UMW ATHLETIC TRAINER GAINS NATIONAL RECOGNITION

The University of Montana's Russ Richardson received the Athletic Trainer Service Award from the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA).

In addition, Richardson earned the Most Distinguished Athletic Trainer from NATA. His peers honored Richardson's exceptional contributions to the profession of athletic training through personal sacrifice. On top of the two awards from NATA, Richardson was inducted into the Washington State Athletic Trainers Association (WSATA) Hall of Fame. That recognition was for outstanding professionalism, dedication, and contributions to the WSATA over nearly 30 years of service.

"I am incredibly honored and humbled by the recognitions that I received this year," said Richardson. "In many ways, it is overwhelming to have your peers honor you in these very special ways."

Richardson currently serves as the chair for the NATA's Executive Committee for Education.

The Executive Committee for Education informs and assists the profession in setting the direction for athletic training education. Emphasizing a commitment to improving patient care through an evidence-based approach, the committee proactively influences best educational practices that reflect athletic training's inter-professional nature and commitment to learning.

Since Jan. 1, 2014, Richardson has traveled to Connecticut, Georgia, Texas, Utah, Oregon, California, Iowa, Florida, Indiana and Nevada to give professional presentations.

At the end of June, the NATA announced Richardson as one of the two candidates for the Presidency of the NATA. Voting for the position will happen in September 2014.

Richardson has been a member of NATA since 1979, and has been an athletic trainer and associate professor for Montana Western for three years. Richardson is also a Montana Western alum. He majored in industrial arts, physical education and sports medicine with a K-12 teaching endorsement.

"I think what is most exciting to me is I am able to give back to the university that prepared me for the success I have had professionally," said Richardson. "I was given the opportunity to grow and develop my leadership skills while at Montana Western. Through those opportunities along with incredible professors, I developed the foundation for my career. It has been a lot of fun to come full circle in my career, ending up where I began."

Thank You!

Letter to the Editor,

July 11, 2014

"The good old days"

Yes Mr. Brillhart, I remember the "good old days" too. I believe the "good old days" are different for each person and they occur at their own times. Mine are different than yours or maybe those of Mr. Dishno's. However, I do hold the truth as being fundamentally important so, I must comment on your "Letter to the Editor" published on July 11th.

Mr. Brillhart, I don't know where you got your information about gas prices. According to the U.S. Dept. of Labor and Statistics, when President George W. Bush took office gasoline averaged $1.47 per gallon of unleaded gasoline. Not $1.60 per gallon. When George W. Bush left office gasoline was $1.78 per gallon instead of the $4.40 you purported. That is a 20 percent increase not a 275 percent increase. On July 11, 2014, the average price of gasoline was $3.63. Which is an increase of over 100 percent since President Obama took office. Now let us be truthful Mr. Brillhart. I paid as high as $4.12 a gallon for gasoline during the Bush administration, and the reason for the precipitous drop was the economic recession which temporarily severely cut gas usage in the United States. Should President Bush or President Obama be blamed for the rises in fuel costs? No. They have no control over the costs. Oil is sold internationally as a commodity where a little money can control the value of a lot of oil fueling speculation. Retail gasoline is priced by oil companies who make outlandish profits on the backs of the consumers.

You claim President Obama has ended two wars. He has withdrawn from Iraq but his scheduled retreat from Afghanistan has not yet occurred.

Mr. Brillhart, I do not know why you continue to make claims about the legality of these wars. Perhaps there will be an opportunity to discuss it together at some time. To keep it truthful, on September 14, 2001, a joint resolution from Congress authorized President Bush to utilize military force against any nation, organization or person who committed terrorism against us or who harbored them. On October 16, 2002, Congress approved a joint resolution to allow President Bush to use the military in Iraq. Our Constitution mandates the declaration of war is the responsibility of Congress, it does not describe how that declaration is to be made.

I couldn't care less about your political opinions or why you continue to rail against a man who has been out of office for close to six years. I don't like the truth to be sullied, or as you wrote, "I just don't like the fact that most of your facts are not factual."

Thu 8/7/14 @ 9:30 p.m. - Great Northern Bar, Whitefish, MT
Sat 8/9/14 @ 9 p.m. - The Filling Station, Bozeman, MT

This is part of a trek that will take the Asheville band to California and back, playing a unique musical style known as "Heartfelt Country Soul"—a mix of Americana, bluegrass, rhythm & blues, country and soul.

Following this tour, Underhill Rose will start recording a new record. This yet to be titled release, like 2013's "Something Real," is completely funded by Kickstarter donations. The new album raised more than $25,000 in the 2014 campaign, underlining an important feature...the fans want this group to succeed and are providing the financial backing to make it happen.

"Something Real" was produced by Cruz Contreras of The Black Lilies, using $18,000 from a similar Kickstarter campaign, and spent 10 weeks in the Americana Music Association Airplay Top 40, peaking at number 18. The release also impacted additional charts, rising to number four on The Alternate Root "Roots 66" and hitting the Top 25 on Freeform Americana Radio and EuroAmericana chart.

Dillon DAV Ride Program Continues

Thomas W. Straugh, Local Area Coordinator

There has been a slug of bad publicity regarding the Veterans Administration (VA) lately and some has been well deserved. When the numbers are fraudulent, when appointments are made with no ability to keep them, when people perish due to lack of health care, there are changes that need to be made. In spite of that bleak picture, when I asked the veterans who attended the Legislative Information Session on June 4th to raise their hands if their personal experience with the VA was good everyone showed a raised hand. There is good care available through the VA.

If you are a veteran, have a VA approved medical appointment and can get into the van by yourself, the DAV van is providing free rides. While the main service is to either Fort Harrison or Anaconda, We have taken veterans to Missoula, Billings, Bozeman, and Butte for medical appointments. Call 660-1294 to schedule a ride to your appointment. By the way, if you would like to have a care giver accompany you to your appointment, you can.

There is one van stationed in Dillon. The system is set up on a first come, first served basis. The system works better when you call at least 3 work days before your appointment. It also works better when your appointment is between 1000 and 1330.

If you have a choice when you are making an appointment, please ask for a Tuesday or Thursday for Fort Harrison and Wednesday for Anaconda. Sometimes you just don't have a choice. Make the appointment and give a call to 660-1294 and I'll see if I can make the schedule work.

There are vans stationed in Butte and Anaconda which also take veterans to medical appointments. If the Dillon van is already scheduled and you give enough lead time, they may be able to help.

There are 10 drivers currently active in the Dillon group. If you are in reasonable health and would like to become a driver, please call 660-1294. I'll explain the system and give you the paperwork necessary to start your application. There is something very satisfying about driving a veteran to a medical appointment and back home.

I Count each moment.

Jane Wise is one strong woman, despite her small stature and soft voice. Jane lives her life to the fullest and believes that strength means finding balance and peace within—no matter what life throws in your path. During her diagnosis of ovarian cancer, Jane found a compassionate group of people who shared their encouragement, time and services to help navigate her diagnosis.

Cancer Survivor Support Group is offered the 3rd Thursday of each month, 12:00-1:00pm at Barrett Hospital & HealthCare. Available free of charge for people diagnosed with cancer.

To participate and find out more, give us a call at 582-1600 or visit online www.cancersupportmontana.org
