MONTANA WESTERN COUNSELOR HONORED FOR DISTINGUISHED WORK

Long-time Montana Western counseling program director Lynn Weltzien recently received the Montana College Counseling Mike Franklin Memorial Award at the Montana College Counseling Association held in Helena, Mont.

"Lynn has clearly had a profound impact on the Montana Western campus, the Dillon community, and she has helped forge the positive direction and culture of the Montana College Counselors Association. No one was more deserving of the Mike Franklin Memorial Award than Lynn Weltzien," said Montana Western counselor and addiction specialist Jerry Girard.

The inaugural recipient of the award, Weltzien was recognized for her outstanding service to college mental health and suicide prevention.

Weltzien first arrived in Dillon in 1992 and shortly after, created the campus counseling program at Western Montana College, now the University of Montana Western.

In addition to developing the campus counseling program, Lynn has also been involved in health promotion on campus and designed much of the health promotion activities at UMW, until the hiring of a new wellness coordinator in 2012. Additionally, Lynn led the effort in Montana Western becoming a tobacco-free campus in 2011.

Weltzien was the first on the campus of Montana Western to create a staff-led peer education group that continues to educate peers about student health-related issues. Under Lynn's guidance, Montana Western peer leaders have designed health and wellness related programming for which they have won numerous awards and received national recognition.

In addition to Weltzien's campus accomplishments, she is a past member of the board of directors for the local Women's Resource Center. She is currently a member of the local Human Services Network and on the Beaverhead County Local Advisory Council on Mental Health.

New Regulations Impose Significant Restrictions on BLM Land Use

Montana Attorney General Tim Fox applauded an announcement that the U.S. Department of the Interior will not impose new federal regulations on sage grouse habitat under the Endangered Species Act, but expressed concerns over the concurrent approval of three land-use plans that impose significant restrictions on use of Bureau of Land Management lands in Montana.

"The Department of the Interior made the right call regarding sage grouse, but made the wrong decision in approving three proposed land-use plans impacting eastern Montana. These plans impose unnecessarily onerous restrictions on the diverse uses of public lands that Montanans benefit from and enjoy, including recreation, agriculture, grazing, and mineral development. Contrary to law, these plans fail to take Montana's interests into consideration."

- The three proposed land-use plans impacting Montana:
- Miles City Field Office Proposed Resource Management Plan
 - Billings and Pompeys Pillar National Monument Proposed Resource Management Plan
 - Hiline District Proposed Resource Management Plan

Bulldog volleyball excited for home opener
 The University of Montana Western volleyball team will play their first home game of the 2015 season on Thursday, September 24th at 7 p.m., as they take on the visiting (RV) University of Great Falls Argonauts (13-5, 0-1).
 The Bulldogs (4-8, 0-1) finally get to play at home after traveling more than 4,000 miles during the first month of the season. They traveled to La Grande, Ore., Lewiston, Idaho, Hastings, Neb. and Helena, Mont. to open the season.
 "The girls are so excited to play at home in front of our home fans," stated fifth-year head coach Lisa Griffiths, "the road has definitely tested us and prepared us for the competitive nature of the Frontier Conference, but we are going to make the most of our opportunity to play at home."
 Despite their record, the young Bulldogs competed with some of the top competition in the NAIA, including No. 4 Midland University (Neb.), No. 7 Eastern Oregon, No. 18 Concordia (Neb.) and No. 23 MidAmerica Nazarene (Kan.).
 The experience is great for a young squad who is preparing for the gauntlet that is the Frontier Conference, which currently has two top-25 squads and two others who are receiving significant votes in the national polls.
 Montana Western has eight underclassmen who have seen significant playing time this season, four freshmen and four sophomores, and a junior college transfer at setter. Despite the new players for the Bulldogs, juniors Bailey Wilson, Jami Flink and Brittany Erickson are making large impacts for the team, to go along with lone Bulldog senior Mikayla Ness.
 Freshman hitter Cady Siemion from Huntley, Mont. has been a force at the net, recording 88 kills and 2.15 kills/set to lead the Bulldogs. Siemion has also recorded 127 digs on the season, which ranks second on the team.
 Dylan Fowler, a freshman libero from Belgrade, Mont. leads the team's floor defense with 207 digs, 4.81 digs/set.
 Junior setter Callie Hanson, a transfer from Columbia Basin College, leads the Bulldogs with 397 assists and 10 service aces. Hanson, who also has 106 digs on the season has split time at the setter position with freshman Sierra Cahill from Trabuco Canyon, Calif. Cahill has added 275 assists and 63 digs.
 The front row has been steady, led by sophomores Joanna Avery and Tessa Miller. Avery has tallied seven solo blocks and 22 block assists to go with Miller's four solo blocks and team-high 29 block assists.
 Junior captain Bailey Wilson from Burley, Idaho has been an all-around player for the Bulldogs in 2015. In her third-year as a starter, Wilson has recorded 78 kills, 58 digs, one solo block and 14 block assists.
 Montana Western will look to get back on track after dropping three of their last four matches, including their conference opener against Carroll College last Friday. The Bulldogs split with Great Falls last season, each team winning on the others home court. For live video streaming of the game, visit <http://www.livestream.com/westernbulldogs>.

