HAVE A HAPPY ENDING TO ST. PATTY'S DAY

Today is St. Patrick's Day-driver sober or get stopped. Many will celebrate with just a wee bit of green but please be reminded that there is no happy ending to drinking and driving. Impaired drivers may find themselves in the back of a police car headed to jail, or worse, they could kill someone or end up seriously injured or dead. Remember to plan a safe ride before the celebration begins. Before drinking, keys should be given to a sober driver. Give Cowboy Taxi a call at 925-0246 or UMW students please use Safe Ride. Report any drunk driver on the road, it could save someone's life.

MONTANA WESTERN RODEO BANQUET HONORS LOCAL RANCHING FAMILY

The 47th Annual University of Montana Western Rodeo Banquet on March 27 will pay tribute to a well-known local ranching family.

For their contributions to the UMW rodeo team and the sport of rodeo, Bill and Floydena Garrison of Glen, Mont., will be recognized at this year's banquet.

Floydena was honored in 2012 as "Ranching Woman of the Year" by the Montana Stockgrowers Association. Bill is a past president of the association. The couple is very active in the southwest Montana ranching community, the watershed district and statewide rodeo and agriculture organizations.

The Garrison Family received the Western Heritage recognition during this year's Montana Pro Rodeo Hall of Fame banquet. Bill and Floydena's son, Tim Garrison won the 1989 steer wrestling national championship for Montana Western, where he competed alongside his brothers Jim and Todd. Todd and his wife Latresha, also a UMW alumna, are parents of current Montana Western rodeo athlete Holden Garrison.

This year's rodeo banquet will also serve as the March Montana Western Alumni Association social. UMW alumni are invited to the banquet. Although the meal is sold out, "non-dinner" tickets can still be purchased for $5 for the auction portion of the banquet and live music by "King Friday." The live auction will begin around 7:30 p.m. and live music starts at 10 p.m.

For more information, call the UMW foundation at 406-683-7306. The banquet is in the Keltz Arena on the Montana Western campus.

Wiser with Age?

By MJ

Do we get wiser as we get older? Everyone has their own opinion on this. Following is some of my thoughts and a borrowed on from Mayo Angelou.

Mayo Angelou , now deceased, said that she learned as she aged that you could tell a lot about people by watching them interact with several sets of tangled Christmas tree lights, how they handle a rainy day and lost luggage. I have learned that she is right on the money.

Life has taught me that: 1) I don't have to win every argument. 2) To cry with someone because it's more healing then crying alone. 3) It is futile to resist chocolate. 4) I have learned not to compare my life to others because having not walked in their shoes I have no idea what their life is or has been like (could be a whole lot worse than mine). 5) I have learned to burn the candles, use the nice sheets, set table with the china and wear the fancy lingerie… 6) Everything about your life can change in the blink of an eye so over prepare, then go with the flow.

Chose life, chose to forgive and laugh. Time heals everything so take the time to allow the healing process. No matter how you feel; Get up, Get dressed, Show up and Set a goal for the day.

Beaver Head Hunters Genealogical Society

The Beaver Head Hunters Genealogical Society will hold their next meeting on Tuesday, March 17 at 7:00 pm in the museum research room. Last month we examined how to organize your paper stacks of genealogy data. This month Dorothy Stout will demonstrate organizing our ancestors using the computer program Roots Magic. Also, we will have an example of how to organize your scanned photos and documents. As always, the public is invited.

BOOTS ON THE GROUND

According to recent polling (like 24 hours ago) a majority is in favor of deploying American troops to fight the Islamic State. The question is where will these troops come from? Today our military is a volunteer service, a democratic service that needs the endorsement of a majority who has vague memory of a universal draft that won World War II. In effect, a compulsory military not an all-volunteer force.

This writer is not against a volunteer military. Out of necessity the standing armed forces have to be led by career professionals committed to long term service. Their contract with America is the core of a strong combat ready military.

If, indeed, American voters want troops on the ground to defeat ISIS, let there be blood, but let us make sure that blood shed is blood shared. This is not a new concept. Just declare war, reinstate the draft, finance the war by taxation, then finish the job and come home.

An all-volunteer ground force is a bad idea. It gives an impression of a modern day crusade, armed with troops schooled in the dispensational view of prophecy.

