Afton (Koontz) Marchesseau

Afton Adair (Koontz) Marchesseau passed away Sunday, June 22, 2014, with her loving son and caregiver, Gary, by her side. She was 78.

The youngest of ten children, Afton was born on January 24, 1936, in Dillon to Martha Olive (Sapp) Koontz and Sherman Raymond Koontz. As a child, she attended school in Dillon and later graduated from Beaverhead County High School.

Afton married Erwin "Bud" Marchesseau of the Grasshopper Valley on December 18, 1953. The couple made their home in Dillon where they raised three children and, among other things, ran a successful plumbing and heating business which serviced the surrounding community. Afton and Bud were married for more than 50 years up until Bud's death in 2004.

Afton dedicated her life to her children and grandchildren whom she loved dearly. She was a devoted caregiver, always focusing her energy on those around her. Famous for her mincemeat pies during the holidays, Afton loved to bake and was a great cook. Her kitchen often smelled of freshly baked sweets and the cookie jar was always full for grandchildren and guests. In addition to cooking, she was an excellent seamstress and an extraordinary storyteller. Her quick wit and seemingly endless supply of comical stories enhanced many conversations and always provided great entertainment around the campfire. Afton led a full life that brought smiles to many faces.

She was preceded in death by her parents and her stepfather Charles "Gramps" Quick; brothers Sherman, Harry, Lloyd, Robert and George "Junior" Koontz; sisters Mabel Willis, Phyllis Cobble, and Ethel Rae McNess; stepbrother Boyd Quick; and her beloved husband, Bud.

She is survived by her brother Jim Koontz of Texas and her three children: Frank Marchesseau and wife, Donna, of Reno, Nev.; Gary Marchesseau and wife, Wilma, of Dillon; and Marty Cypher and husband, Dan, of Dillon. She is also survived by her six grandchildren: Summer Gorzny, Jessie Marchesseau, Mike Marchesseau, Valerie Marquez, Ryan

Letter to the Editor

10, April 1985 - First Serial Rights

It is the year, 1985.

I still toss and turn every night. I still find it difficult to sleep normal hours. I turn on the TV and watch the news; I see where a Vietnamese refugee says that he or she is mistreated. I pick up the newspaper and read where more money is need and given to the Vietnamese refugee.

An angry feeling comes across me. I can think back to a time when I felt that we were to help these people to live a safe life. What I now see, is a large number of these people living no differently in this country than how they did in their native country.

I still hear the accusations of mistreatment. I also see the same people who chose not to be involved years before, taking the stand to defend the rights of these refugees. I see what I believe is an attitude of not wanting to accept the real truth. For the real truth may be very painful for all too many of the people of this country to endure.

Laws are passed, but not implemented. Money is promised for the programs of recovery, but not funded. Research is done and then the findings are not used. I am left with the feeling that I am guilty of something. I am left with a growing pain, that may never be given the proper care, so that it may be stopped.

I am being filled with the feeling that the people who at one time or another may have been put into or chosen to DEFEND this country of ours, are never to be forgiven or allowed to mend the many wounds of WAR. The moneys and programs seem to always be available for the refugee. The help to fill out the many forms that the refugee must complete, is always there. We seem to be preoccupied with making amends for what we seem to feel or have been convinced was our fault for the failings of that country so far off.

When we were in Vietnam, we had to comply with the Laws of the country and culture.

To be a specialist, we must obtain the special training that goes with the job we are to perform. It seems though that an oversight begins to develop at this point. It seems that the person who has had first hand experience in the area of concern is only needed and used by the person who knows how to get the best grades during training.

"OUT OF THE WOODS" TO PERFORM AT BANNACK

Bannack State Park will host the "Out of the Woods" band on June 28th at 7pm in the old church. This program is sponsored by State Bank and Trust.

This exciting duo will entertain you with their unique renditions of traditional bluegrass music. "Out of the Woods" is a two piece Americana band that performs original intricate arrangements and puts a spin on the traditional bluegrass sound. Members Tim Mason (guitar/vocals) and Jarret Kostrba (mandolin/harmonica) first met in 2007 while in the band Mountain Moongrass. Since then they have played clubs, breweries and special events from Billings to Butte and throughout southwest Montana.

Tim Mason is a Butte native and has been involved in the music and art scene in Montana for decades. He began playing guitar back in the early nineties and performs original music in a unique rhythmic finger picking style. Tim has played in bands of almost every genre and currently performs with the Butte based Americana band Mountain Moongrass. Jarret Kostrba, park manager at Pictograph Cave State Park, started playing guitar as a youth and eventually evolved onto the Mandolin and Harmonica. He has played in bands ranging from Reggae, Rock and Bluegrass and is a current member of the Cosmic Roots, a Roots Rock band based in Billings.

