Get ready! September is National Preparedness Month

The Department of Public Health and Human Services (DPHHS) and local public health agencies are encouraging all Montanans to participate in National Preparedness Month.

With cooler weather approaching, September is a good time to identify and prepare for emergencies. Creating or maintaining an emergency kit and developing a plan to communicate with your family following an emergency or disaster are simple steps everyone can take to prepare.

"We live in a state that often experiences the impact of hard winter storms, flooding, and wildfires," says DPHHS Director Richard Oppen. "Even as resilient as our communities are, National Preparedness Month is a good reminder that our citizens need to prepare themselves and their families for emergencies, and that includes our families and friends who depend on extra help."

A recent statewide survey conducted by DPHHS estimates 60 percent of Montanans have a chronic medical condition, many requiring medication. "Keeping at least a 3-day supply of medications can help keep an already bad situation from getting worse," says Todd Harwell, administrator of the Public Health and Safety Division of DPHHS. "Knowing what your family's needs are before a disaster strikes can help people build an emergency kit to get them through a few hard days until help is available."

DPHHS reminds families that infants and children may have different needs than adult members of households. And, if children are at daycare, school, or old enough to stay home alone, families need to plan on how to contact each other following an event. "Take some time to discuss a plan with your family," Harwell said. "Establish a meeting place. If cell phones are working, text messaging can sometimes be more effective for getting in touch with your family than placing a call."

Throughout the month, DPHHS will offer tips to help you be disaster ready, including ways you can stay safe during a disaster. Follow DPHHS on Facebook at www.facebook.com/MTDPHHS to receive the latest preparedness updates or visit www.DPHHS.mt.gov for information on emergency preparedness and planning for persons with special needs.

MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING

I don't really understand what all the fuss about homosexuals in Dillon is all about. It seems to me some people have far too little to do.

In all the time I've been in Dillon I've never recognized one in Dillon. I suppose there may be some, but unless you catch them in the act, how do you know for sure. With a college here in town there would naturally be a lot of same sex people sharing apartments, but that doesn't make them homosexual. On the other hand the large number of same sex roommates may be a good cover for the few that might be here.

I heard a guard camp story once back in 63, when Sgt. Somebody said he was approached by a gay person at a bar in Helena and he ended up throwing him down the stairs.

According to the movie "Breakback Mountain" a lot of cowboys may be gay but I've seen no sign of that either.

I think maybe the rattlesnakes keep them away.

Letter to the Editor

I am saddened to note that not one of the four city council members named in the initial recall petition has honorably resigned from the council in acknowledgement of their rejection by the taxpayers of Dillon. I admit I was wrong in my optimistic belief, "Letter to the Editor (8-26-14)", that we have no insensitive boors serving on our city council. Here, then, is my own definition of narcissists:

People whose egos so far exceed their intelligence that they are oblivious to their own shortcomings and impervious to just criticism.

They are frequently type A personalities (obsessive/compulsives) with a slavish addiction to the minutia of law and regulations regardless of the consequences of such addiction. (Think of Shylock in Shakespeare's Merchant of Venice demanding his pound of flesh from nearest the heart; or the Pharisees seeking to bring Jesus into disrepute merely because he allowed publicans and sinners to eat at his table, [Matthew 9:11], and because his disciples did not wash their hands before eating their bread, [Matthew 15:2]). {All references are to the King James Bible}

Think also of members of a city council who, regardless of the legal cost to taxpayers, insist on pursuing a legal vendetta against a citizen after he has already lost a judicial battle over placement of a water meter outside his house, and even going so far as to prevent the new mayor from dismissing the suit to avoid further expense to the taxpayers. (Dillonite Daily, May 23, 2014, Letter to the Editor, by Edith Fletcher.)

The vindictiveness of stubbornly pursuing this suit at taxpayer's expense raises grave doubts about the intelligence, the judgment, and even the character of certain members of our city council. It leaves no doubt about their egos.

Their unrelenting determination to obstruct Mayor Klakken at every opportunity demonstrates the willfulness of spoiled children.

Is there still hope of an awakening of self-awareness in such people?

