Barrett Hospital Observes "Get Smart About Antibiotics Week"

Get Smart About Antibiotics Week is an annual one-week observance sponsored by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) designed to raise awareness of antibiotic resistance and the importance of appropriate antibiotic prescribing and use.

According to the CDC, each year in the United States, at least 2 million people become infected with bacteria that are resistant to antibiotics and at least 23,000 people die as a direct result of these infections. Many more people die from other conditions that were complicated by an antibiotic-resistant infection.

The observance is a key component of CDC's efforts to improve antibiotic stewardship in communities, in healthcare facilities, and on the farm in collaboration with state-based programs, nonprofit partners, and for-profit partners. The one-week observance raises awareness of the threat of antibiotic resistance and the importance of appropriate antibiotic prescribing and use.

The CDC has multiple resources available in support of Get Smart About Antibiotics Week. For more information, visit http://www.cdc.gov/getsmart/.

DALE ROYER'S ROAD TO THE OLYMPICS

Dale was on the road to his goal of reaching the Olympics in June he went to Colorado springs for the US National Championship. He competed in the Junior and Open Class divisions. He won the junior National Title and placed 3rd in the mens division, edging out the reigning World Champion Sgt. Josh Richman. He shot a 282 out of 300 and Josh had a 279.

He went on to Lonato, Italy for the 2015 World Championship were he didn't shoot well. He said he was greatly disappointed when his gun broke and he finished in 22nd place.

The US Junior team finished in 4th place however. That team is made up of Hank Garvey, Jessie Lewis and Dale Royer.

The Olympic selection match in Tuscan, Arizona finished with Dale in 5th place for the Olympic Team. The next Olympic selection match will be in Tiller, Arkansas in May of 2016.

There is a fund raising effort going for Dale at this time to help pay for expenses to that Olympic Selection match next May. The raffle is for a Hand Made Saddle by CCI sponsored by Atomic-79 and is on display there.

The tickets would make a great stocking gift and are available from Atomic-79, Dale Royer 406-660-2551 and Womack's Printing. The saddle has a $3,800 value. The Drawing is New Years Eve so hurry in or call and get yours to help this great shooter on his road to the Olympics.

Board of Adjustment (Variance Board)

By: MJ

The Comfort Inn and Fair Bridge Inn applied to the Zoning Committee for a permit to install an electronic sign. The Zoning Board denied the permits on the grounds they did not meet the requirements of the zoning document. They referred them to the Board of Adjustments.

The cost of applying for a variance permit is $300.00 plus cost of mailing registered letters and possible public hearing. These funds are collected by the city and paid by businesses.

NOTE: The areas where the businesses are located (north interchange), is an unzoned area.

Question: Why were the businesses required to go before the zoning board? Why did the majority of the zoning board rule on a request in an unzoned area? Appears that this was out of the Zoning Boards power.

Question: Was the money paid by the businesses, $300.00± refunded?

The zoning document is the law of the land for Dillon and is very specific throughout. It seems that the architects of the document wanted very little if any wiggle room. Is this document opening the city up for legal battles? There is always two sides to every coin. No wiggle room might be the solution and it also might stop growth within the city limits.

Nominations Sought for Montana Outdoor Hall of Fame

A group of Montana state agencies and conservation organizations is seeking nominations for the second round of inductees to the Montana Outdoor Hall of Fame.

The MOHOF honors individuals who have contributed to the restoration and conservation of Montana's fish, wildlife, and other outdoor amenities.

"Montana's Outdoor Hall of Fame recognizes Montana's historical and contemporary conservation leaders," said Montana Governor Steve Bullock. "We need to capture and share the important stories of the men and women who've championed Montana's outdoor heritage."

Nominees can include people from all walks of life who reflect Montana's diverse tradition of resource conservation and stewardship.

Participants in the effort include Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks, the Montana Historical Society, Montana's Outdoor Legacy Foundation, the Montana Wildlife Federation, the Montana Wilderness Association, Montana Trout Unlimited, the Confederated Salish and Kootenai Tribes, and the Cinnabar Foundation.

The inaugural MOHOF class was formally inducted last year and included: Granville Stuart, Theodore Roosevelt, Charlie M. Russell, Lee Metcalf, Don Aldrich, Bud Moore, Thurman Trosper, Doris Milner, Cecil Garland, Gerry Jennings, Ron Marcoux, and Chris Marchion. MOHOF inductees are archived at the Montana Historical Society in Helena.

The deadline for nominations is Dec.31. For more information and a nominee application (pdf) form visit the Montana Outdoor Legacy Foundation website at www.mtoutdoorlegacy.org. Click "Projects," then click "Montana Outdoor Hall of Fame."
