ATTORNEY'S ADVICE - NO CHARGE

Submitted by Bob Anderson

Not A Joke!! Even If you dislike attorneys. You will love them for these tips.

Read this and make a copy for your files in case you need to refer to it someday. Maybe we should all take some of his advice! A corporate attorney sent the following out to the employees in his company:

1. Do not sign the back of your credit cards. Instead, put 'PHOTO ID REQUIRED.'

2. When you are writing checks to pay on your credit card accounts, DO NOT put the complete account number on the 'For' line. Instead, just put the last four numbers. The credit card company knows the rest of the number, and anyone who might be handling your check as it passes through all the check processing channels won't have access to it.

3. Put your work phone # on your checks instead of your home phone. If you have a PO Box use that instead of your home address. If you do not have a PO Box, use your work address. Never have your SS# printed on your checks. (DUH!) You can add it if it is necessary. But if you have It printed, anyone can get it.

4. Place the contents of your wallet on photocopy machine. Do both sides of each license, credit card, etc. You will know what you had in your wallet and all of the account numbers and phone numbers to call and cancel.. Keep the photocopy in a safe place.

I also carry a photocopy of my passport when I travel either here or abroad. We've all heard horror stories about fraud that's committed on us in stealing a Name, address, Social Security number, credit cards..

Unfortunately, I, an attorney, have firsthand knowledge because my wallet was stolen last month. Within a week, the thieves ordered an expensive monthly cell phone package, applied for a VISA credit card, had a credit line approved to buy a Gateway computer, received a PIN number from DMV to change my driving record information online, and more.

But here's some critical information to limit the damagein case this happens to you or someone you know:

5. We have been told we should cancel our credit cards immediately. But the key is having the toll free numbers and your card numbers handy so you know whom to call. Keep those where you can find them.

6.. File a police report immediately in the jurisdiction where your credit cards, etc., were stolen. This proves to credit providers you were diligent, and this is a first step toward an investigation (if there ever is one).

But here's what is perhaps most important of all: (I never even thought to do this.)

7. Call the 3 national credit reporting organizations immediately to place a fraud alert on your name and also call the Social Security fraud line number.. I had never heard of doing that until advised by a bank that called to tell me an application for credit was made over the Internet in my name.

The alert means any company that checks your credit knows your information was stolen, and they have to contact you by phone to authorize new credit..

By the time I was advised to do this, almost two weeks after the theft, all the damage had been done. There are records of all the credit checks initiated by the thieves' purchases, none of which I knew about before placing the alert. Since then, no additional damage has been done, and the thieves threw my wallet away this weekend (someone turned it in). It seems to have stopped them dead in their tracks..

New Hope Annual Banquet

The annual banquet and fundraiser for New Hope Pregnancy Support Center of Dillon, Tuesday, October 7, 2014. The banquet will be at the Lewis & Clark Room on the campus of University of Montana Western. This year's theme is Hope. The event begins at 6:00 pm and includes both silent and live auctions, a ham dinner, and a passionate speaker.

Teresa Best, our guest speaker, is one of the founding members of New Hope PSC, and has gone on to start Lighthouse Ministry in Bozeman, Montana. She facilitates healing for women who suffer from childhood sexual abuse and post-abortion grief. Teresa will be sharing about the importance of supporting people who have had an abortion.

This event, and the continuing mission of New Hope PSC, cannot happen without the generous support of those who believe in the sanctity of human life. We are offering you the opportunity to be a part of this banquet and fundraiser by either being a table sponsor, a table host, or both.

- A table sponsor is responsible for underwriting the cost of a table at $160.
- A table host is responsible for filling the table with 8 guests, hosts included.

If you are unable to sponsor or host a table, but would still like to attend and support New Hope, call New Hope at 683.5259 and seating will be reserved.

Prayerfully consider the part God wants you to play in the education and support made available to our community for generations to come through the mission of New Hope.

