MUMPS IN GALLATIN COUNTY

There have been four cases of mumps recently reported in Gallatin County. With two state basketball tournaments in that area next week, we wanted all schools to be aware of this and the recommendations for the state health department. Below is information from the Montana Department of Public Health and Human Services:

Recently 4 mumps cases have been identified in the Belgrade school system. Mumps is a vaccine preventable disease that, while rare in Montana, can spread among friends, family and teammates of those ill, especially if those contacts are not fully vaccinated. At this time, all cases in Belgrade are linked with one another and include students in both the middle school and high school setting. Gallatin public health and school officials are working to identify, vaccinate or exclude any students or faculty at risk of illness.

Gallatin public health and school officials will be working with local teams to help ensure children with symptoms of concern are not competing in sporting events until cleared by a health care provider. At this time, local and state public health officials see no significant risk for athletes to visit Gallatin County for sporting tournaments. However, competing teams are encouraged to be aware of the situation and stress the importance of vaccination to coaches, athletes and parents.

Public health officials will continue to share information as the situation evolves and encourages anyone with questions regarding their vaccination status or risk of complications related to mumps to speak with their health care provider.

Dillon Peeps Diorama Contest - 2016

From the spoof "Peeps Research" done by the faculty of Millikin University in 2003 to the first Peeps Diorama Contest sponsored by the Washington Post Magazine in 2007 the popularity of Peeps contests has grown countrywide. The Dillon Public Library is issuing a call for entries in our fourth "Dillon Peeps Diorama Contest."

The Dillon Peeps Diorama Contest will run from Wednesday, March 9, 2016 through Saturday, March 26th. Winners will be announced on Wednesday, March 30th. There will be four categories for individual entries, three categories for group entries, and a People's Choice Award. Each category will have a Prize Winner with prizes yet to be determined. Judges will be local area artists who will judge the dioramas primarily on these three criteria: 1.) Originality, 2.) Use of Peeps as the primary medium and 3.) Creative detail of the diorama.

To enter this contest, you must make an original diorama in which ALL of the characters are played by Peeps. Yes, we mean those colorful, sugary sweet bunny and chick marshmallow treats that "spring" up at this time of the year. Your diorama could depict an event that is historic, current, or even in the future. It could portray a scene from a movie, a book, a song, or a work of art. It may be "punny", tongue-in-check, be sweet or serious. (Which begs the question: can one be SERIOUS working with Peeps as a medium?) It can be as realistic, as avant-garde, or as outrageously creative as you can be!

Letter to the Editor

A rebuttal to the ill-informed, if not willfully ignorant Letter to the Editor in Friday's Dillonite.

First off, Cesar Chavez was a Mexican-American civil rights icon born in Arizona, not the leader of Venezuela. I believe you mean Hugo Chavez. But why let that get in your way.

I find it interesting that you neglect to include the influence of United States meddling in your synopsis of Venezuela. More specifically, how the nationalization of Venezuelan oil was the only way to rebuke the multi-national corporate attempts to literally steal the black gold and keep the poor, poor. Though the attempts were led by the U.S., we didn't care whether the leader of Venezuela was a dictator or a democrat, only that the oil kept flowing.

Chavez "got his hands on the faucet that produces the wealth. His detractors wanted to get rid of him so they could get their hands back on that faucet." - Arturo Valenzuela, former U.S. Assistant Sec. of State.

The poor of the country actually demanded that Chavez be reinstated after the U.S. backed coup because he had the gall to reclaim the wealth from natural resources for the people. Funny, their attempts at trickle-down didn't work either. Catching any similarities to the unconscionable wealth gap right here in the U.S.?

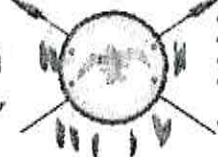

You say "infants die" and "power is rationed". Perhaps you're not aware of our nation's infant mortality rate. The CIA World Factbook ranks the U.S. 57th. Despite healthcare spending levels significantly higher than any other country in the world, a baby born in the U.S. is less likely to make it to their first birthday than one born in Hungary, Poland, Slovakia or Cuba. For the richest nation in the world, that is a national embarrassment.

As far as power rationing, maybe you remember Enron's role in creating artificial power shortages in California, helping to trigger an energy crisis in 2000 and 2001, costing residents billions of dollars in surcharges. What a great example of the wonderful possibilities of unbridled capitalism wouldn't you say?

And since you're choosing to frame Bernie Sanders as some insane "socialist" (the national understanding of the word having been twisted and skewed in the remnants of the Great Red Scare), perhaps you should take the time to see if you agree first....

"The next time that you hear me attacked as a socialist—like tomorrow—remember this: I don't believe government should take over the grocery store down the street, or own the means of production. But I do believe that the middle class and the working families, who produce the wealth of this country, deserve a decent standard of living, and that their incomes should go up, not down. I do believe in private companies that thrive and invest and grow in America, companies that create jobs here, rather than companies that are shutting down in America and increasing their profits by exploiting low-wage labor abroad. I believe that most Americans can pay lower taxes—if hedge fund managers who make billions manipulating the marketplace finally start paying the taxes that they should.” – Bernie Sanders Doesn't sound so crazy does it?

