UMW NATURAL HORSEMANSHIP STUDENTS PUBLISHED IN NATIONAL MAGAZINE

University of Montana Western natural horsemanship students WesleyAnn Johnson and Kelly Wieman were recently published in Cowgirl magazine.

The January/February edition of the national publication includes the students' article, "Mustang Misconceptions."

Johnson wrote the article which includes Wieman's photography as part of a class assignment in which students spent several days in the Pryor Mountains studying wild mustangs.

"The Experience One (X1) program gave us an in-depth understanding of our field study," Johnson said. "The experience was eye-opening and our article assignment gave me the perfect avenue to share what I had learned."

Montana Western is the nation's only four-year higher education institution offering X1 were students take a single class at a time and truly experience their education through real-world, hands-on learning.

Johnson said the article details the surprising misconceptions people have about mustang behaviors and their physical condition.

"Working with the magazine was a wonderful experience," Johnson said. "I received valuable pointers and critiques from my teachers and classmates which helped get my work published. The whole process taught me the stages necessary to turn an idea into a finished professional-level product."

"I was honored when WesleyAnn asked to use my photos and was surprised when it was published," Wieman said. "Montana Western has provided me with meaningful opportunities to strengthen my skills."

Tick Tock

I'm writing this in a state of shock,
Watching the clock—tick tock, tick tock,
Advancing, approaching, relentlessly,
A brand new year; Oh, can it be?

The calendar says the same thing, too;
Time races, vanishes for me; Boo hoo!
No, wait! If time flies, I'm having fun!
A year of fun! It's gone! It's done!

I now embrace the blur of time,
Because it simply means that I'm
Too busy with pleasure, joy, delight
To mourn the passing days' swift flight.

So I'm wishing you fast, happy days,
Pleasuring you in myriad ways,
Filled with happiness and cheer,
Oh Happy, Happy Bright New Year!

Bulldogs knock off No. 19 Dickinson State

The University of Montana Western women's basketball team responded to end their six-game losing streak in a big way with an 82-61 defeat of the NAIA DII No. 19 Dickinson State Bluehawks. (Box Score)

The Bulldogs (10-4, 0-3) dropped two exhibition games against NCAA DI opponent Montana State and NCAA DII foe Montana State University Billings that do not hurt their overall record.

After starting the season a perfect 9-0 the young 'Dawgs found themselves reeling as they dropped three consecutive games to NAIA DI top-10 opponents before squaring off in their two NCAA exhibition matchups.

Coming off a 14-day lay-off the Bulldogs were able to reenergize and refocus as they knocked off their former Frontier Conference foe behind the hot-shooting from 3-point territory, led by junior Molly Klinker's 17 points on 6 of 13 shooting from the field and 5 for 10 from downtown.

As a whole, the 'Dawgs shot a blistering 44 percent (15-34) from beyond the arc for the game. Brandy Bookout and Dani Baker each chipped in by going 3 for 4, Aniese Palmore made two and Sierra Higheagle and McCall Hasquet each made one.

Bookout followed Klinker as she pumped in 15 points off the bench. Bookout finished 4 for 7 from the field and 4 for 6 from the charity stripe.

Palmore joined Bookout and Klinker in double figures as she scored 12 points, she also had a game-high five assists and two steals in 28 minutes of action.

Britt Cooper provided big minutes of the bench as well for the Bulldogs as she finished with eight points and a team-high six rebounds in 19 minutes of action.

Klinker and Hasquet each grabbed five rebounds for Montana Western.

Defensively the Bulldogs limited the Bluehawks (10-3) to just 34 percent (20-59) shooting from the field and 21 percent (6-28) from downtown.

The Bulldogs will return to action to take on Valley City State (N.D.) (8-5) in their second game at the Rocky Mountain College Holiday Inn Classic at 1:30 p.m. on Wednesday

Balanced attack pushes 'Dawgs past Thompson Rivers

The Bulldogs of Montana Western continue to build momentum heading into the New Year as ran past Thompson Rivers University 79-55 on Tuesday night inside the Fortin Center in Billings, Mont. (Box Score)

Montana Western has now won 5 of their last 7 matchups with their only setbacks being to NAIA top-25 schools – No. 4 Arizona Christian and No. 16 Carroll College – both games the Bulldogs led in the final minutes.

Facing their second opponent from Canada this season, Montana Western scored early and often as they stretched their first half lead to as many as 23 points in route to a 39-20 halftime margin.

Montana Western was paced by a trio of scorers to reach double-figures – Shyke Smalls (12), Dexter Williams, Jr. (11) and Demitrius Balark (10) – as five other players pitched in to score seven or more points. Connor Woodill, Quinn Smith and Ryan McCarty each scored eight points as Kooper Kidgell and Kurtis Parsons scored seven apiece.

As a team the Bulldogs shot nearly 50 percent from the floor (49.2) as they finished 29 of 59 from the floor and knocked down 17 of 23 shots from the charity stripe.

A stifling defensive effort limited the Wolfpack (13-2) to a season-low 55 points on just 28 percent (17-59) shooting from the field and 23 percent (7-30) from behind the arc.

The Bulldogs also dominated the rebounding effort as they outrebounded their opponents 48-34 in the game.

The biggest difference in the game was points in the paint – Montana Western outscored Thompson Rivers 34-12 from inside the key.

Luke Morris led the way for the Wolfpack as he scored 22 points and connected on 4 of 6 3-point attempts in the game.

The Bulldogs will return to action at 3:30 p.m. on Wednesday against Dickinson State for their second game of the Rocky Mountain College Holiday Inn Classic.

The Top Stories of 2016: You Saw Them Here First

Tyrades! By Danny Tyree

This is not the year-end column I had intended to write.

