Thanks: Many accolades go out to the staff of the local city government for the easy to use web site. The staff maintains the site with current and updated information. City Polices, Ordinances, Financial information, Planning, Zoning, Council representative information and much more with just a click. If you have used many government sights you will truly enjoy this one. If you have a computer there is no reason not to know what is happening at your local government.

Water Bills: Just above Phillips picture there is a blue line you can click on and it will take you to a screen where you can pay your water bill.

Reward Increased In An Effort To Apprehend Those Responsible For Illegal Fish Introductions

Spurred by the discovery of walleye in Swan Lake, the Fishing Outfitters Association of Montana (FOAM) has pledged an additional $5,000 reward for information leading to the successful prosecution of persons illegally introducing fish in any Montana waters. In a statement on behalf of FOAM, Executive Director Robin Cunningham said, "We join with other conservation groups who have pledged cash rewards in order to prevent degradation of our famous fisheries".

According to Cunningham, FOAM has a simple goal. "We seek a reasonable opportunity to provide quality services on a healthy resource". Our pledge is meant to preserve that healthy resource and the quality fishing it provides our members when they host our state's visiting anglers, when they fish on their own, with friends, or with their families.

"We depend on these fisheries, particularly the blue-ribbon trout waters we guide on daily", Cunningham said. "So, it is important to stop illegal introductions that threaten this precious resource. We hope this additional contribution from FOAM will eventually discourage further illegal fish transplants while inspiring others to join in the fight".

FOAM'S latest contribution brings the total reward offered for information leading to the successful prosecution of a person illegally introducing fish into any Montana water to up to $19,250. Other groups contributing include the Invasive Species Action Network, Montana BASS Nation, Montana Pikemasters, Montana Trout Unlimited, The Montana Wildlife Federation, Walleyes Forever of Montana and Walleyes Unlimited. The contributions supplement the cash reward of up to $1,000 made available by FWP's 1-800-TIP-MONT violation report line.

Montana Trout Unlimited (MTU) has offered an additional reward of $10,000 for the successful prosecution of the individual(s) that illegally introduced walleye into Swan Lake and Noxon Rapids Reservoir, or smallmouth bass into Seeley Lake. MTU can be reached at 406-543-0054.

The discovery of Walleye in Swan Lake last October is the latest in over 600 illegal introductions that have been documented in Montana. FWP Director Hagener once again thanked all the groups that have stepped up to the plate to help address the issue of illegal introductions. Hagener also asked the public to join the effort by reporting any activity that suggests someone might be illegally dumping fish to the TIP-MONT hot line. "We have one of the most special fisheries resource on the continent and illegal introductions not only ruin the water where they occur but also in some instances expand to other waters as many of Montana's waters are connected", Hagener said.

Festival Tickets Available

Tickets are available for the inaugural Southwest Montana Wine and Craft Beer Festival on March 11, 2016 from 7 p.m to 10 p.m.

"The University of Montana Western Foundation is excited to bring this inaugural event to southwestern Montana. We have partnered with Summit Beverage and five local artists to create a wonderful evening for the community to enjoy," foundation director Roxanne Engellant said. "The festival will showcase wine, craft beer and our featured local artists for the benefit of our students, faculty and programs at Montana Western."

Scheduled in the Keltz Arena on the Montana Western campus, the festival will include 10 wine vendors, five craft beer vendors and hors d'oeuvres will also be served.

Local artists Cory Birkenbuel, Cody Mitchell, James Wigen, Charlotte Quist and Eric Hammer will have art on display.

Tickets are $40 for individuals and $70 for couples. Call 406-683-7306 for tickets and more information.

All proceeds benefit the Montana Western Foundation.

Beaverhead Watershed Committee Meeting
January 26th - Snowpack Info

Has the "Godzilla" El Niño been taking a bite out of our winter snowpack in southwest Montana? Come find out at the Beaverhead Watershed Committee meeting on Tuesday January 26th where we will hear from two experts from the NRCS Montana Snow Survey. They'll be presenting on current snowpack conditions, how this year's conditions compare to last year, and what the outlook is for the rest of the 2016 water year. They will also provide an update on their efforts to establish additional SNOTEL sites in Beaverhead County. The meeting will start at 6pm at the Dillon Search and Rescue building. Hope to see you there!

Attorney General Fox Appoints Stephen "Dick" Swingley as New State Fire Marshal

Attorney General Tim Fox announced his appointment of new State Fire Marshal, Stephen "Dick" Swingley, at a press conference this morning.

"Dick clearly understands what it means to serve others," said Attorney General Tim Fox. "For over four decades, he's protected Montana citizens from harm, first as a member of the Great Falls Fire Department for over 30 years, followed by his service to our agency as a Deputy State Fire Marshal for the past 15 years. Over the last several months, Dick has been the Acting State Fire Marshal, and many people have spoken highly of his good character and contributions to the fire service during that time. State Fire Marshal Swingley has my full confidence as he accepts this new role today."

A native of Great Falls, Swingley attended the University of Montana. He was a member of the Great Falls Fire Department for 30 years, and served for several years as the City Fire Marshal. Swingley has been a Deputy State Fire Marshal at the Montana Department of Justice for the past 15 years, and was the Acting State Fire Marshal since the retirement of former State Fire Marshal Allen Lorenz last May. Swingley currently serves on national fire code review and adoption boards and committees.

"I'm incredibly honored to be appointed as Montana's next State Fire Marshal," Swingley said. He added, "I look forward to continuing to work with the dedicated public servants at the Montana Department of Justice, and all those who work in fire service in communities across the state."

The State Fire Marshal leads the Fire Prevention and Investigations Section, which is part of the Division of Criminal Investigation at the Montana Department of Justice. This section is comprised of the State Fire Marshal, along with five Deputy State Fire Marshals, who provide statewide fire prevention and investigation services in areas of inspection of schools, day care centers, motels, hotels, and other public and state owned buildings. The State Fire Marshal and Deputy State Fire Marshals also conduct inspections of new building construction and assist with the adoption of fire safety regulations and codes. In addition, they work toward the establishment and promotion of fire prevention programs and the certification of local inspection programs.

The investigation of fires to determine cause and origin is another important part of the Fire Prevention and Investigations Section, as is maintaining records of all fires that occur in Montana.

An interview panel forwarded its recommendation of Swingley as its choice for State Fire Marshal to Attorney General Fox last week. By statute, this position is appointed by the Attorney General.

CLOSER LOOK AT LOVELY SPECKLES OF ICE

Have you ever taken a moment to admire a freshly fallen snowflake on your mitten or sleeve? Join us for an evening at the Dillon Public Library for a closer look at these lovely speckles of ice. Enjoy a cup of hot cocoa and a snowflake treat as we hunt for the different types of snowflakes around the library, listen to a story, and make snowflakes to stick on your windows at home!

Bring the whole family Friday, Jan. 22nd from 7-8 pm. If you are planning to attend, please call the Dillon Public Library at 683-4544, reply on Facebook, or let us know the next time you stop in. Walk-ins are welcome. All library programs are free to the public.
