My Pony Bucks.....my dad says so

Jay Hahnkamp of Melrose has written a book for children. "My Pony Bucks.....my dad says so" was written for and inspired by the authors kids, Cord and Dillon. It was one particular pony ride about 10 years ago that planted the seed for the story. Hahnkamp has tried his hand at many different things including teaching school, building saddles, welding and building fences. Now he can add author to his resume. This wonderful little book captures the imagination of a boy and his pony. Bonnie Shields, an Idaho cowgirl and artist provided the illustrations that capture the words in art.

Jay will be signing copies of his book at The Bookstore on Thursday, November 20th from 5:00-7:00 pm. If you have any questions or would like to reserve a copy of the book please contact Debbie at 683-6807

MALLARD'S REST FAS CLOSED UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE

On Tuesday, Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks closed Mallard's Rest Fishing Access Site on the Yellowstone River (13 miles south of Livingston) due to ice gorging and flooding at the site.

The closure is estimated to last until early spring 2015.

Last year, Mallard's Rest was closed in December because of extensive flooding and did not reopen until April.

Ice on rivers is highly unstable and unpredictable. Recreationists are advised to exercise caution around any bodies of water in southwest Montana throughout the winter and spring.

Information on FAS closures can be found on FWP's website by following links on the "Restrictions, Closures and Re-openings" page found at <http://fwp.mt.gov/news/restrictions/>.

Correcting the Wrongs

By: MJ

Cities are going broke; thousands of people are being laid off, employees work hours are being cut back, health insurance benefits are being cancelled... One could say that heavy hand of new government laws, rules, regulations are causing hardships and the employees are getting the brunt of it. One of the first things a business does in order to stay in business is cut expenses.

I hear many people say I don't make enough hourly wages. Often employees forget to calculate how much the company is paying for their health insurance, paid vacations, sick leave... It is all part of the hourly wages. Don't forget your paycheck probably looked pretty good until the taxes were taken out.

In the coffee shops and on the streets I keep hearing people say; "I don't like what the government is doing however I can't do anything about it." You can do something and unless you get involved with your elected officials, whom work for you, nothing will change. Unless they hear from you, they can't know what you are thinking. Unless you talk to them how would you know what they are doing and why? Would you know the mayor or commissioners if you seen them on the street? Would you stop and talk to them? They are no better or no less then you are.

Write a letter, e-mail, make a phone call, and let the politicians know what you are thinking. Just because you aren't some big corporation or have millions of dollars does not mean that they will not listen to you. Old saying: "squeaky wheel gets the grease".

It is time the government resolves the spending problems. Do you know that on your phone bill has a hidden tax of $2.00± that generates million± dollars that the government gives to phone companies in order for them to pass out free cell phones? All I am saying is do you really know how much money you are paying in taxes?

Great American Smokeout, November 20, 2014 Be a Champion Quit Today!!!

The Montana Tobacco Use Prevention Program (MTUPP), a state-wide program of the Montana Department of Public Health and Human Services, is joining forces with the American Cancer Society for this year's Great American Smokeout. This annual event challenges smokers and spit tobacco users to quit cigarettes and smokeless tobacco for at least one day, in hopes that they will quit for good. It is held around the country and helps raise awareness about tobacco use and encourages tobacco users to quit, providing them with helpful cessation information and resources.

The Great American Smokeout raises awareness about the deaths and chronic diseases caused by smoking. One thousand four hundred (1,400) Montanans die every year from tobacco-related illnesses. Tobacco Prevention Specialist Crissie Hansen said, "We're challenging smokers and chewers to stop tobacco use for the day and will provide information on effective ways to quit permanently, including information on the Montana Tobacco Quit Line and ways to successfully quit a habit that will extend your life by 10 to 15 yrs. Every 72 seconds someone dies in the US from a tobacco related disease that will be one person dead after you get done reading this article."

Tobacco users who call the Montana Tobacco Quit Line are 7 to 10 times more likely to quit. The Montana Tobacco Quit Line at 1-800-QUIT-NOW offers free help to Montanans who want to quit using tobacco. The Quit Line offers free nicotine replacement therapy, such as patches, lozenges and gum, and free or low-cost medications. It is a free service that can add money to your pocket book and a cleaner and healthier way of life.

The mission of MTUPP is to address the public health crisis caused by the use of all forms of commercial tobacco products. MTUPP works to eliminate tobacco use, especially among young people. Take the challenge and call the Quit Line today 1-800-QUIT-NOW or Crissie Hansen at 925-2550!!! Information can also be picked up at Public Health or Community Health. Help bring the state championship home with a Tobacco Free Life!!!