Let me quote from one of my favorite sources of wisdom:

"Can the Ethiopian change his skin, or the leopard his spots? Then may ye also learn to do good who are accustomed to do evil." [Jeremiah, 13:23]

"That which is crooked cannot be made straight: and that which is wanting cannot be numbered." [Ecclesiastes, 1:15]

Letter to the Editor

Looking back at September 11th, 2001. Sometimes it seems so long ago and yet it seems just like yesterday.

But we must not forget the day, the people, the pain, the tears and yes still the unanswered questions!

We must not forget the many acts of heroism above the call of duty. We must not forget those who died, the loved one's left behind.

And we must not forget that the CIA, the FBI, and the FAA failed the American people.

We must not forget that September the 11th 2001 changed the lives of many Americans. We were told we must be patriotic and stand together. Which we did! We were also told we must be hateful and get even with those responsible for this dastardly crime. But then we were told to hate and get even with the wrong people.

We all hurt inside and shed tears for those we did not know personally but in our hearts we felt we knew every last soul.

America must get out of the business of hate and fear. America must get out of the business of war. We must not forget the past but need to move into the future peacefully.

Laverne D. Brillhart

Beaver Head Hunters Genealogical Society

The next meeting of the Beaver Head Hunters Genealogical Society will be Tuesday, September 16 at 7:00 pm in the Museum Research Room. We will begin with a brief business meeting, followed by a presentation by Clay Edwards. Clay will primarily be talking about how the partnership of the Orr and Poindexter families started, and how they came to the valley. As always, the public is invited.

UNIVERSITY INDUCTS NEW HALL OF FAME MEMBERS SEPT. 20

The University of Montana Western kicks off its Homecoming weekend Saturday, Sept. 20, by welcoming new members into its athletic Hall of Fame.

Montana Western will induct Stanley Johnston, Kelly Carras Krank, Katie Ryan Howells, Max Nield and the 1963 football team during a ceremony at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, in the Lewis and Clark Room on the University of Montana Western campus. The inductees also will be introduced during halftime of that day's football game versus MSU-Northern.

Stanley Johnston graduated from the University of Montana Western, which used to be Western Montana College, in 1981. After earning his bachelor's degree in sports medicine, he went on to get his master's degree at Montana State University in 1985. Stanley worked with the Los Angeles Dodgers from 1985-2007 as an athletic trainer. Now he is the head athletic trainer at Embry Riddle Aeronautical University. He and his wife Tawni have two sons and two daughters.

Kelly Carras Krank earned her bachelor's degree in English with a minor in special education from Montana Western in 2006. While at UMW, Krank played volleyball from 1998-2000 and was an all-conference selection, most inspirational player and most valuable player. After college, she taught for eight years in special education and second grade and coached middle and high school volleyball. She now stays home with her kids while attending grad school in Colorado. Her and her husband have two children, Nora, 4, and Selvin, who is 11 months.

Katie Ryan Howells earned her bachelor's degree in Business with an emphasis on health and fitness management from UMW in 2001. While playing volleyball during college, Howells racked up quite a few honors. She was academic all-conference, first team all-conference and set the school record for most kills in a season. Also, she was first team all-region and All-American honorable mention. In 2002, she married her husband Craig and had their daughter Ryan in 2003. The couple then had a son in 2005. Currently, Howells works at Computers Unlimited in Billings, where she tests software.

When Howells and Krank played for the UMW volleyball team, it was the first time in the university's history that the volleyball team qualified for the regional tournament.

Max Nield will be inducted into the Hall of Fame for his meritorious service. During that season, the men's basketball team attended the NAIA National Tournament in 1958. Nield transferred from Ricks College in Idaho to UMW played baseball and basketball from 1957-58. After earning his degree in 1958, he began teaching and coaching at Townsend, Mont. He then moved to Valier and then to Dillon, where he taught English and coached for 18 years. He also owned East Bench Grain and Machinery, Inc. till January 2014. Nield has been married to his wife Barbara for 54 years. They have three children, eight grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

The 1963 football team went undefeated and won the conference.

The team was coached by head coach Frank Hoey, Cecil Kent and Pat Delger.

This year's inductees will be honored during a brunch ceremony in the Lewis and Clark Room in Mathews Hall. Tickets for the brunch ceremony are available for $10. Call the UMW Alumni Office at 406-683-7305 to reserve tickets.
