PROPANE TRACTOR TRAILER ACCIDENT

December 9, 2014, at 1:00 o'clock, p.m., Dillon Rural Fire Department, Beaverhead EMS, Disaster and Emergency Services, Montana Highway Patrol and Beaverhead County Sheriff's Deputies responded to an accident on Highway 41 at milepost 10. The reporting party advised the Beaverhead 911 Center of a semi-tractor and trailer that had lost control and skid across the highway on its side and into the barrow pit. The unit, owned by Rocky Mountain Supply was traveling south at the time of the accident.

The tractor-trailer unit was transporting approximately 8500 gallons of propane. It took approximately nine hours to right the tractor and trailer onto its wheels and transport the unit into Dillon by a local towing service.

Traffic was shut down on both sides of the accident. Deputies assisted by Montana Department of Transportation blocked Highway 41 to the north of Dillon, allowing only residents to their homes south of the 10 mile marker and to those who ventured onto the East Bench Road north to Highway 41 at the Point of Rocks. Other travelers utilized the Biltmore Road from Glen onto Highway 41 into Twin Bridges. Madison County Sheriff Dave Schenk provided barricades at Twin Bridges for traffic traveling south on Highway 41.

No one was injured as a result of the accident.

Incurable outdoor junkies-he, along with his wife Gale, and Annie the wirehair spend on average 200 days afield in search of prose, photos and outdoor adventure.

Robbins newest book, 'Birding Trails Montana,' features 240 birding locations across the Big Sky State with GPS coordinates for all locations. The book is divided into six regions with each section containing the birding locations, key birds, best season for birding and the area description along with driving directions and Legislative Dress Code Defined.

By: MJ

The presiding officers of the House and Senate can prescribe what attire will be acceptable on the chamber floors for the official dress, for reporters or other members of the public. What happened to our personal pride, to clean, ironed and starched clothing? It's a sad day when the government must take time out of a busy schedule to outline how people will dress. leg.mt.gov Following is the dress code.

64th Legislative Session: MEMBERS OF THE MONTANA LEGISLATURE ARE REQUIRED TO DRESS IN FORMAL BUSINESS ATTIRE DURING THE SESSION. MEMBERS SHOULD COMPORT THEMSELVES IN A MANNER THAT RESPECTS THE LEGISLATIVE INSTITUTION AND THAT INCLUDES THE FORMALITY OF DRESS EXPECTED IN THE CHAMBER.

1. "BUSINESS FORMAL" FOR MEN IS DEFINED AS A SUIT, OR DRESS SLACKS, JACKET, TIE, DRESS SHIRT AND DRESS SHOES OR DRESS BOOTS.
2. "BUSINESS FORMAL" FOR WOMEN IS DEFINED AS A SUIT OR DRESS SLACKS, SKIRT, JACKET, AND DRESS BLOUSE OR SUIT-LIKE DRESS AND APPROPRIATE SHOES (FLIP FLOPS, TENNIS SHOES, AND OPEN-TOE SANDALS ARE NOT CONSIDERED APPROPRIATE). LEGGINGS ARE NOT CONSIDERED DRESS PANTS.
3. WOMEN SHOULD BE SENSITIVE TO SKIRT LENGTHS AND NECKLINES.
4. JEANS OR DENIM MATERIAL, INCLUDING COLORED DENIM, IS NOT ALLOWED. FLEECE AND JERSEY (SWEAT-SHIRT) MATERIAL ARE NOT CONSIDERED "BUSINESS FORMAL."
5. LEADERSHIP OF THE HOUSE AND SENATE ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR ENSURING MEMBERS ARE DRESSED IN BUSINESS FORMAL ATTIRE AND WILL NOTIFY MEMBERS WHO MAY NOT MEET THE DRESS CODE.
7. LEGISLATIVE STAFF, MEMBERS OF THE MEDIA, INTERNS AND AIDES MUST ALSO ABIDE BY THIS POLICY IF ON THE FLOOR WHILE THE BODIES ARE GAVELED INTO SESSION.

