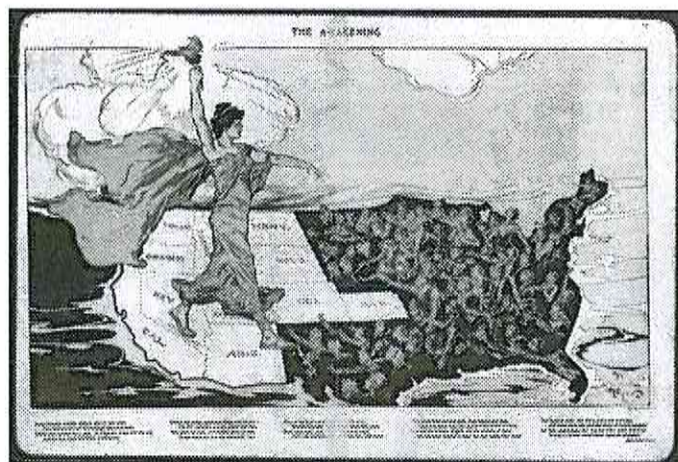

The Dillon Public Library and the Beaverhead County Museum are hosting a 5 panel exhibit which chronicles the civic history of women in Montana. The exhibition is on display now in the Train Depot of the Beaverhead County Museum. Display hours are Monday through Friday 9 am to 5 pm. The exhibit will remain at the Depot through Friday, May 30th.

Montana women seized their right to vote in November, 1914, when suffrage was extended to most women in the state. To help celebrate this important centennial, the Mansfield Library of the University of Montana created the exhibit, “Leading the Way -Montana Woman Suffrage & the Struggle for Equal Citizenship.” Libraries and museums across the Treasure State are hosting the exhibit and planning events to celebrate the centennial.

Many national suffrage supporters looked west for inspiration. Montana passed its suffrage referendum six years before it the 20th amendment to the US Constitution became the law of the land. The traveling exhibit “Leading the Way: Montana Woman Suffrage and the Struggle for Equal Citizenship” uses historic photographs, archival documents, and other rare materials to highlight the role that Montana women played in fulfilling the promise of democracy and their full rights of citizenship.

The exhibition is free. The Train Depot of the Beaverhead County Museum is located at 125 South Montana. For more information contact: Lynn Giles, Director of Beaverhead County Museum (683-5027) or Marie Habener, Dillon Public Library Director (683-4544)