The draft will showcase a secular army where the separation of church and state is on full display. All will serve: true believers, non-believers and some not so sure.

It is time for the U.S. to face the facts. We have helped create ISIS, or in reality, ISIL, The Islamic State in the Levant.

Looks like it's going to be a long war.

National Park Service and State of Montana Seek Public Input on new Yellowstone-area Bison Management Plan

The National Park Service (NPS) and the State of Montana (Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks and the Montana Department of Livestock) announced today that they will begin preparing an Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) for a new plan to manage a wild and migratory population of Yellowstone-area bison, while minimizing the risk of brucellosis transmission between bison and livestock to the extent practicable. A Notice of Intent has been published in the Federal Register. The new plan is needed because conditions have changed since implementation of the Interagency Bison Management Plan began in 2001, including agency experience in managing bison and new science.

A range of six preliminary draft alternative concepts has been developed by the NPS and the State of Montana, with input from cooperating agencies. The preliminary alternative concepts primarily differ in terms of bison abundance, bison tolerance outside of the park, and the tools that could be used to manage the bison population within the park and on lands adjacent to the park. A newsletter with additional details about the plan and the preliminary alternative concepts is available online on the plan's NPS Planning, Environment, and Public Comment (PEPC) web page at http://parkplanning.nps.gov/YellBisonPlan.

Members of the public are being asked to participate in the planning process by offering input on the scope of issues and range of alternative concepts that may be considered in the new plan. The preferred method for submitting comments to the NPS and State of Montana is on the plan's NPS PEPC web page. Comments may also be mailed or hand-delivered to the Superintendent, Yellowstone National Park, Bison Management Plan, P.O. Box 168, Yellowstone National Park, Wyoming 82190. The deadline to receive comments is June 15, 2015.

During the public scoping comment period, the NPS and State of Montana will hold public open houses in West Yellowstone, Gardiner, and Bozeman, Montana. Details about the date, time, and location of each meeting will be announced in a future press release and online on the plan's NPS PEPC web page.

At the conclusion of the public comment period, the NPS and State of Montana will analyze and consider all feedback received and begin the preparation of the EIS. When completed, the draft EIS will be released for public review and comment.

Glen Stinar Named Administrator of the Montana Law Enforcement Academy

Today, Attorney General Tim Fox announced that Glen Stinar has been named administrator of the Montana Law Enforcement Academy. Fox made the announcement at a press event at the academy campus this morning. Glen's first official day on the job will be Monday, March 9.

"Training Montana's city, county, and state law enforcement officers is one of the most important responsibilities the people of Montana have entrusted with the Department of Justice, and I'm thrilled that Glen is joining our leadership team," Attorney General Fox said. "His background includes a diverse set of experiences and accomplishments that make him uniquely qualified to manage the academy."

"The Montana Law Enforcement Academy exists to serve law enforcement agencies and the communities they represent by providing relevant and realistic training tailored to effectively meet the broad range of today's public safety duties," Glen said. "As administrator, it is an honor to work with those agencies and the academy staff in designing and delivering quality basic and continuing education programs that meet that goal."

Glen began his law enforcement career as a detention officer in Whatcom County, Washington. He then served as deputy town marshal for Belt, Montana. In 1995 Glen came to the Great Falls Police Department, where he achieved the rank of sergeant and served until 2008. Since then, Glen has managed both the basic and advanced training programs at the Montana Law Enforcement Academy.

From 1982 until this past January, Glen served in the U.S. Army in both active and reserve capacities until he retired at the rank of command sergeant major. His tenure included combat service in Iraq and Afghanistan, and he was awarded the bronze star for both deployments. Glen holds a bachelor's degree in general studies with a criminal justice concentration from Allied American University, where he graduated magna cum laude.

Located on approximately 20 acres in Helena and operated by the Montana Department of Justice, the academy provides basic and advanced training to officers from city, county, state and some tribal law enforcement agencies.

Glen succeeds Kevin Olson, who managed the academy for ten years until he took a senior leadership position with the Montana Department of Corrections in December, 2014.

Irish Blessing
May the roads rise to meet you
May the winds be always at your back.
May the sun shine warm upon your face,
The rain fall soft upon your fields,
And until we meet again
May God hold you in the hollow of His hand.
