PERFORMING ARTS SERIES PRESENTS "GROWING UP IN WONDERLAND."

The Bank of Commerce Performing Arts Series continues its series with performances of the Montana Repertory Theatre's (Montana Rep) "Growing Up in Wonderland: Alice's Coming-of-Age Story" on Wednesday, Oct. 21, 2015 at 1 p.m and 7:30 p.m.

"Growing Up in Wonderland," inspired by Lewis Carroll's "Alice's Adventures in Wonderland," is a coming-of-age story played out by three actors who introduce the audience to high school freshman Alice, her friend and math tutor Charlie Rabbit (the White Rabbit), and the not-so-nice but ever smiling senior Kat (the Cheshire Cat), just to name a few, as they wind their way through the hallways of high school life on the way to growing up.

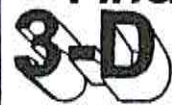

"Hopefully, watching "Growing Up in Wonderland" will make all of us feel young, no matter how long ago we accepted the responsibilities of growing up. May each day be an adventure that never ends, full of unexpected doorways, and magical lessons," said Montana Rep director Rosie Ayers.

Montana Rep delivers a theatrical experience in its entirety, bringing with it everything from lighting to sound design. Completely self-contained, Montana Rep offers presenters large and small—in facilities ranging from new performing arts centers to high school gyms—the opportunity to enjoy first-class theatre.

"Growing Up in Wonderland" and three other upcoming productions are a part of The Bank of Commerce Performing Arts Series during the 2015-16 season.

Season tickets for all four productions are available for

SUCCESSFUL START TO GENERAL ANTELOPE SEASON IN SW MONTANA

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks Wildlife and Enforcement staff ran an antelope check station along I-15 near Kidd in southwest Montana over the weekend. Despite consistently strong winds, hunter success this first weekend of the year was at 61 percent, compared to 47 percent in 2014. A total of 126 antelope were checked at the station, up from 90 antelope checked last year.

Hunters also reported much higher instances of observing moose, mule deer, sage grouse and other wildlife. Biologists attribute the increase in mule deer and sage grouse sightings to two years of mild winters and productive growing seasons.

By: MJ

This construction project is part of the vision of the "Community Plan & Downtown Master Plan" that a small group of people have been working on. They have received grants for the project along with some funds from the city to complete the sidewalks on Bannack Street. The council voted to allow the money saved from the CTEP grant that was allocated for a sidewalk project on Railroad Ave down to the Bi-Centennial of $50,000± to be given to the Downtown group to complete the sidewalks on Bannack Street.

The draft vision statement of the Downtown Group quotes goals to: maintain small town atmosphere, a town friendly & safe for families, the best town in the U.S., a destination place, walkable, livable, clean and attractive, vibrant landscaping, a town to be proud of, encouraging planned growth in the City, preserve and promote land uses which are compatible with the community, promote sustainable and diversified economy that provides jobs without compromising the community's quality of life, expand the economy of Dillon...

Grants: It's always wonderful to receive a windfall in the form of a government grant. However with government money comes rules and regulations that must be followed. On Bannack Street there were to be (3) trees planted and it appears that is no longer in the plan. Question: The city gave money to the project that they received from a CTEP grant. Was the city a part of this change order?

Following the laws is very difficult and takes a great deal of time. The government moves at a snail's pace and is often exasperating.

Destination place: This is a phrase used in many plans where future goals for the community are outlined. What is a destination place? According to the dictionary it's a place where a person would make plans to come to for a reason? What makes Dillon a destination point today and what will make it that place in the future?

SOUP & ROLL FOR THE SOUL

Soup and roll for the soul starts October 20th. It is every Tuesday from 11:30 - 1:00 pm at Grace United Methodist church (corner of Bannack & Washington). Come enjoy lunch and fellowship.

Life's Too Serious

By: Joe Barnhart

NEWS FLASH: Japanese researchers discover "diet-glasses!"
Island nation sinks under piles of uneaten sushi.

Japanese researchers, who graduated at the bottom of their class, are experimenting with food bloating spectacles that make rodent hairs in corn dogs visible. The revolutionary glasses snap the food's picture and then replay an increased image. In a recent cookies eating contest, glasses wearing participants reportedly ate 9.3 % less than those who showed up naked. According to Michitaka Hirose, a parking attendant, this conclusively proves nude people tip better.

It's really none of my business but do you think you're fat? I'm guessing you do because humans, and some lawyers, are constantly obsessed with eating and then feeling guilty about it. Surprised? Try this experiment. Sequester a randomly selected group of adults in a locked room. Wait for approximately 6 - 24 hours then open the door. If my gut instinct serves me correctly, the first thing out of their mouths will be, "Waiter, the dessert cart. And be smart about it!"

But if we (i.e. you and your friends) are serious about weight loss, why stop with bozo glasses? Try these calorie defying techniques I thought up just five minutes ago:

Banana slugs: Served as a garnish, you'll wonder why you even set the table.

Sand: Pound for pound, this miracle food additive is excellent for controlling hunger. Plus, it contains earthy minerals like rust and uncut diamonds yet, Zero calories! So, liberally sprinkle it on everything from oatmeal to meatloaf. Remember, a bag of traction sand is only a fraction of the cost of a trip to Vienna and will stop an out-of-control appetite like male cockroaches at a bridal shower.

Stomach flu: The stomach flu drops pounds like no tomorrow. So where is the most germ-harboring place on earth? Correct -- an elementary school. Simply loiter around the entry, breathing deeply. A good case of the "puke" is guaranteed to make holding food down harder than balancing the national debt. A debilitating hangover will also suffice, but you often don't recognize the bed you're lying in.

Celery: After God made celery he said, "Oops." Laboratory rats starve on the stuff as do third graders. Warning: Experiment at your own risk.

Colonoscopy: Scoping the ol' colon requires a little housekeeping. But, while colon cleansing products are better than Drano, you don't need a colonoscopy to benefit from their obesity relieving powers. Go ahead; eat that 24oz sirloin steak. You'll have a secret weapon ready to flush you out with Hoover Dam hydraulic power.

These simple, yet effective weight loss techniques are crowd pleasers. Note: Before embarking on any rigorous dietary regiment, be sure to check your pulse, tire pressure, cell phone charge, expiration date and visit with your physician. And for heavens sake, a few rodent hairs aren't going to kill you.
