'Dawgs take down Rocky in a Frontier Conference battle

The Montana Western men's basketball team defended their home court during a two-game home stand this week, but they certainly made it interesting. After knocking off No. 12 Carroll College in double overtime last night, the Bulldogs (12-7, 5-2 Frontier) needed every minute to put away the Rocky Mountain College Battlin' Bears (11-6, 2-3) - 78 to 74.

For the second straight game, the home team faced a double-digit deficit early in the game as they struggled to take care of the ball and defend the three-point line.

Rocky jumped out to a 16-4 lead with 13:39 in the first half, behind the four made long-range bombs, including three from Rob Nyby who finished with a game-high 19 points.

After facing a deep hole for most of the game last night, including trailing by 11 points with 4:03 to play, the Bulldogs were determined to get themselves back into the game before halftime.

The trigger man in tonight's comeback was senior Ryan McCarty, who hit all five of his three-point attempts in a span of eight minutes in the first half to cut the Battlin' Bears lead to just four, 24-20 at the 7:37 mark.

McCarty scored 15 of his team-high 17 points in the first half and finished 5 for 7 from the field, all from downtown and 2 for 4 from the charity stripe.

A back-and-forth battle the final seven minutes of the half led to a 35-all score heading into intermission.

The second half lived up to a stereotypical Frontier Conference slugfest as the teams were tied five times and traded leads nine times. No team led by more than seven points in the second period.

Montana Western was able to maintain its hot-shooting following an ice-cold start the game and finished 49 percent (24-49) from the floor, including 10-22 from three. Whereas the Bears struggled to make shots inside the three-point line where they connected on 14 of 30 attempts (47 percent) and only made 13 out of 38 shots from inside the arc.

The Bulldogs stuck to their game plan and tried to get the ball inside of the Rocky 2-3 zone defense where they either converted on an easy two-points or got fouled and shot free throws. Montana Western converted on 20 of its 30 free throw attempts compared to just 6 out of 9 for Rocky.

With the amount of missed shots and long-rebounds coming on the defensive end for the 'Dawgs, they were able to control the glass - 44 to 35 - and limit Rocky's second shot opportunities.

Each team had a balanced offensive attack as seven players reached double-figures in the scoring column, three from Rocky and four from Western.

McCarty was joined by Shyke Smalls (16), Dexter Williams, Jr. (11) and Demetrius Balark (10) in double-digits. Quinn Smith (7), Ryan Sullivan (6), Connor Woodill (5), Troy Scott (4) and Kooper Kidgell (2) rounded out the scoring for the Bulldogs.

Kidgell also dished out a team-high five assists in the game, with all of them coming in the first half during McCarty's three-point exhibition.

Balark led the charge on the glass by bringing in a team-high seven rebounds, Smalls, Williams, Jr. and Woodill all grabbed six to join in the team effort.

After scoring a career-high 21 points last night, freshman Troy Scott cooled off to score four points in his first career start for the Bulldogs. Scott also had four assists, three rebounds and a steal in the game.

Montana Western has now won nine of its last 12 games, including seven of the previous nine, to put themselves in sole-possession of third place in the Frontier Conference standings. Carroll College and Lewis-Clark State both sit at 5-1 in conference to be tied for first place.

The 'Dawgs will return to action next Friday and Saturday as they travel to Great Falls and MSU-Northern for a two-game road trip.

The University of Montana Western women's basketball team struggled to find the bottom of the basket as they shot just 31 percent (21-67) from the field and only attempted two free throws as they dropped their third consecutive conference game to Rocky Mountain College 63-48.

The two teams had the same number of made baskets, 21, but the Bears advantage game from the free throw line and the battle of the boards.

Rocky finished the game at 75 percent from the charity stripe by making 15 of their 20 attempts and dominated the glass as they corralled 53 rebounds to just 37 for Montana Western.

After missing 45 shot attempts, the Bulldogs could only muster eight offensive rebounds as the Bears grabbed 12 of their 37 misses, led by Tenika Capouch who grabbed a game-high 10 rebounds including five on the offensive end.

Rocky made the game difficult on the Bulldogs leading scorer Molly Klinker was held to just two points on 1-11 shooting from the floor, both are season lows.

Junior point guard Aniese Palmore did her best to keep the Bulldogs in the game as she finished with a game-high 22 points on a 50 percent (9-18) shooting effort, including four made 3-pointers. Palmore was the only Bulldog to reach double-figures.

McCall Hasquet followed Palmore with nine points in the game. Hasquet and Klinker each grabbed a team-high six rebounds in the game.

Montana Western will look to regroup when they return to action against Great Falls and MSU-Northern on the road next Friday and Saturday night.

Origin Of Meat Products

By: MJ

Congress repealed meat labeling law. Five U.S. senators from (3) three states, have let the leadership know that county-of-origin (COOL) meat labeling is not worth a trade war with Canada and Mexico. Canada and Mexico are the top U.S. trading partners, with U.S. exports of goods and services to those countries topping $2.34 trillion last year. Canada and Mexico are also the top trading partners for the three states represented by the five senators.

Currently meat product labels must include information on where the animal was bred, raised, and slaughtered. Canada and Mexico have challenged the law and filed complaints with the World Trade Organization (WTO) to remove the labeling as a violation of trade agreements. The WTO approved the complaints on the grounds that the United States labeling policy discriminates against meat products from border countries. One of the industries that aggressively supported the repeal is meatpackers who buy Mexican cattle.

Question: Why is the purchaser of meat products (you & me) not able to have a choice or say on what they are buying or what they eat? Is this freedom? I am one of those people who want to have a choice when I spend my money. I don't think it is fair for big corporations and other countries to enhance their coffers and possibly endangering the health of humans by being underhanded.

Did you know that chemicals used in the cardboard box your pizza is delivered in has been banned by FDA because of endangerment to human's health? These chemicals are also used in the bags of microwave popcorn and wax paper products.

Contact your representatives if you have concerns about labeling.