Patient Donor Creates Sculpture in Honor of Dr. Loge

Ed McDaniel started making sculptures 12 years ago at the age of 48, carving clay that would be used to create a wax mold and ultimately a bronze casting. His work primarily focused on creating traditional busts, and he did some smaller pieces as well.

When he experienced a serious health crisis from an autoimmune complication and pneumonia, he found himself in the emergency room and being admitted to the hospital under the watchful eye of Dr. Ron Loge. Ed speaks in a hushed tone when he describes that experience, "I say without a doubt that Dr. Ron Loge saved my life. I wanted to thank him, and express my gratitude – and the best way for me to do that is through my work."

Ed first approached Dr. Anna Loge, who is Ron's daughter and an internal medicine doctor at Barrett Hospital & HealthCare. He then pursued the idea with the Foundation.

When Dr. Ron Loge was asked if he would sit for photos and the creation of a bronze, he was reluctant to be part of a traditional bust casting, and instead asked if the piece could reflect him, his beloved English Setter "Huck," a shotgun and some pheasants. Ed said he could do that, and the project began in the spring of 2013.

Dr. Loge sat for photographs, and Ed even went to the Pheasants Forever Youth Hunt to take pictures of Dr. Loge, some pheasants and Huck on point.

Northwest Art Castings of Bozeman cast the sculpture and prepared it to be mounted in its final form.

Ed McDaniel donated his time and effort to carve the clay and create the table on which the sculpture is mounted. The Harrington Family donated the barn wood to make the base. The casting cost

In addition, several of Dr. Loge's friends, including Dave Cypher, and Pat & Bob McNeil (recently deceased) helped to review the sculpture for accuracy.
The sculpture has been assembled and is on display in the first-floor entryway of the Clinic as a tribute to Dr. Loge and the service he provides to our community.

A Call To All!!

Your community needs your help with VITA

There are as many ways to volunteer as there are agencies, organizations, and community events. One unique opportunity speaks to those that are good with numbers, decent with computers, and most importantly works well with people one-on-one in confidence.

Starting in 1971 volunteers across the U.S. has been helping others with free tax preparation. For decades the same holds true in Montana where every year volunteers spend a few months donating their time with the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) program. The effort provides free tax preparation and filing services to those with low to moderate incomes thanks, in part, to support from an Internal Revenue Service grant. That service returned about $6 million in federal refunds back into the pockets of Montana residents last year alone.

Economists often say ensuring taxpayers claim the appropriate tax credits reduces poverty, particularly the Earned Income Tax Credit, because it encourages work and supplements those making lower incomes. Through training, volunteers with the VITA program become IRS-certified and help others navigate through their documents and necessary forms ensuring taxpayers get the refunds they're entitled. Made possible by volunteers, the program has 32 sites across Montana.

One VITA site in the Flathead area is Park Side Credit Union where Rob Lefkowitz is the Chief Operations Officer. The fact that volunteers are the bread and butter of the program is one aspect that he loves.

"Most of us pay someone else to do our taxes, but the volunteers do it with VITA and they are special people for sure," Lefkowitz said.

Clay Gohr is a volunteer tax preparer at SEG Federal Credit Union in Laurel. He said volunteering with VITA just takes somebody willing to help out someone else and is able to commit to the time.

"It's not like (volunteers) are accountants — it's just math, adding and subtracting — most of our stuff is pretty simple," Gohr said. "We have so much help and support and the courses and training you receive give you a good idea of what's going on. You are never in a position where you have to make a decision by yourself."

Some VITA sites are completely run by volunteers and others have a mix of volunteers and credit union staff, and such is the case in Circle at McCone County Federal Credit Union.

Manager Emily Guldborg said everyone at the credit union is wildly supportive of the program because it makes staff more knowledgeable about tax issues. This not only benefits the taxpayer utilizing the VITA program, but also members of the credit union.

Gohr said being a volunteer is rewarding because people are tenuous about taxes.

"The thing about taxes is everyone is intimidated by the IRS and afraid to make mistakes," he said.

High Peaks Federal Credit Union has been hosting the VITA program in our community for the last 6 years. It has steadily grown to be helping over 150 local community members and giving back over $100,000.00 in refunds just last year with the support of our volunteers working 130+ hours with us. Unfortunately we are losing our main, very knowledgeable, volunteer this year and are in need of your help.

Training for volunteer tax preparers begins soon. There is opportunities for in-person classroom training or flexible, untimed online curriculum opportunities. It's important to note that being a member of a credit union is not a requirement to volunteer or participate in the program. The credit union philosophy is 'people helping people' because it's a financial cooperative and because of that, along with support from partner organizations and grant funding, this service is provided for free.

For more information about volunteering with VITA contact Robin Ellis at 406-683-4373 come in to see me at High Peaks Federal Credit Union or email me at robin@highpeaksfcu.com
