Zoning Committee

By: MJ

Committee members present; Mr. Nye, Mooney, McIsaac, Graham, Schwandt, Mayor Klakken and City Attorney Dolan. July 20th minutes were read and approved with corrections.

James's Porch Enclosure: Committee studied 17.12.100-3A of the zoning document addressing porches and unanimously approved James's zoning compliance permit.

Dillon Bar & Comfort Inn Signs: Representative presented a detailed description of the sign that would be painted on the side of the Dillon Bar. Animated signs have been applied for by the Comfort Inn and Dillon Bar. Both have been rejected. Animated signs have been an argumentative topic because the zoning document does not clearly define what they are and the city has allowed McDonalds to put one up.

Barnett Ave Development was not discussed at the meeting. A procedure of how to move forward with the Barnett Ave zoning change (R3 to R2) was discussed. A date was set for a public hearing to be held by zoning committee. The laws require the council will also hold a public hearing before a decision is made to allow or reject.

Idaho Street: Procedure to follow a zoning change on Idaho Street was discussed, discussed & discussed. This has been an ongoing problem since 2013 and possibly earlier. The topic has come back on the table because it appears the old zoning committee nor the prior council held required public meetings in accordance with law in 2013. The current board determined that the best way to move forward was to hold the required hearings.

Public Input: There was several people in audience that argued the council should decide without holding public hearings. There were members in the audience strongly supporting the committee's decision. They felt public hearings was the only way people would have a say on an issue that would affect their private property.

Should there be a sunset on this? Question: In 2± years have people changed their minds, have property owners changed? The city has made substantial changes by the adoption of a new zoning map and a new zoning document that is the law of the city at this time. Fact: There are operational commercial businesses in the area. Question: Is there language in the zoning document that assures them protection of being able to continue business if the zone is changed

THANK YOU TO THE VOLUNTEERS

I would just like to say thank you to all the volunteers that spend unless hours going to these city meetings. There are a few that attend that are paid - but without a doubt not for all the hours it takes. The council members not only have the regular meetings but are on several committees that have been working on many issues at this time. To those that report - from the Dillon Tribune, Dillonite Daily or KDBM/KBEV what a thankless job you all have! (THANKS TO ALL!)

Letter to the Editor

In response to John Giere's letter to the editor this week in which I was mentioned, I respectfully submit the following:

Setting water and sewer rates is a complicated matter, and explaining them is even more difficult. The City's recent bond refinancing project was a complex process, and the resulting City proposal for new water/sewer rates is also complex. Based on my own calculations and estimates as City Treasurer, the bottom line is this: The City rate proposal will be lowering overall charges to customers by approximately $124,000 annually.

Why is it, then, that some customers will not see a reduction in their bill?

Bond charges will decrease by $440,000. Taken alone, these would lead to a water/sewer rate reduction. However, additional charges to cover replacement of pipes and pumps, and increases in water operating and sewer operating costs, will offset that reduction. The current rates, which were set in 2008, are insufficient to cover these costs. By my estimates, charges (rates) in the fiscal year ended June 2015 were $222,000 too low to cover expenditures.

For customers who use low volumes of water, the proposed rate structure will reward them with additional savings to the bond refinancing savings. Higher volume users will pay considerably more for their water and sewer, offsetting bond refinancing savings. Highest volume water users would see an increase in their total bill, and all bills will be relatively higher in the summer months due to high water usage at the increased rate.

The Mayor and City Council have built 100% of operating costs into the water and sewer rates, while totally eliminating the $2 water and $6 sewer fixed charges per connection. Eliminating the fixed charge requires an equivalent dollar increase in the rate per 1000 gallon charge to cover expenditures. In the Mayor's and Council's view, charging exclusively based on usage is the fairest way to charge all users, and the proposed rate structure encourages or rewards water conservation.

In Marie Giere's particular case, she calculated correctly when she stated that her July 2015 bill would be higher using the proposed rates ($5.14 higher by my calculation). That is because her monthly water usage was 37,000 gallons. However, she did not recalculate what her bill would have been over the past twelve months of usage. Had she done so, she would discover that she would actually save $ $59.74 using the proposed rates.