Rains and Cooler Temps Slow Madison Fire

Butte, Mont., Aug. 26, 2014 —The lightning caused Madison Fire detected Sunday afternoon Aug. 10, showed no smoke on Monday afternoon according to fire officials. The three acre fire received significant precipitation and cooler temperatures over the weekend as an unusually cool weather front came through the Butte area. "I could not see any smoke in the area of the fire Monday afternoon", reported Butte/Jefferson District Ranger Dave Sabo. "I don't think the fire is completely out yet, so we will wait until temperatures warm up again to see if it becomes more active and starts smoking again."

Due to its remote location, steep slopes, rocky terrain, continuous dead fuels and lack of safety areas for firefighters, fire officials decided to monitor the fire rather than place firefighters on the scent. The fire will continue to be patrolled from the air and from a distance on the ground.

The Dillon Dispatch Center is coordinating management of this fire with firefighters. Additional information or questions can be directed to the Forest Service in Butte at (406) 494-0250 or Whitehall (406) 287-3223, or go online to www.inciweb.nwcg.gov.

Extension Birthday Celebration

In 2014, we celebrate the Smith-Lever Act, which established the Cooperative Extension Service, a unique educational partnership between the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the nation's land-grant universities that extends research-based knowledge through a state-by-state network of extension educators. For 100 years, the Smith-Lever Act has stimulated innovative research and vital educational programs for youth and adults through progressive information delivery systems that improved lives and shaped a nation. Celebrate 100 years of Extension, across generations, across Montana.

Please join us in celebrating 100 years of Extension on Saturday, August 30th at the 4-H Building. We will be serving cake from 5 pm to 7 pm. Celebrate 100 years of Extension, across generations, across Montana.

Open Letter to the Dillon City Council

August 27, 2014

Lady and Gentlemen:

Some time in September you will meet to decide whether or not to pass a non-discrimination ordinance (NDO) protecting, in the city of Dillon, lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender people from unfair treatment in their employment, housing, and in public accommodations.

Despite the legalistic smoke screen the city attorney has thrown up, a smoke screen designed to allow you to avoid having to publicly deal with the main issue (discrimination against gay people), your decision will be a very simple one. You will vote either to protect gay people in the city of Dillon from being fired from their jobs on account of their sexual orientation or you will vote to allow employers to fire them for being gay with no repercussions. You will vote either to protect gay people from being evicted from their houses or apartments on account of their sexual orientation or you will vote to allow landlords to evict them for being gay with no repercussions.

The main problem, of course, is not in Dillon but in the State Legislature. They have, for some time, been opposed to protecting the civil rights of gay people. That's the reason why several cities have taken it upon themselves to pass local ordinances to afford these protections to their citizens. That's why you've been asked to join the cities of Butte, Bozeman, Helena, and Missoula in passing a protective ordinance.

Some people have asked, "Why don't we just wait for the State Legislature to act? Isn't this something that should be decided at state level?"

The question is actually a pretty cynical one, for we all know that the Legislature isn't going to pass laws protecting gay people in most of our lifetimes. That's because both houses of the legislature are firmly under the control of a political party which until just two years ago had the following plank in their platform: "We support the clear will of the people of Montana expressed by legislation to keep homosexual acts illegal." This change in their platform was a belated and reluctant recognition of the fact that, since a court ruling in 1997, homosexual acts are no longer actually

"illegal" in Montana.

The anti-homosexual language may have been removed from this party's platform, but the belief that homosexuals are somehow evil and deserve to be punished lives on. Why should legislators holding this belief be expected to pass laws protecting such people?

Some and maybe all of you on the City Council are members of the party I'm referring to. You may or may not share the strong anti-homosexual bias displayed by your party leaders.

Whatever you believe, I hope when you make your vote in September on the proposed antidiscrimination ordinance that you'll at least be honest. If you think gay people don't deserve the protections afforded other American citizens under the Constitution, say so. Don't hide behind the legalistic excuses the city attorney has given you to avoid taking a public position.

Finally, please remember that whichever way the vote goes, it will clearly define the kind of city we are. It will declare to others in the state and in the nation that Dillon, Montana, is either a tolerant, welcoming place or a small-minded, bigoted place where some people cannot expect to be treated fairly. Whichever way the vote goes, it will have important positive or negative consequences.
