Avalanche Danger in SW Montana Mountains

Ten people have died in avalanches across the Western U.S. in the past twelve days. A layer of weak sugary snow at the base of the snowpack exists across the mountainous areas around southwest Montana. Another layer of concern exists within the top foot or two of the snowpack. These persistent weak layers formed in November and late December, are now buried deep in the snowpack, and will likely remain a problem all winter.

Anytime a new load of snow falls on this fragile snowpack structure, the likelihood of avalanches increases. Snow, heavy at times, as well as strong winds are forecast for the southwest Montana mountains into the weekend.

Forest Service officials are advising recreationists to avoid travel on or below steep snow covered slopes. This advice does not apply to developed ski areas where avalanche hazard reduction work is performed.

Avoidance of avalanche terrain, between 30 and 45 degrees steepness, is the most effective way to safely recreate when snow stability is poor. Signs of recent avalanches, cracking, and/or collapsing of the snow, otherwise known as "wumpling", are clear warning signs that the snow is unstable. These signs may or may not be present right now as the current snowpack is variable and tricky. Trails and low-angle meadows without steep slopes above them are safer terrain choices at times of poor snow stability, as is avoidance of avalanche runout zones below steep slopes. Avoid exposing more than one person at a time to avalanche terrain. Always carry avalanche safety equipment including a beacon, shovel and probe and know how to use this gear.

Forest Service officials recommend that all wintertime backcountry travelers educate themselves through a variety of ways including reading, on-line resources, and taking an avalanche safety class. Please visit the Beaverhead-Deerlodge Facebook page for more information. More information on how to educate yourself, including local classes, is available online at:

pm. Eighth graders, please don't miss this very important evening.

Members of student council have been holding a "Little Debbie Bake Sale" with Little Debbie Treats and homemade treats for sale. All proceeds go to help Mrs. O'Neil during her recovery time. Our first bake sale was successful as they sold out of goodies and raised over $150. The next bake sale will be held the end of February.

Congratulations to our Top 10 Spelling Bee Finalists! After a fierce three rounds, the odds were in the favor of our 10 finalists who will go on to the Dillon Courthouse on February 10th. Congrats to: 8th graders: Lucy Wright, Esmae Weaver, Jolee Gillis, and Madison King; 7th graders: Chaidh Lockridge, Sam Jones, Chiara Mastandrea, and Megan Anciaux; and 6th graders: Keyetta Baker and William Webster.

We have our "Soup for the Soul" night coming up Wednesday, February 3rd, from 5:30-7:30 p.m. in the Parkview Cafeteria. The Beaverhead County High School FCCLA Program is sponsoring a soup night with all of the proceeds being donated to the local Dillon Backpack Program.

Approximately 1 in 7 Montanans struggle with hunger, including 46,000 children, and nearly 1 in 5 Montana children face food insecurity, unsure of where their next meal is coming from. Come down and purchase a handmade ceramic soup bowl and dinner! Bowls are made by local artists, and art students from both the high school and the middle school.

Girls' basketball traveled to Anaconda last Monday. Unfortunately, not one team was able to pull off a win. However, the 8A and 8B teams narrowly lost. The 7A team only lost by one point in the last few seconds. The B team played hard, and has improved a lot but still lost by a fair margin.

Girls' basketball played Butte East last Tuesday. 8A and 7B came up short, while the 8B team won and the 7A team beat Butte East by 4 points in double overtime. Great job ladies.

This week, girls' basketball will be busy. Today, Monday, February 1st, all four teams travel to Butte East. The bus leaves at 2:00 pm. 7B plays at 3:30, 7A at 4:30, 8B at 5:30, and 8A at 6:30. The B teams will travel to Deer Lodge tomorrow, Tuesday, February 2nd. The bus will leave at 2:15. 7B will play at 4:00 pm, followed by 8B at 5:00 pm.

Then on Thursday, February 4th, the teams will host Anaconda. 7th grade will play in the old gym beginning at 4:30, and in the new gym the 8th graders will play beginning at 4:30. On Saturday, the A teams will travel to a tournament in Anaconda. 7th grade will play at the Lincoln gym, and 8th grade will play at Moodry gym. Players should be bringing home information regarding the tournament and bus departure time.

Wrestling begins today, Monday, February 1st after school in the new gym. There will be a parent meeting tomorrow, Tuesday, February 2nd at 5:00 pm in the DMS gym. Pictures will be Friday, February 19th. Parents look for picture forms to come home with your student athlete.

No. 25 'Dawgs hammer Diggers

The University of Montana Western men's basketball team – ranked No. 25 in the NAIA Coaches Poll – extended their Frontier Conference regular season home winning streak to 15 games with an 80-47 pounding of their rival Orediggers from Montana Tech.

The Bulldogs (14-8, 7-3 Frontier) wasted no time in opening a big lead in a dominant defensive effort as they took a 37-12 lead into halftime.

They limited Montana Tech (6-15, 1-8) to just 5-30 (16 percent) from the field in before intermission, including 0-10 from behind the three-point line.