Winter Memories

LaVon D. Brillhart

Winters arrival rude with Arctic coldness winter skies shortened
 beautiful brisk sunsets
 sundogs bring mystical magic to the winter sky trees bare waving to frozen streams nearby
 red eared boys playing on frozen puddles sleds stacked against shed waiting silently shy young girls stomping in snow with rosy cheeks

the crunching of snow bringing back memories of days gone by fire

 wood stacked on porches

chimneys filling cloudy skies
 with smoggy smoke

snow men so handsome with polar smiles Shapely shadows on snow following all birds all fluffed waiting for food handouts
 the melodious silent sounds of crisp twinkling stars
 snow balls aimed at passerby's scarf wrapped women walking sharply to neighborhood stores

icicles clinging to eaves with eveness
 tea kettles whistling spurts of steam steadily hot chocolate mustaches bring smiles of warmth snow forts protecting smiling invaders frosty window patter designs hiding warmth Winter memories will fade and be lost.....

but snow and cold of next season will bring back
 old memories.

A Charlie Brown Christmas Miracle

By Tom Purcell

It's amazing that the show almost was not broadcast.

I speak of "A Charlie Brown Christmas" — a show that, for reasons I don't understand, holds more power over me with every passing year.

The show has a very simple premise: Too much commercialization can take the meaning out of Christmas.

As it goes, Charlie Brown is depressed because everyone around him fails to see the true meaning of Christmas.

Lucy complains, for instance, that she doesn't want stupid toys or a bicycle or clothes for Christmas. She wants real estate!

To resolve his depression, Charlie Brown throws himself into his work as the director of the Christmas play. But that soon falls apart, too.

Distraught, he follows a light in the east and finds his way to a Christmas tree lot. The only tree he can find is a small sickly one. When he brings it back, the others mock him.

But then Linus comes to the rescue. At once innocent and wise beyond his years, Linus tells Charlie Brown he knows what the real meaning of Christmas is. He tells the story of Christ's birth by quoting the Gospel of Luke in the King James version of the Bible.

"And, suddenly, there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, 'Glory to God in the highest, and on Earth peace, and goodwill toward men,'" says Linus. "And that's what Christmas is all about, Charlie Brown."

Suddenly, the other characters are transformed. They become compassionate and concerned. They decorate the sickly tree and transform it into a thing of beauty. They wish Charlie Brown a Merry Christmas and sing him a Christmas carol.

The things I like most about the show — the simple, almost primitive animation style, the use of real children's voices, the lack of a laugh track and the smooth-jazz soundtrack — were the very things network executives despised.

According to USA Today, when CBS executives previewed the show, they hated that it was so unlike anything else on the tube. They said it moved too slow. They thought viewers would hate the swinging score by jazz pianist Vince Guaraldi. And they certainly disliked like the idea of Linus reading from the Bible.

"Peanuts" creator Charles Schulz refused to make a single change to his show — and since it had been made under such a tight deadline, there was no time for network brass to replace it with something else. They had no choice but to air it.

And boy, was it a hit. When the show was first broadcast on Dec. 9, 1965, nearly half of the television sets in America were tuned in to watch. The show has continued to receive good ratings ever since.

And now we need to embrace the simple message of the show more than ever before.

Every year, the Christmas advertisements begin earlier. The stores open earlier and stay open longer. The stock market rises or falls based on how much holiday stuff consumers buy.

The older I get, the less interested I am in stuff and the more interested I am in the health and well-being of my loved ones. Rather than spend money on things none of us really need, why not give it to charity or a needy family instead?

I know it is somewhat ironic that a television show, whose advertising has sold a lot of consumer goods, would be noted for its anti-commercial message, but it is — because Charles Schulz was a genius.

Which is why I have big plans when "A Charlie Brown Christmas" airs every year.

I flip off the lights as I watch it — just as millions of kids have done every year since 1965.