But over supper at McDonald's, my son Gideon (my favorite 7th-grader) lamented that I write too many serious columns (like my Veterans Day and Christmas essays) and insisted I should concentrate on more tongue-in-cheek romps.

To keep peace in the family, I dusted off my crystal ball, made some extrapolations based on the trends of 2015 and cobbled together a batch of not-completely-unlikely prognostications for 2016. The headlines:

1. Miss Universe Pageant host Steve Harvey is also hired to announce winner of 2016 presidential campaign; viewers unsurprised when "Dewey defeats Truman" is the result.

2. Pope Francis continues his progressive reforms of the Catholic Church, with innovations such as Nerf rulers for Catholics school nuns, fill-in-the-blank Mad Libs confessional forms, FitBits geared for playing bingo and drone delivery of communion wafers; Saint Peter allegedly riled by the pontiff's publication of "10 Coolest Afterlife Hacks."

3. Queen Elizabeth II, the longest-reigning British monarch, explores the possibilities of uploading her consciousness to an immortal robotic body; Prince Charles explores the possibilities of having the British Navy conquer a country just for him.

4. Anthropologists in Gobi Desert discover a single temporary crown for a bicuspid and announce yet another cousin species to Homo sapiens; grant application promises, "Let us find a premolar to go with it, and we can tell you who brought tater salad to the family reunion."

5. U.S. officials continue to do thorough job of vetting refugees; one official overheard saying, "Wait! You mean that guy from last week has a conjoined twin? Son of a gun! He didn't mention that!"

6. A college president is forced from office for continuing to allow graduates to toss caps into air after receiving diplomas; this insidious form of hate speech OBVIOUSLY makes light of the GRAVITY of the situation facing African-American students.

7. President Obama responds to Donald Trump's plan to spy on mosques by spying on Pentecostal churches; undercover agent declares, "I have had it with these %$#@ snakes in these %$#@ worship services!"

8. Bans on indoor tanning for teenagers lead to Orange Lives Matter movement.

9. Hipster retro trend gets another boost as North Korean dictator Kim Jong-un switches all his torture recordings to vinyl; streaming media replaced with streaming bayonet wounds.

10. Defiant China constructs another mysterious artificial island; construction supervisor would love to attend grand opening, but his mommy won't let him stay up that late.

11. Rather than moving headquarters overseas, major corporation cuts tax bill by undergoing gender reassignment therapy; declares it makes only 77 cents on the dollar compared to rival companies.

12. Rhinos edge nearer to becoming extinct; losers spending a fortune on rhino horn-based aphrodisiacs edge nearer to getting an actual phone number from an actual girl.

13. Fast-food restaurants go beyond using free-range animals by placing consciousness of chickens and cattle in robotic bodies; trouble ensues as a Rhode Island Red addresses Parliament.

14. Another Secret Service scandal erupts; intoxicated agent drives car into Potomac River while rushing to protect President Dewey.

Yes, most of these scenarios could actually come to pass. Unfortunately, the most predictable headline of 2016 is "Body camera video shows officer telling Danny Tyree, 'Just put the barely used journalism degree on the ground and nobody gets hurt.'" Sigh

What Are The Chances For Peace in 2016?

By Ron Paul

Each year more than one trillion dollars goes up in smoke. More accurately, it is stolen from the middle and working classes and shipped off to the one percent. I am talking about the massive yearly bill to maintain the U.S. empire. Washington's warmongers have sold the lie that the military budget has been gutted under President Obama, but even when the "Sequester" was in effect military spending continued to increase. Only the pace of increase was reduced, not actual spending.

None of this trillion dollars taken from us is spent to keep us safe, despite what politicians say. In fact, this great rip-off actually makes us less safe and more vulnerable to a terrorist attack thanks to resentment overseas at our interventions and to the blowback it produces.

The money is spent to maintain existing conflicts and to create new areas of conflict overseas that in turn feeds the demands for more military spending. It is an endless cycle of theft and deceit.

Billions were spent not long ago overthrowing an elected government in Ukraine and provoking Russia. A new Cold War is a bonanza for the military industrial complex, the pro-war think tanks, and the politicians. NATO is on the move in eastern Europe, placing heavy weapons right on Russia's border and then blaming the Russians when they complain about the rising militarism. NATO military exercises on Russia's border have increased and become more confrontational.

In the Middle East, more billions have been spent attempting to overthrow the secular government of Syria over the past five years. The big winners in this grand scheme have been the Islamist extremists, who are funded directly and indirectly by the U.S. and its allies. NATO is planning to go back into Libya, an admission that its 2011 "liberation" of that country has been a disaster.

In Asia, the U.S. empire challenges and provokes China, sending military ships and aircraft into territory China claims in the South China Sea. How much will they continue to escalate before China gets fed up?

The more money sent to the Pentagon and other parts of the Washington war apparatus, the more danger we are in.

Meanwhile, almost all of the presidential candidates promise more military spending and more war if they are elected. Did no one tell them we are broke and making enemies fast with our interventions? Do they think Fed-created money will really continue to fuel the US empire indefinitely?

What are the prospects for a u-turn toward peace and prosperity in 2016? We must be realistic. Presently the numbers are not on our side. But the good news is we do not need a majority to succeed in our fight for peace and liberty. We need only a dedicated and uncompromising critical mass to make great headway.

What can we do to work for peace in 2016? First we must tune out the lying propaganda served up by the U.S. mainstream media. We must educate ourselves so that we can help educate others. We can be sure to tune in and support alternative sources of news and analysis like the Ron Paul Liberty Report, LewRockwell.com, Antiwar.com, and many others. We can tell others about the wealth of truth available to those who seek and question. We must not compromise and never accept the lesser of two evils.

If the people demand peace, the politicians will follow. Let's demand peace in 2016!
