PATRIOT GUARD OFFER TRIBUTE

Saturday, May 23rd the Patriot Guard of Montana paid tribute to the law enforcement officers who have made the ultimate sacrifice for our country. They wanted to show our appreciation for all those who currently serve on the front lines in the battle against crime.

Many of you may not know that in 1962, President John F. Kennedy signed a proclamation that designated May 15th as "Peace Officer's Memorial Day" and the week in which that date falls as "Police Week".

Due to the weather the week before the parade was rescheduled. The local law enforcement that attended were city, county, detention officers, probation and parole.

Those unable to attend were FWP Wardens and Highway Patrol.

Is your property under Grandfather Policy?

By: MJ

According to zoning commission members stated at the May 21, 2015 zoning committee meeting it was the committee's intent to have the existing structures in the community have Grandfather Rights. As I have read the document I find nowhere that it talks about property having grandfather rights. It appears to me that when you make some changes you would then have to comply with zoning. Question: Does the zoning only apply to the area where structural changes are being made or the entire property?

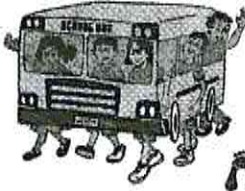

This document seems to have many problems. Instead of going full steam ahead to enforce a document that may or may not be defensible should the committee back up, take some time, and fix the document so it's productive for city and citizens of.

Grandfather policy: is a provision in which an old rule continues to apply to some existing situations, established structures while a new rule will apply to all future changes. Grandfather rights or acquired rights can be defined in many ways. Question: Of Grandfather Rights are not defined in the document then do the property owners have them?

Intent: the thing that you plan to do or achieve: an aim or purpose. Example: intent on finishing her sculpture in time for the group show. Question: If the word "intent" it is not clearly defined in the document then is it enforceable?

The Drop That's Missed

Written by Mike Rice

It's the passer by that stops, that assists, that has no reason to but then again has no reason not,
 It's the waitress, the bartender, the cashier that listens, lends an ear, free of charge, and it means a lot,

It's just that simple and simply put it's not as common as it should be, as it used to be, but it can change,
 It can be learned, be taught, be relied on and even written about in rhyme, the methods are vast in range,

The next time the stars and stripes play look at the elderly man and that statement running down his cheek,
 That reason he places his hand over his heart, is proud to do so, proud to still be standing, yes, take a peek,

It's that hand that is put out to assist, at all personal cost, whenever, wherever but you get what you ask for,
 Because that same hand will form a fist, fight back to the bone, stop at nothing to settle the score,

And that being said, take the high road, you will find those that travel that path always will, always have, again and again,
 Just place the early morning call, ask the favor to be there, I know those I ask will just answer with one word, when,

It's the reason you never question someone's morals before your own, never, make sure yours are in check,
 You might think someone is wrong for their habits, put them down, makes the hairs raise on the old man's neck,

That same old man, cloths worn and tattered, more than likely can buy and sell you, at the drop of a hat,
 He asks nothing of anyone yet helps everyone he can, in some way, day in day out, and that's where it's at,

Remember the family of four with everything materialistic does seem happy but they're "starving" behind the scene,
 The family of six in the three bedroom trailer sits down at the dinner table each night, thankful, see what I mean,

Next time you come up a block short of the gas station, the grocery bag gives way, the door is held,
 Make note of something in that situation, who walks by, who assists, and be sure to note who is compelled,

Take a close look at the hand itself, the one that is there, you may seem surprised but really you shouldn't be,
 It may be rough around the edges, callused and cracked, fact of the matter it is reaching out to you, and to me,

Those are the people that should be on the front page, making the headlines, but that is not their character,
 Maybe there is a headline in that, a lesson as well, grab the bull by the horns and be thankful, to the letter,

Maybe it's a good idea to live well, laugh often and love always like they say, and most of all learn from others,
 Those around me have taught me, teach me every day, I do my best to listen in great detail, and will forever,

So next time you look over your situation, half full, half empty, what counts in your "bucket", think about this,
 That tear that is running down the honorable man's face is probably your answer, it is that tear that is;

The Drop That's Missed.

Letter to the Editor

Welborn worked tirelessly for sportsmen

Representative Jeff Welborn is one of the biggest champions sportsmen have in the Montana Legislature. Jeff sat on the House Fish, Wildlife and Parks committee and carried the critical funding bill that FWP needs to manage wildlife, HB 140.

Jeff worked with other legislators, sportsmen and FWP crafting this needed legislation. They conducted a thorough review of all the existing licenses and recommended simplifying and streamlining licenses. In the end it meant an increase of only $8 per year to hunt and $3 to fish. As the price of just about everything is going up, that's not much of an increase for enjoying the incredible hunting and fishing in Montana. Sometimes we sportsmen forget that wildlife management doesn't just happen without sound management, and that requires adequate funding. Sportsmen should thank Representative Jeff Welborn for looking out for our wildlife

FWP TO OFFER NATURE JOURNALING WORKSHOP IN HELENA JUNE 14

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks' Becoming an Outdoors Woman Program (BOW) will offer a nature journaling workshop Sunday, June 14, at the Montana Wild Education Center in Helena, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

In this class, led by certified naturalist Linda Musick of Missoula and Cherrie Angel of Three Forks, participants will record their observations and experiences in nature. The class is open to all skill levels.

Preregistration is required, including a class fee of $15. Registration forms are available on the FWP website at fwp.mt.gov by clicking "Becoming an Outdoors Woman" under the Education tab. For more information, contact BOW event coordinator Sara Smith at (406) 444-9948.
