THREE BULLDOGS EARN WOMEN'S BASKETBALL SCHOLAR-ATHLETE STATUS

The 2015 Daktronics-NAIA Division I Women's Basketball Scholar-Athlete awards were announced Monday. Three Montana Western players were recognized for their academic achievements.

To be considered for scholar-athlete honors the students must be of junior or senior standing and have a cumulative GPA of at least 3.5 on a 4.0 scale. Student-athletes meeting these criteria are recommended by their institution for consideration. Three Bulldog basketball players were named to the 2015 list: Jenna Banks, Taylor Kanthack and McCall Hasquet.

Banks, a Bozeman, Mont. native, completed a four year career for the Bulldogs this season by earning places in the Bulldog record book in the assists, free throws, and steals categories. Banks is completing a Bachelor of Science degree in Biology and has been accepted to attend physical therapy school this fall.

Kanthack, of Helena, Mont., played three seasons for the Bulldogs while completing a Bachelor of Arts degree in global politics with a minor in legal studies. Kanthack will graduate from Montana Western this spring and plans to attend law school.

Hasquet, a junior from Missoula, Mont., is a K-12 art education major. Hasquet has been honored for her artistic work as well as her high GPA, receiving the prestigious Mary Baker Emerick scholarship from the Montana Western Fine Arts program.

"It says a great deal about these three young ladies that they were recognized by the NAIA as scholar-athletes," Bulldog head coach Lindsay Woolley said. "It shows they have the capabilities to excel on the floor and in the classroom, which is our ultimate goal for each of our students. Their work ethic is going to serve them extremely well in the future."

Sheep Die-Off Prompts Hunting District Closure

Montana's Fish & Wildlife Commission today closed a bighorn sheep hunting district near Gardiner due to an ongoing disease-related die-off.

The emergency action came in response to a pneumonia die-off that began late last year in bighorn sheep hunting district 305, near Gardiner. So far at least 34 sheep from the native herd have died.

Wildlife biologists who conducted an aerial survey of the area Sunday counted 55 bighorn sheep—found another dead animal and a number of sick ones—where 89 healthy sheep were counted last year.

"The disease event is not over yet," said Karen Loveless, Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks' wildlife biologist in Livingston. Nearly 40 percent of the herd in the Gardiner and Cinnabar areas, and 40 percent or more of the mature rams, have died.

Commissioners voted unanimously via today's conference call to close the 2015 bighorn sheep season in hunting district 305 to further protect the herd and to preclude hunters from applying for the hunting district's lone permit.

Commission Chair Dan Vermillion said the herd is important to hunters and others who have become accustomed to watching the animals' mating rituals near Yellowstone National Park during late November's bighorn sheep rutting season.

Prior to this emergency closure, FWP had offered one legal ram license in hunting district 305. So far about 10 people have already applied online for the license. Those applicants, and others who might apply, will be offered the opportunity to apply elsewhere or be given a refund. Last year about 100 hunters applied for the district's license.

Barring another disease outbreak, or other unforeseen events, hunting district 305 would reopen to hunting when the population recovers, officials said. The 2015 hunting season in hunting district 305 would have run Sept. 5-14 for archery and Sept. 15-Oct. 31 for the general season.

The deadline to apply for moose, bighorn sheep, mountain goat and bison permits is May 1.

Letter to the Editor

A few days ago my wife and I went to Wal-Mart to get some of the necessities of life. After parking my pickup, we started to walk to the store building, at that moment I noticed a bus parked in the parking lot. Recognizing the bus I went over to the driver who I recognized from a year or so ago. Not remembering his name, he told us his name with a big smile upon his face, under a nice cowboy hat. We visited about the bus and the fact that it came from Beaverhead County, mainly Lima and Dillon twice a month for the benefit of people from that area. My wife and I went into the store and while getting what we needed, we saw Mr. Weeks shopping for his necessities or whatever.

I am so impressed by the fact that Beaverhead County provides this friendly service to their residents, I thought I would send a letter to let Beaverhead County know. I have spent a lot of time in Dillon and have a lot of friends and acquaintances in Beaverhead County.

Mr. Weeks impressed me as a great person to represent Beaverhead County.

Sincerely,

Carl & Patty Hafer

PRESS RELEASE

Lately, there have been several dog(s) attacks to various individuals while walking their own dog(s) on leashes within the City of Dillon brought to my attention. According to Dillon Municipal Code (DMC), vicious animals are defined at 6.04.010(1)(4) as "Any animal which bites, inflicts injury, assaults, or otherwise attacks a human being or domestic animal without provocation on public or private property;". Having people or animals attacked or assaulted is totally unacceptable by the City of Dillon. People enjoying our city have an expectation against being confronted by vicious dog(s).

To help stop these attacks, starting immediately, the City of Dillon will start issuing tickets to individuals that do not have their animals under restraint. According to DMC 6.04.010(1), "Restraint" means an animal controlled by a leash not longer than eight feet, an animal at 'heel' beside a competent person and obedient to that person's command, an animal within the passenger compartment of a parked vehicle with the permission of the owner, an animal within the bed of a parked vehicle controlled by a leash attached to the vehicle, or an animal within the property limits of the premises controlled by the owner or other person consenting thereto."

If you witness an attack in progress, please call 911 and remain on the scene until a Law Enforcement Officer arrives. If any person or persons witness an attack, please call the Dillon Police Department (phone number is 683-3701) and describe the situation that was witnessed. Unfortunately a law enforcement officer cannot be at every scene where a vicious dog attack is actually in progress, and addressing this problem requires citizen participation. As a dog owner myself, I realize it requires a commitment and responsibility to control them, which ordinarily includes leashes and fences. I urge citizens and visitors to Dillon to do likewise. One last point, while the City can only issue tickets, the owner of animals can also be held civilly liable for any damage, pain and suffering that the victim has received from your dog(s) attacking the victim or their animals.

REGION 3 CITIZENS' ADVISORY COMMITTEE TO MEET THURSDAY EVENING

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks' Region 3 Citizens' Advisory Committee (CAC) will meet to continue its work on a hunter ethics campaign this Thursday, Mar. 26 at the FWP Regional Office (1400 S. 19th Ave.) from 6 p.m. - 8:30 p.m.

The CAC provides input and guidance to the Department on many of the many natural resource and management issues addressed by FWP in southwest Montana. All meetings are open to the public.

The group intends to report on various subcommittee efforts: funding, messaging and delivery. After which, members hope to arrive at a number of decisions which will guide next steps.

In recent weeks, members of the group met with FWP Director Jeff Hagener and the Director of Montana's Outdoor Legacy Foundation to discuss the campaign and get early feedback. Several members of the CAC also presented at Saturday's volunteer hunter education workshop in Bozeman seeking support and asking for advice given the instructors' part in teaching hunter ethics.

For more information about the Region 3 Citizens' Advisory Committee, visit the FWP Web site at <http://fwp.mt.gov/regions/r3/cac/>.

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks ensures its meetings are fully accessible to persons with disabilities. To request special accommodations relative to a disability for this meeting, contact Andrea Jones at 406-994-6931.