The onslaught continued in the second half as Montana Western started on a 15-0 run and stretched their lead to 40 points with a 52-12 advantage with 16:12 to go in the game.

With a majority of the Bulldog bench in the game, Tech capped off a 17-4 run and cut the deficit to 27 with 12:03 to play. It would be the closest they would get for the remainder of the game.

On route to matching their largest margin of victory this season – the also beat Northwest Indian College by 33 – Western dominated almost every facet of the game from start to finish. With Tech recording 12 offensive rebounds to the Bulldogs seven being the only statistical advantage on the evening.

Dexter Williams, Jr. paved the way as he finished with a game-high 19 points and eight rebounds, just narrowly missing out on his eight double-double of the season.

Williams scored in double-figures for the 19th time in 22 games this season, he also came away with a game-high three steals in a game the Bulldogs forced Tech into 23 turnovers.

Shyke Smalls was the only other Bulldog to reach double-figures with 11, as the home team had a balanced attack and had five other players score seven or more points – Ryan McCarty (9), Demetrius Balark (8), Connor Woodill (8), Kooper Kidgell (8) and Quinn Smith (7).

Smalls finished second on the team with four assists, as Woodill and Balark each grabbed two steals in the game.

Balark also had five rebounds, two assists and a monster slam-dunk that brought the crowd to their feet.

Montana Tech had three players find double-figures in the scoring column as Paul Engstrom (14), Jalen Coates (13) and Flemming Okeke (10) led the offensive attack.

With the win, Western has been victorious in 8 of their last 10 contests and 11 of 15.

Montana Western will face-off against No. 3 Lewis-Clark State College on Saturday at 7:30 p.m., the Bulldogs lost their first matchup with LC-State this season, 78-69.

Western women push past rival Montana Tech

A strong second quarter and a 46-37 halftime advantage propelled the University of Montana Western women's basketball team to an 80-63 victory over their Frontier Conference foe and rivals, the Montana Tech Orediggers for the second time this season.

Trailing 26-24 at the end of a back-and-forth first quarter the Bulldogs dialed up the defensive intensity and continued to knock down shots and outscored the Diggers 22-11 in the period.

"It took us about a quarter and a half to settle down and guard," stated Head Coach Lindsey Woolley, "their aggressiveness and speed was really bothering us early."

After failing to score 50 points in three games this season, the 'Dawgs almost reached that total by shooting 53 percent (18-34) in the first half, led by Molly Klinker and Sierra Higheagle who scored 12 points apiece on a 10 for 13 combined shooting effort.

The third quarter saw the Diggers cut the deficit by one point after a 15-14 quarter won by Montana Tech. Just as they did in the second quarter, the Bulldogs locked down on defense and erupted on offense by a tune of a 23-8 advantage.

Montana Western was paced by a trio of 'Dawgs to score in double-figures, led by the strong play of junior Molly Klinker who finished with a game-high 23 points on a 9 for 14 shooting performance, including 3-5 from behind the arc.

McCall Hasquet finished with 21 points and Higheagle finished with 15 after scoring 12 in the first half. Hasquet was an efficient 9-10 from the field and a perfect 3-3 from downtown.

A strong shooting effort propelled the Bulldogs to their first victory in six games, as they shot 49 percent (32-65) from the floor, including a blistering 55 percent (11-20) from three-point territory.

"Other than turnovers, we were very efficient offensively and I couldn't have been happier for McCall Hasquet, she defended, rebounded and was great on the offensive end," Woolley stated.

Despite a few defensive lapses, the Diggers were limited to just 38 percent (24-63) in the game and an abysmal 25 percent (14-31) in the second half and limited second shot opportunities as they dominated the battle of the boards - 49-34 - and only gave up nine offensive rebounds on 46 attempts.

Klinker finished with her fourth double-double of the season as she brought down a game-high 13 boards, she also came away with a game-high three steals.

A balanced effort across the board was key for the Bulldogs as five players recorded four-plus rebounds – Klinker (13), Callie Kanthack (6), Hasquet (5), Aniese Palmore (4) and Britt Cooper (4) – and three came away with three-plus assists – Palmore (7), Kanthack (4) and Cooper (3).

Cooper also finished with two blocked shots and one steal in 22 minutes of action of the bench.

Montana Tech was paced by Rachel Farris who finished with team-high 22 points and eight rebounds.

Butte High product Hattie Thatcher ended the game with 14 points, eight assists and four rebounds despite a poor shooting night where she was just 5-20 from the floor, including 1-5 from deep.

The third Digger to reach double-figures was their leading scorer, Sammy McGree, who was held under her season average with just 10 points.

With the win, Montana Western improved to 12-10 overall and 2-8 in Frontier Conference play as Tech fell to 5-15 and 1-8 on the season.

"There is no time to celebrate," Woolley continued, "it's time to get ready for a very good LC-State team."

Montana Western will stay home for a matchup with No. 13 Lewis-Clark State College at 5:30 p.m. on Saturday night.