And besides being so clearly the best option for average Americans, Sanders also has the class to keep genitalia references out of a presidential debate. Man, I never thought I'd have to say that.

BEAVERHEAD SENIOR CITIZENS ASSOCIATION

Is proud to announce that their chef, Joan Pilgrim has passed the mandatory MT State Board course for Food Safety and Preparation. This is an intense course which took many hours of studying and preparing. Not only did Joan pass this rigid course, but she was one of the top three with the highest score. Joan is the chef for the Congregate Meals prepared for the senior's every Wednesday. These meals are prepared and served at the Senior Citizens building located at 126 S. Montana Street, Dillon every Wednesday from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. The meals that are home cooked, not out of a box, with low sodium and she tries to prepare the basics 4. If you have not come to the Congregate Meals Program you should come try it. Thanks Joan for all you do for the senior's and Congratulations goes out to her.

Also, 2016 Senior Citizens membership dues are due. They are $2.00 you can send them to P.O. Box 1142, Dillon, MT 59725 or you can give them to Chuck Worth, President-Deb Pierce, V-President or Joan Pilgrim board member.

Election for new Board Members is coming up soon. The nomination list is on the door at the Senior Hall. The Board meets every second Wednesday of the month at 10:00 a.m. This month it will be held on the 9th.

We also have some great news to share. An application was submitted to Great Harvest for a Bake Day. The Beaverhead Senior Citizens was awarded one of the Bake Day's. They are trying to raise money for a new roof on their building. They have met almost half their goal themselves, but are excited with the Bake Day that will help them to get closer in meeting their goal. March 23rd, 24th and 25th is their month for the Bake Day so please come down to Great Harvest and purchase some of their awesome wholesome bread and treats to help the senior's get a new roof for their building.

National Retired Educators Day

Thursday, March 10, 2016 has been designated as National Retired Educators Day across America. Just recently, Governor Steve Bullock has declared March 10th as a day to show appreciation to Montana's Retired Educators for the great work they have done in educating Montana's children and preparing them for life in the 21st Century.

To that extent, the public schools in Dillon have always been blessed with outstanding educators dedicated to helping children develop their God given talent and achieve their goals. In fact, Dillon has always prided itself on being able to "hire the best teachers money can buy" to lead its schools. The success of this philosophy shows in the quality of students produced by the Dillon community and schools.

To celebrate this success, the Southwest Montana Retired Educators

Tree Removals

By: M.J

In speaking with Mr. Richard Miller, mayor's assistant, I learned that the growth and maturing of trees/bushes on Swenson Way are presenting a safety issue for people out enjoying daily exercise.

Problems: The cottonwoods are causing the sidewalks to lift up and break which in turn is presenting a safety hazard. If you take a drive down Swenson Way you will see that there is a great deal of landscaping done with trees and bushes. The maintenance is the cities responsibility so this year with the support of the tree board they are going to start on a maintenance program that will take several years to finish.

There are 5± Cottonwoods along the boulevard that will be taken down. The stump will then be treated with a chemical that kills the root and stops the outreach of suckers. Later in the following spring the stumps will be taken out and new trees that will be more appropriate for the area will be planted.

The bushes will all be trimmed including the bushes at the interstate exchange entrance.

BEAVERHEAD GOP

The Beaverhead County Republican Central Committee will meet Tuesday, March 8 at 7 pm in the Law Enforcement Annex. Tom Welch will be the guest speaker. The public is welcome.

State A Girls Basketball

State A Girls Basketball bracket will be in the Dillonite tomorrow. The tournament will be held in Belgrade on March 10th - March 12th.

Tickets are for sale at the BCHS Main Office until 12:00 PM on Wednesday, March 9th. We will have Adult All-Session and Student All-Session tickets available to sell. Any single session tickets must be purchased at the venue.

Beaverhead County Public Health Urges County Residents to get Flu Shot!

Beaverhead County Public Health Director, Sue Hansen, is urging those who have procrastinated in getting their flu shot to get the vaccine now. The Montana Department of Public Health and Human Services reports that local and state public health officials are seeing a significant increase in the number of confirmed influenza cases being reported across the state.

It's never too late to receive flu vaccine as long as influenza is circulating. "For some reason, people think they don't need to receive the vaccine during the spring time and in fact, spring time is usually the peak season for influenza," said Hansen. At the end of February, there were 687 confirmed cases, 62 hospitalizations, and 4 deaths in Montana. A confirmed case is one that has been tested but there are many more flu cases that are not tested so the actual number is much higher.

There is still plenty of vaccine with public health and local providers. The vaccine does take about 2 weeks to start protecting so get the flu shot now. Most insurances pay for the vaccine.

Beaverhead County Public Health Immunization Clinic is Wednesdays from 9-1 and 2-5. For more information you can call 683-4771.
