Rumor on the Street 6.19

By: MJ

Talk on the street has been about some unpleasant smells in the air around the newly developed waste water treatment plant. Odors are not visible however our nose is telling us that the air we are breathing might be hazardous to our health. Question: Would the type of air pollution that appears to be a product of the newly installed Waste Treatment Plant be affecting people who suffer with asthma and sinus problems thus causing them to increase their medications? Would this affect tourism? Tourism is important to the businesses in this area and the quality of air very possibly might have an effect on whether they will have a notable experience and want to return.

Taste and smell are the two senses that people do not want to be unpleasant. If you go to a restaurant and get bad tasting food you might not go back for more. The same thing is true about the smells in our surrounding world. Some might say it's good to have a stinking odor alerting us verses odorless.

After touring the Waste Water Plant I have a clearer picture of the problems that the city might be facing and the corrections that might have to be made in order to fix the problems.

Mayor Klakken and the employees are working diligently to pin point the origination and reason for the stench. Complaining on the street, at the coffee shops or relying on someone else (like another city employee) to tell the mayor about your concerns is not going to fix the problem. Personally let the Mayor know about your concerns by calling 683-4245, stopping by city hall or sending an email to mayor@dillonmt.org.

Red Hat Society News

The Red Hat Belles met at Papa T's on Friday, June 19th. 14 Red Hat Belles were able to attend with Diana Carroll bringing her niece, Hannah Hughes as a guest.

Door prizes were awarded to Glenda Olsen, Marion Williams and guest Hannah Hughes.

It was decided by all, that due to family visits, vacations etc., we would not have activities in July or August. We will resume in September with time and place to be announced. We wish to thank our co-hostesses, Elaenor Brush and Margie Nelson for a job well done! Of course, a big thank you to Papa T's for their delicious food and fine service.

DILLON CUBS PLAY

The Cubs Thursday game had them coming from behind to win 11-5 with the pitching of Jamey Richardson. Gabe Hupp came across home plate in the second inning, Richardson crossed in the third, and they took advantage of a few Mucker errors. R.J. Fitzgerald had two hits and led the offense for this game.

Kohltn Starkel took his turn on the mound for the tournament and the last game Gabe Hupp was the pitcher who did a great job. Dillon took a 7-1 lead in the second inning that helped their cause after a couple walks and errors they loaded the bases. The Cubs had many more opportunities and left a lot of runners on base, but Hupp, after allowing a walk, sent back 13 of the next 14 batters.

The Cubs ended the game against the Pioneers 7 to 2.