Park hours are from 8:00am until dusk every day. The Visitor Center is open 9:00 am until 7:00 pm daily. Bannack State Park is located 25 miles southwest of Dillon, just 4 miles off Highway 278. If you would like more information please call the park at 834-3413 or email us at bannack@smtel.com.

The Little Red Hen version 2014

Submitted by Chuck Dishno

"Who will help me plant my wheat?" asked the little red hen.
"Not I," said the cow.
"Not I," said the duck.
"Not I," said the pig.
"Not I," said the goose.
"Then I will do it by myself." She planted her crop and the wheat grew and ripened.

"Who will help me reap my wheat?" asked the little red hen.
"Not I," said the duck.
"Out of my classification," said the pig.
"I'd lose my seniority," said the cow
"I'd lose my unemployment compensation," said the goose.
"Then I will do it by myself," said the little red hen, and so she did.

"Who will help me bake the bread?" asked the little red hen.
"That would be overtime for me," said the cow.
"I'd lose my welfare benefits," said the duck.
"I'm a dropout and never learned how," said the pig.
"If I'm to be the only helper, that's discrimination," said the goose.
"Then I will do it by myself," said the little red hen.

She baked five loaves and held them up for all of her

Then the farmer (Obama) came He said to the little red hen, "You must not be so greedy."

"Exactly," said Barack the farmer. "That is what makes our free enterprise system so wonderful. Anyone in the barnyard can earn as much as he wants. But under our modern government regulations, the productive workers must divide the fruits of

How to Watch the World Cup

Raging Moderate by Will Durst

The refrain has echoed across the globe our entire lives. "The World Cup is the most exciting sporting event on the face of the planet. Bigger than the Super Bowl, Stanley Cup and World Series combined and go ahead, throw in the next Star Wars movie especially with Carrie Fischer and Harrison Ford dragging their walkers through it."

We Americans should be congratulated for finally growing up and stopping with the mocking, "Oh, really. Soccer? So what's the second most exciting sporting event on the planet then, the Norwegian Army Widows Seal Clubbing Tournament? Does the Desert Tricycle- Built-for- 2 Marathon Relay Seniors Tour come in third? "

No. We're sophisticated now. Look at the huge leaps Major League Soccer has made in the last couple years, easily propelling itself to 8th or 9th most popular team sport in the country: right behind football, basketball, baseball, hockey, bowling, beach volleyball, polo and lacrosse. And maybe badminton. Jai Alai. And in some regions, cow tipping and pie eating.

But whether you call it soccer, futbol or boring, Pele got it right when he called it: "O jogo bonito." The Beautiful Game. We occasional spectators from the Estados Unidos just need to learn how to watch the darn thing.

HOW TO WATCH THE 2014 WORLD CUP

Choose a team to root for. Every match. Pick the land of your ancestors. Or the land next to the land of your ancestors. Teams from your own hemisphere. Orange is your favorite color. Been there. Always wanted to go there. But always root for the underdog, because that could include us.

Choose teams to root against. Hiss and boo the squads whose victory would impede your favorite's progress or just root against overbearing bullying countries. Which again, could include us. Root against the country that invaded the land of your ancestors. Or go traditional, and root against the Axis powers. Or some of the more obstreperous Allies.

The World Cup should be watched with people. Preferably at a bar frequented by the countrymen of the team you're rooting for. But do some research. You don't want to show up at a French bar in Italian colors. As simple as wearing green instead of blue.

If you must watch it at home, turn on Univision, not ESPN. The announcers are much more entertaining. You know the guy who goes "GOOOOOAAL" when someone scores? He screams like that all the time: at a penalty, when someone almost scores, even when players trip and fall, clutching their face like they were sliced by a machete. Which is not flopping. Its injury simulation.

You need a big ass TV. The bigger the better. 70 inches is a good start. Because soccer is fond of cameras fastened to the inside edge of the International Space Station.

Make your own red and yellow cards and hold them up when you need snacks or beer. Really makes non- watchers feel part the game.

Complain about the refereeing. Every knowledgeable fan does. These guys don't speak the same language as the players. But they do have spray paint. Which is so cool. Something the NFL might want to consider.

And go USA. And anybody who plays the country that invaded the land of your ancestors. Which, once again, could be us.
