SAGA - SPEND or SAVE

By: MJ

IMPORTANT: City Council Meeting Wednesday, January 21, 2015.

If there is a quorum the Mayor will be discussing the reconstruction of bonds owed by the city.

If you are interested in how the city can save money and your water bills can be reduced this would be a meeting to attend. Support your council representative in making the right decision by attending.

It is my understanding the Mayor and his staff will be explain in detail a plan the council might adopt to help the cities financial statues. The council must approve of the plan before it could move forward.

Let us not forget the city has in the last two years raised your taxes twice in order to make bond payments.

SPEECH AND DRAMA MEET

On Saturday, January 17th Beaverhead County High School hosted the 2015 Dillon Beaver Invitational. There were 10 schools in attendance with approximately 120 competitors. This was the last invitational before the Divisional tournaments for these schools so the competition was very tough. The Drama team scored 95 points but unfortunately it was not quite enough to outpace Belgrade who won the meet with 115. The Speech team placed second also behind Belgrade.

Maria Hansen would like to thank all volunteers that gave their time on Saturday to judge this event, without their help it would be impossible to host a meet. Thank you for supporting the outstanding youth of this community.

The Beaver drama team had strong showings on Saturday by many members of the team, Maggie Magee placed first in Humorous Solo Acting with teammates Ray Shipman and Finley closely on her heels ending their day in second and third place respectively. Senior Josey Creger was the Serious Solo champion with Abbey Thomas finishing in second for the day, "these two girls keep one another challenged and will be fun to see what the outcome will be next weekend in Corvallis," said Head Coach Maria Hansen.

Jade Winters and Abbey Thomas placed second in Serious Duo acting for the second week in a row. Shelby Kluesner and Mariah Mosher did very well this weekend competing in Humorous Duo Acting placing second, followed by teammates Heidi Martin and Sarah Griffin who placed third.

Carmen de los Rios came away with a first place medal in Serious Oral Interpretation, edging out teammate Elizabeth Ostler who placed second. "Carmen competed in the final round, went and cheered on the cheer squad for the basketball game and made it back for the award ceremony." Rhiannon Murdoch Kalsta placed fifth.

Cameron Freebury had an excellent day in Humorous Oral Interpretation, and finished in second place for his efforts, freshman Angelika Jones placed 11th. Elizabeth Ostler also competed in Spontaneous Oral Interpretation placed second and Frank Pope placed ninth.

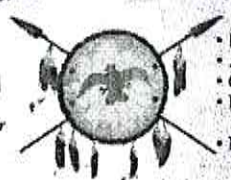

Madison Mosher competed in Original Oratory and was rewarded with third place.

RED HAT SOCIETY NEWS

Red hats and purple shirts were the colors of the day for the Lion's Den on Friday, January 16th. The Red Hat Belles were there for lunch with Darlene Rose and Sydney Tiedgen co-hosting. As agreed upon in December another collection was taken for Backpack for Kids.

Gloria Bridenstine showed us a cute beautifully crocheted red hat made for Jackie Cross. Some of the ladies are thinking about having her make them one.

door prizes were awarded to Barb Schrader, Terry DuBois and Lydia Towery.

We wish to thank the staff of the Lion's Den and Darlene and Sydney. It was so much fun getting together for the first time in 2015.

Thought for today:

Submitted by MJ

Every obstacle in our life presents an opportunity to improve our condition. It all depends on how we chose to perceive the obstacle.

Example: A king in times gone by, had his servants place a boulder on a roadway that was traveled by many. This road was used by the peasants, the wealthiest and courtiers. The King then hid and watched to see if anyone would remove the rock. The wealthiest and courtiers walked by. They never offered to move the rock but had no problem with loudly complaining that the king was not keeping the roadway cleared. Blaming someone else instead of taking care of the problem.

A farmer came along carrying his freshly harvested vegetables to market. When he approached the rock, he set his vegetables down and went to work moving the rock with much pushing, prying, grunting and groaning.

With the rock moved the farmer picked up his vegetables. As he walked past the spot where the rock had laid he noticed a purse.
He stopped and picked it up. It contained many gold coins and a note from the King indicating that the gold was for the person who removed the rock from the road.
