Western women drop two conference games

The University of Montana Western women's basketball team took the road this weekend to take on (RV) Great Falls and No. 14 Montana State University – Northern. The Bulldogs were unable to snap their Frontier Conference losing streak as they fell to UGF by a score of 77-69 and MSU-N with a final of 54-52.

In the first contest of the road trip, the Bulldogs made a stop in Great Falls to play the Argonauts and looking to put an end to a three-game skid. The outcome was the same for Montana Western as they battled the entire game before free-throws at the end of the game sealed the deal for UGF.

The game saw ties 15 times and the lead traded 20 times in a back-and-forth Frontier Conference scrum. As the Bulldogs trailed by just 3 points with 1:31 remaining in the game, they were unable to find the bottom of the basket as UGF knocked down free throws – a perfect 7 out of 7 – in the final minutes.

Montana Western, who dropped to 11-9 overall and 1-7 in Frontier play with the loss, was led on offense by four Bulldogs to reach double-digits in the scoring column.

Molly Klinker paced the team with 18 points, followed by Aniese Palmore with 11 and Sierra Higheagle and McCall Hasquet with 10 in the game.

Palmore had a very balanced game as she grabbed a team-high seven rebounds and dished out a game-high five assists. Klinker, Kaye Bignell and Darby Schye all grabbed five rebounds as the Bulldogs won the battle of the boards – 40-39.

Despite shooting a higher percentage from the field, behind the three-point line and from the charity stripe, the Bulldogs could not overcome 14 turnovers to just five for UGF. The 14 turnovers led to 14 Argonaut points.

Nneka Nnadi and Erin Legel led the way for UGF as Nnadi finished with a game-high 22 points and also grabbed four rebounds and Legel added 17 points and finished with a game-high nine rebounds and dished out five assists.

Game two took place in Havreas the 'Dawgs took on the No. 14 Skylights – who has been ranked as high as No. 2 in the NAIA.

To start the game, Montana Western came out playing fierce defense and converting on the offensive end as they opened up a 17-4 lead and ended the first quarter with a 21-12 advantage after forcing nine first quarter turnovers.

The Bulldogs continued to lead as they were up 31-27 at the intermission with some strong defensive play that limited the Skylights to just a 39 percent shooting effort in the half.

MSU-N responded by outscoring the Bulldogs 13-8 in the third quarter to take a 40-39 lead into the final period of the game.

The fourth quarter was a back-and-forth battle with two ties and four lead changes with the visitors having the largest margin of six (50-44) with 5:13 remaining.

After trailing by six points, the Skylights would end the game on a 10-2 run, including a wild-shot from Natalee Faupel with just 2.1 seconds on the clock that proved to be the game-winner.

Montana Western forced Northern into 22 turnovers and grabbed 12 offensive rebounds but was unable to capitalize on the extra possessions as they shot just 35 percent (20-56) from the field, including 28 percent (4-14) from three-point territory.

The Bulldogs also struggled from the free-throw line as they converted on just 8 of 14 attempts, including two in the final minute of the game.

A balanced scoring effort was not enough to overcome 15 points from Faupel and Cydney Auzenne.

Auzenne connected on 5 of her 6 three-pointers to keep the Skylights in the game while they struggled to get going offensively. She also grabbed a game-high seven rebounds and came away with one steal and one block.

Faupel brought down six rebounds and Molly Kreycik assisted on 11 of Northern's 19 made field goals.

Kaye Bignell and Aniese Palmore finished with double-digits as they both scored 10 points to pace the Bulldogs. Palmore also had a team-high four assists in the game.

Molly Klinker, Bignell and Britt Cooper all brought down four rebounds to tie for the team lead in that category.

Senior Sierra Higheagle, who struggled to get going offensively – just seven points on a 3 for 12 shooting effort – finished with a game-high three steals.

With the set-back, Montana Western has now lost five consecutive Frontier Conference games and their record drops to 11-10 overall and 1-8 in the Frontier.

