Letter to the Editor

The 24th of June was 52 years since my release and the upcoming 4 July will be 53 years since my arrival in Saigon from Izmir Turkey assignment. On 24 August I will celebrate 79 years of collecting the data of life. For all who are able to attend the reunion, I know you all will find it most enjoyable. May all have a great 4th of July

Sincerely George Fryett, Vietnam 4 July 1961 to 9 July 1962, with a guest of the VC From 24 December 1961 until June 24 1962.

George Fryett

Fourth of July Fast Facts

By Tom Purcell

"I'm confused. I thought July 4 was the day our country declared independence from King George III of Great Britain."

"Actually, according to ConstitutionFacts.com, that's not so. The Continental Congress declared independence from Great Britain on July 2, 1776."

"Then why do we celebrate our independence on the Fourth every year? Is that when we started the American Revolution?"

"That is a common misunderstanding, as well. The American Revolution began in April 1775, more than a year earlier."

"I'm stumped. Was the Fourth the day Thomas Jefferson wrote the first draft of the Declaration of Independence?"

"Nope. Thomas Jefferson wrote the first draft in June 1776. Also, Jefferson didn't write the Declaration alone."

"He didn't? I always thought he was the sole author."

"A common misconception. In fact, the Continental Congress appointed a five-person to write the Declaration. It included Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, John Adams, Robert Livingston and Roger Sherman."

"How about that."

"Though Jefferson wrote the first draft, it was changed 86 times by other members of the committee and other members of the Continental Congress."

"Interesting, but what the heck happened on July 4?"

"That was the day that the Continental Congress, after two days of discussion and debate, agreed on the final wording of the Declaration of Independence."

"And that was also the day members of the Continental Congress signed the document and sent it off to old Georgie?"

"Actually, they didn't sign the Declaration until Aug. 2, 1776. Nonetheless, July 4, 1776, became the date that was included on the final handwritten draft, and that is the date people associate most with our independence."

"Interesting stuff, but when did the Fourth of July become a national holiday?"

"Well, for the first few decades after the Declaration was signed, our young nation didn't celebrate its independence on any date. Believe it or not, by the 1790s, the Declaration would become controversial, and some had no desire to celebrate it."

"Two decades after it was signed, it became controversial?"

"Bitter partisan conflicts existed then, as they do now. ConstitutionFacts.com says that the Democratic-Republicans, who admired Jefferson and the Declaration, argued with the other party, the Federalists, who thought the Declaration was too pro-French and too anti-British."

"Our politicians haven't changed much, have they?"

"In 1817, 41 years after the Declaration, John Adams complained that Americans were uninterested in their past. By the 1820s and 1830s, however, new parties rose to power that 'considered themselves inheritors of Jefferson and the Democratic-Republicans,' says ConstitutionFacts.com. They circulated copies of the Declaration, which featured July 4, 1776, as the day it was finalized."

"The sound like modern-day tea partiers!"

"Then something else happened that would further cement 'July 4' in the minds of many. Both Thomas Jefferson and John Adams would die on July 4, 1826, exactly 50 years after July 4, 1776."

"That's some interesting stuff!"

"In any event, over the years, Americans began celebrating America's independence on the Fourth. Finally, in 1870, almost 100 years after the Declaration was written, the Congress declared July 4 to be a national holiday."

"Things sure do move slowly in Washington."

"This Fourth of July will mark the 238th anniversary of the Declaration, a fascinating document that opened our country's doors to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness — and tremendous opportunity for millions."

"We surely have had a good run. I hope we can keep it

The Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest will be replacing the bridge over the Middle Fork of Blacktail Creek on Forest Road #325, Antone Road. The project is scheduled to begin on July 7 and be completed by July 25, 2014. The bridge is located on the Antone Road at mile 2.9 from the Blacktail Creek County Road, approximately 45 miles southeast of Dillon. Antone Road will be closed to motorized vehicles from the bridge at mile 2.9 to the termini at Antone Cabin beginning July 7. The road will be reopened upon completion of the project.

For more information contact the Madison Ranger District office in Ennis at (406) 682-4253.

Dillon Public Library Summer Reading Activities

Fizz, Boom, Read! activities continue at the Dillon Public Library. There is still plenty of time for children to sign up and begin earning boom bucks to spend at the Grand Finale on July 31st. During the month of July, there will be many opportunities for children to attend activities.

Thursday, July 3rd at 10:00 pm in front of the Old Depot Theater, the Dillon Volunteer Fire Department pays a visit to summer readers with a "Fireworks the SAFE Way!" program. Children will have an opportunity to see a fire truck up close and personal during this program.

The following week, on Tuesday July 8th at 7:00 pm in the backyard of the Library, the popular Pajamas in the Parks series begins. This is a family activity that will take place on each of the remaining Tuesday evenings in July. Children come ready for bed in their pj's and with their blankies and stuffed animals. Bedtime stories will be read, lullabies will be sung, and finally cookies and milk will be served, so the children are all ready to go home for a good night's sleep. The program takes place in the Library basement in case of inclement weather.

All of these events are free and open to the public. We hope you'll join us for these fun summer reading activities!

LEARN THE ART OF GOLD PANNING.

Do you know the difference between a bench placer and a stream deposit, a picker or a color? If you want to learn about gold mining for fun and profit then join us for an informative look at panning for gold. In July of 1862 the first major gold strike occurred on Grasshopper Creek and the gold rush to Montana was on. Although millions of ounces of gold have been mined in Montana, much gold remains to be found. The gold pan has been around for hundreds of years and is still an indispensable tool for prospecting and recovering gold. Learn where to look for gold and the different methods of using the gold pan. Gold pans and paydirt will be provided. Learn the art of gold panning from the knowledgeable staff at Bannack. This program will be held Saturday, July 5th at 2pm at the gold panning area at Bannack State Park.

Park hours are from 8:00am until dusk every day. The Visitor Center is open 9:00 am until 7:00 pm daily.

Annual Wildflower Tour of Gravelly Range Set for July 8

The Forest Service will sponsor its 17th annual wildflower tour of the Gravelly Range on Tuesday, July 8, starting at 9 a.m.

The free tour winds through the Gravelly Range in Madison County which is noted for a spectacular, high-elevation display of wildflowers. Forest Service employees on the tour will help identify plants seen along the way. Officials note that each year brings a varied show of wildflowers.
The colder, wetter winter and cool spring brings its own set of growing conditions, producing an always plentiful array of wildflowers to view, as well as the potential for limited accessibility.

The tour will begin at the Forest Service office in Ennis and proceed toward the Gravelly Range. Participants generally drive their own high-clearance vehicles, but can catch a ride with others if they don't want to take their own vehicle. Attendees are advised to dress for inclement weather and bring their lunch and water.

For info, contact the Forest Service in Ennis at (406) 682-4253.

Water Systems Unavailable at Some Campgrounds

The Forest Service will not be operating water systems at selected campgrounds on the Dillon, Wise River, and Wisdom Ranger Districts.

Due to reduced budget considerations these sites will remain open but with reduced services this season. Campers are advised to plan accordingly by bringing potable water for your drinking needs. Nearby lakes and creeks are available, however, water must be properly treated before drinking.

Campgrounds where water will not be available include: Dinner Station and East Creek on the Dillon district, Lower Seymour, and Pintler on the Wise River district, and South Van Houghton on the Wisdom district.

For more information, contact the Forest Service in Dillon at (406) 683-3900; Wise River at (406) 832-3178; or Wisdom at (406) 689-3243.

Political thoughts

Instead of giving a politician the keys to the city, it might be better to change the locks.