I encourage everyone interested, including Marie and John, to come to the public hearing on Wednesday August 19 to learn more about this topic and to hear full disclosure of the facts related to this issue. The Mayor, City Council, Water and Sewer Committee, and City personnel have been working on the City's collective behalf to understand and lower overall rates for more than a year, while improving the infrastructure and keeping costs down. I want to publicly thank them for their time and efforts.

MONTANA WESTERN FOOTBALL READY TO KICK-OFF THE 2015 SEASON

The University of Montana Western Bulldogs football team received nine votes to earn a #26 national ranking in the 2015 NAIA Football Coaches' Preseason Poll.

The recognition comes after a strong finish to the 2014 football season that saw Montana Western win its last four contests, including a 60-15 rout over MSU-Northern in the season finale. The Bulldogs finished with a 6-4 conference record and a #27 ranking in the final NAIA Football Coaches Poll of 2014.

Third-year head coach BJ Robertson, felt honored that the team was recognized by voters, although he understands that the votes come from the end of the 2014 season and Montana Western is ready for the 2015 season.

"We hope to ride that momentum into the 2015 season but this is Team 84 not Team 83. Team 84 wants to be ranked in the polls at the end of the season when it counts," said Coach Robertson.

This year's team will have a very different look to it after losing three Frontier Conference selections, offensive linemen Nick Brown and defensive end Phil Selin, who are both returning to the sideline as coaches in 2015, and All-American safety Jesse McCloud. The Bulldogs will also look to replace two-year starting quarterback Tyler Hulse.

Despite the losses of some very talented players, Montana Western returns four Frontier all-conference selections in 2015; second team selections Sam Rutherford a junior from Centerville, Mont. coming off the first 1,000 yard rushing season in Montana Western history, senior linebackers Joe Coker and AJ Wilson from Helena, Mont., and first team honoree, offensive linemen Will Thacker from Winnemucca, Nev., as well as a solid core of returning players.

Offensively the Bulldogs will be led by Co-captains Will Thacker and senior running back from Laurel, Mont. Dylan Kramer. Kramer has been a staple of the Bulldog football team for the past three seasons. He has compiled 2,880 career all-purpose yards and 12 total touchdowns during his career, which includes 908 yards of total offense and six touchdowns as a true freshman. The offense will also return their leading receiver from the 2014 campaign, junior Beau Brekke from Salmon, Idaho. Brekke compiled over 600 yards on 40 receptions and collected six touchdowns as a sophomore.

On defense, Montana Western will be led by Co-captains AJ Wilson and senior defensive back Dakota Pineda from Idaho Falls, Idaho. The entire linebacker crew returns from the 2014 season to join all-conference selections AJ Wilson and Joe Coker, including seniors TJ Benson from Libby, Mont. and Dakota Wainwright from Palmer, Alaska who led the Bulldogs with 78 and 72 tackles respectively. Benson returned his only interception for a touchdown.

There will be familiar faces on the field for the Montana Western special teams as both the starting punter, George Sherwood a sophomore from Kalispell, Mont., and kicker, junior Connor Greth from Minden, Nev., return for the 2015 season. Sherwood averaged 38.6 yards per punt in his 36 attempts in 2014 and had five punts of 50+ yards, including a long of 55 yards. Greth connected on 32 extra points and 10 field goals last season to score 62 points for the Bulldogs, he has a career long field goal of 47 yards.

Even with all of the returning talent, national recognition in the polls, and high expectations that the Bulldogs have set for themselves, they understand the rigors of playing in the Frontier Conference, which has three teams ranked inside the Top 15; #1 Southern Oregon, #4 Carroll College, and #15 Eastern Oregon University.

"Every week you have to be ready to give it your best. Nothing but your best will be good enough in this league," said Robertson, "the next step in our program is being consistent week in and week out. If we can do that we have a chance," he continued.

The challenge the Frontier Conference has to offer is one that Montana Western is ready to take head on behind the leadership of 22 seniors. Coach Robertson expects this large group of seniors to demonstrate the pride, hard work, and physicality it takes to be competitive every week in the Frontier Conference.

Montana Western will open its season on September 5th at Rocky Mountain College, kickoff will be at 1 p.m.

The home opener will be on September 12th again College of Idaho, kickoff will be at 1 p.m.