They will return home to take on Montana Tech and Lewis-Clark State College on Jan. 28 & 30 respectively, both games will start at 5:30 p.m.

Bulldogs earn split on Frontier road trip

Montana Western's men's basketball team left Dillon on Thursday with the hopes of returning with two conference victories to guarantee at least a share of second place in the Frontier Conference standings. Instead they will come back with an all too familiar road-split.

The Bulldogs snapped a two-game skid at Montana State University – Northern where they won for the first time since 2013, but their losing streak in Great Falls will remain until next year, they have not won at UGF since 2012.

Even more surprising is that Montana Western has not emerged victorious in both Great Falls and Havre in the same season in more than a decade, it is a trip that Head Coach Steve Keller has never swept.

On Friday night the Bulldogs took the floor against UGF to attempt to get the trip started on the right note, instead the game ended on a Darren Lockett buzzer-beating layup that concluded a double-digit comeback and earned a 70-69 victory for the Argonauts.

The Bulldogs led by as many as 11 points in the second half before UGF began to chip away at the lead, the Argos largest lead was just two points at the 17:27 mark of the first half.

With the game seemingly in hand, Montana Western struggled to close the game out from the charity stripe, where they finished 5 out of 10 over the final five minutes.

For the game, Western ended 18-29 from the free-throw line.

Offensively, the 'Dawgs were led by senior Connor Woodill who finished with a game-high 17 points after knocking down five three-pointers. Demitrius Balark (14), Dexter Williams, Jr. (13) and Shyke Smalls (12) all scored in double-figures to pace Montana Western.

Balark stuffed the stat-sheet in his 36 minutes of action as he added six rebounds, six assists and four steals to his 14-point performance.

Quinn Smith brought down a team-high seven rebounds to go with four points and Woodill came away with five rebounds and two steals.

Williams, Jr. finished with a game-high five steals and three rebounds.

Despite high rebounding numbers, UGF owned the glass as they came away with a 43 to 34 rebounding margin, including 16 offensive rebounds.

Lockett, the hero of the night ended the game with six points, seven rebounds, five assists and one steal.

Issac Howard (14), Gerald Watkins (11) and Sigman Farmer

III (10) all finished in double-figures for the Argos.

The loss dropped Montana Western to 12-8 overall and 5-3 in Frontier Conference play.

The second night of the road trip proved to be far less exciting than the night before as the Bulldogs led from start-to-finish against MSU-Northern and came away with a 73-65 victory.

The 'Dawgs led a majority of the second half by double-digits and stretched their lead to as many as 18 points following a Shyke Smalls lay-up with 16:09 remaining in the game.

A last-ditch effort and a barrage of three-pointers in the final minute was not enough to erase the hole the Lights had buried themselves in.

Demitrius Balark led the way with a season-high, team-high and game-high 24 points for the Bulldogs. Balark was extremely efficient as he finished 6 out of 8 from the floor, but converted on 12 of 14 free-throw attempts to reach his highest output as a Bulldog.

Balark also finished with a team-high four assists and four steals as he play all 40 minutes in the game.

Quinn Smith (14) and Shyke Smalls (13) also finished with double-digit scoring outputs to pace the Montana Western offensive attack.

Connor Woodill finished with seven points and a team-high six rebounds. He was followed by Williams, Jr. who grabbed five boards. Williams, Jr. finished with a season-low six points and failed to reach double-figures for just the third time this season.

Northern's Justin Dunsmore finished with a team-high 14 points after connecting on four three-pointers.

As a team, the Lights made 11 of 32 three-point attempts in the game. The second time in as many matchups against the Bulldogs they finished with double-digit makes from behind the arc, both resulted in losses.

The win moves Montana Western to 13-8 overall and 6-3 in Frontier. They sit just one game back of Carroll College (7-2) who fell to Frontier Conference front-runner Lewis-Clark state (7-1) on Saturday night.

The Bulldogs will return home to face Montana Tech and LC-State on Jan. 28 & 30, with tip-off scheduled for 7:30 p.m. both nights.