NEWS RELEASE

Wednesday, September 23, 2015

The Beaverhead County Sheriff's Office and Search and Rescue have been involved in an attempt to locate a missing hunter west of Wisdom, Montana. This search has been ongoing since Sunday, September 20, 2015 after the hunter was reported as missing on Saturday afternoon.

Robert Carter Jr. a 53 year old man from Kalispell was hunting alone in the Tie Creek and Johnson Creek area of the Beaverhead National Forrest about 5 miles north of Hwy 43 in the area of the Big Hole Battlefield. The last time that anyone had contact with Carter was Wednesday afternoon.

Search efforts are being concentrated in a 40 square mile area with heavy deadfall timber and elevations around 7700 ft. There are dog teams and ground search teams that have covered approximately 15 square miles of the target area. On Tuesday there were 75 individuals involved in the search effort. The weather has been clear with morning temperatures down to 28 degrees and afternoon temperatures in the mid 70's.

All efforts to find Carter are being utilized including air support, dog teams, ground teams of hikers, 4-wheel drive vehicles and horses. Extensive interviews have been accomplished with all hunters and campers in the area to establish a time line of activity for Carter.

If anyone has any information that could assist in locating Carter please call The Beaverhead County Sheriff's Office at (406) 683-3700.

HOMECOMING WEEKEND

The University of Montana Western kicks off its Homecoming weekend Friday, Sept. 25, 2015 with a social held at the Beaverhead Golf club from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. New members will be inducted into its athletic Hall of Fame on Saturday, Sept. 26.

Montana Western will induct Jason DesJarlais, Wally Feldt, West Hernandez, Bobbi Suhr Konen, and the 1991-92 Men's Rodeo Team during a ceremony at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 26 in the Lewis and Clark Room on the University of Montana Western campus. Inductees also will be introduced during halftime of that day's football game versus Carroll College.

Jason DesJarlais graduated from the University of Montana Western in 1995, known then as Western Montana College. While at UMW, Jason played football from 1992 to 1995, and was part of Conference Champion teams in '93 through '95. He was named Defensive MVP of the 1996 National All-Star Game and is a member of the 1994 Western Montana College Hall of Fame Team. After earning his bachelor's degree in physical education in 1995, he went on to receive his master's degree in kinesiology from Humboldt State University in 1999. Jason began his coaching career at Western Montana in 1996, serving as Defensive Line Coach. He went on to coach at Humboldt State University, University of San Diego, Jacksonville University, Yale University and has been a scout for the Jacksonville Jaguars since 2007. Jason and his wife, Dana, have two children, Makala and Tanner.

Wally Feldt earned a bachelor's degree in liberal studies from Western Montana College in 1973. Wally began what would become a long career in radio and sports writing in Laramie, Wyoming in 1975 and had stints in Las Vegas, Idaho Falls, and Boise. In 1998 Wally made it back to Dillon, Montana to work for KDBM as program, sports and music director, sales person and on-air personality. Wally returned as "Voice of the Bulldog" during his time at KDBM. Feldt began writing for Montana Western in 1990 as a sports information writer and added news and publication duties to his list of responsibilities and held that position until 2009. Wally has served as the director of media relations for the Frontier Conference since 1993 and currently holds that position today. He can also be heard announcing Bulldog football, volleyball and basketball games.

Bobbi Suhr Konen earned her bachelor's degree in business communications with an emphasis in computer technology in 2003. Bobbi played women's basketball at Montana Western from 1999-2003. During her time at UMW, Bobbi was part of a team that won three conference titles. Bobbi earned three conference MVP awards, a Second Team All-American and two Kodak All-American First Team awards. Additionally, she is Montana Western's women's all-time leading scorer, was "Athlete of the week" numerous times, and was featured in Sports

New Trail Options for Dillon

Beaverhead Trail Coalition completed a major effort to acquire new trail options for the Dillon area on September 21 with purchase of 475 acres on the foothills west of town.

"This concludes phase one of our effort to obtain High Country Trails open to public use," states Dr. Dan Downey, president of the trail coalition. "Our next phase includes pursuit of funding to acquire an additional 625 acres in the area," he continues. Involved trails will be open for hiking, horseback riding and mountain biking. In time, the land will be turned over to Beaverhead County to be held into perpetuity for public use.

The Beaverhead Trail Coalition was established in 2009 with the mission of encouraging walking and bicycling in a safe and appealing setting to encourage outdoor activities and related health benefits. The challenge of obtaining public access through various ownerships is a problem the coalition is trying to resolve, although funding is very limited. In this instance, help was received from private donors and Montana Fish and wildlife Conservation Trust.

"We're working with the county, city, landowners, service clubs and others with the objective of establishing a trail network surrounding town with spurs accessing schools, churches, motels and businesses," reports Joyce Connor, coalition secretary-treasurer. "The new acquisition adds the option of hiking through open country with great views of Dillon and the Beaverhead Valley," she adds.

Additional information on ongoing projects such as obtaining safe routes to schools, the "walking school bus", the bicycle recycle program, the Dillon Overlook Trail and other activities sponsored by Beaverhead Trail Coalition is available at beaverheadtrails.org.
