This is an annual event, the proceeds of which go entirely to the museum. Each year Lois gathers area musicians to bring the close harmonies and rhythms of "good old gospel music" to area audiences. Lois has invited her nephew, Bozeman musician, Brian Rogge, to join the show as a special offering this year. Tickets for the gospel show are on sale at the Beaverhead County Museum for $5 per person. Please call 683-5027 for information.

Letter to the Editor

As a resident who lives in town with my small children, I was unhappy to discover today the sudden removal of several stop signs in my busy residential neighborhood. Every day when I am outside, I see cars speeding up and down our street or the intersecting streets and worry about all of the children who live in our neighborhood. The stop signs and yield signs (when observed) help me feel a bit safer, in that they are slowing down some of the traffic.

Today, as I was driving down my street, I had a near collision with a car driven by someone who was apparently enjoying his newfound freedom of not having to stop at an intersection that was previously a 4-way stop. At the next intersection, I waited while the other driver on the intersecting street waited for me to go (as was appropriate before the sudden, unannounced change in traffic rules at this intersection).

When I tried to find out if the change was legitimate or a prank, I was told that a "traffic study" revealed there is no longer a need for such traffic control in these areas. I have a feeling the residents in the neighborhood - especially the small children who enjoy walking down the street to play on the playground at Mary Innes - might feel otherwise. If this study did reveal such a thing, I do feel it might have been helpful to notify residents of the change, or mark the intersection in some way so that drivers would not be left wondering. Hopefully it won't take anyone getting into an accident to realize the change is actually legitimate.

Council Meeting Feb 3rd

By: MJ

All council members were present with exception of Councilman McIsaac. City personnel present; Mr. Later, City Attorney Dolan, Mayor's Assistance Mr. Miller, and Ms. Diana Armstrong.

Saving $'s: Mayor Klakken, City Treasurer Straus and ladies in office have been researching saving more of the tax dollars collected. The Council approved $2,000 to hire a bond council to investigate issues relating to refinancing the police retirement bond. Today the city is paying a rate of 6.39%±. City Treasurer Straus spoke of an example to use the State of Montana "Intercap Fund" and explained that the average rate charge for the last ten years has been 2.55%± for that fund. It may be possible to save as much as $300,000 to $400,000± dollars over a few years. Mayor explained to council that there would be enough money in Cash Reserves to cover the cost of $2,000 expense.

Official Zoning Map: Council approved a Resolution to Adopt a Change in the Official Zoning Map on properties on both sides of 600 block of Barnett St. So. Side of 700 block of Barnett St. and both sides of 600 and 700 blocks of Kentucky Ave from R3 zone to R2, zone. They then continued on with changing some of the verbiage in the zoning document. Some of the topics changed and discussed were; parking, vision triangle for driveways and alleys, whether zoning should be involved in parking issues, parking on your property, fences, landscaping... Mr. Graham from the zoning committee spoke up and stated that some of the changes the council was making were changes the zoning committee had not discussed. Councilman Straugh explained that the council has the power to make changes in the document.

Question: Can the people in the power position's make changes to this document a word at a time without studying the entire document and verifying that their changes continue to keep the uniformity throughout the document? NOTE: It seems to me that making changes a word or line at a time, without considering every part of the document will end up with inferences and possibly conclusions that do not tie together.

Example: Would changing a document a word or line at a time, that is as comprehensive as the zoning document and is the law of Dillon be like putting up trusses and roof on a house before you put the walls up?
