MONTANA WESTERN HOSTS ANNUAL RODEO BANQUET

The University of Montana Western's annual Community Rodeo Banquet is scheduled for Friday, April 1, 2016 in the Keltz Arena on the UMW campus.

This year's event will be the 48th Rodeo Banquet at Montana Western. Banquet proceeds provide rodeo student athletes with scholarships and partial travel expenses during the regular season and for the College National Finals at the academic year's end.

"Montana Western rodeo is grateful for forty eight years of continued support from our community, friends and parents," said head rodeo coach Olie Else. "Our rodeo athletes have earned degrees and many have gone on to graduate school with their help and support."

The banquet is sponsored by the rodeo team and the rodeo club with the help of the Montana Western Foundation.

The event features a prime rib dinner, live and silent auctions and music by King Friday.

Community members are encouraged to buy tickets and reserve dinner tables soon as the banquet has sold out in past years.

For ticket information or to make an auction donation, contact the UMW Foundation at 406-683-7305.

A no-host cocktail bar will begin at 5:30 p.m. and the prime rib dinner starts at 6 p.m.

Library's Nonfiction Reading Group to meet

The Dillon Public Library's Nonfiction Reading Group will meet on Tuesday, April 12, 2016 at 7:00 p.m. in the Library's basement programming room to discuss Irving Stone's book Men to Match My Mountains - the Opening of the Far West, 1840 - 1900. The reading group is open to the public, and copies of the book are available for checkout at the Library.

In Men to Match My Mountains Irving Stone, America's most acclaimed author of biographical and historical fiction has turned his magnificent talent to telling America's most colorful and exciting story of the opening of the Far West. This book is a true historical masterpiece and an unforgettable pageant of giants - men like John Sutter, whose dream of paradise was shattered by the California Gold Rush; Brigham Young and the Mormons who tamed the dessert with Bible texts; and the silver kings and the miners who developed Nevada's Comstock Lode and settled the Rockies. America called for greatness - and got it from the men whose stories are revealed in this book. There is nothing else in history to match the stories of these men who braved a wilderness to bring a new nation to the shores of the Pacific. (Google Books) Please join us for a stimulating conversation. Individuals do not have to belong to the reading group in order to attend any single discussion. You can attend the group even if you have not read the book, but we do try to keep the discussion focused on the contents of the book.

There are four additional titles lined up for monthly discussions (May - August) and copies of the items are available for checkout. Stop by the Library to find out more about the group and the titles scheduled for discussion. We invite everyone to consider joining this group. It is free and open to the public. See you at the Library!

U.S. Supreme Court Order: Montana Entitled to Damages for Wyoming's Violation of Yellowstone River Compact

Case Remanded to Special Master for Damages Determination, Relief

The United States Supreme Court issued an order in the State of Montana vs. State of Wyoming that recognizes Montana suffered damages as the result of Wyoming's failure to abide by terms of the Yellowstone River Compact with respect to waters of the Tongue River. The order remanded the case to the Special Master for determination of damages and of other appropriate relief.

Attorney General Tim Fox said, "Montana has believed all along that appropriate injunctive relief to prevent future violations by Wyoming was a critical component of the lawsuit, and this gives us the ability to seek that relief from the Special Master. Montana and Wyoming are neighbors sharing the resource, and a defined path forward as to how that sharing will occur is key to productivity on both sides of the border."

Last April, Montana prevailed in the Special Master's ruling on the case, and Wyoming acknowledged that it violated terms of the Compact by failing to provide water to Montana when called upon to do so. Attorney General Fox asked the U.S. Supreme Court to uphold the Special Master's ruling in favor of Montana, and to also uphold Montana's full measure of damages for Wyoming's violation of the compact. Since Montana prevailed, it will request that Wyoming pay all fees and costs associated with this litigation, and that the Court specify a firm mechanism to prevent Wyoming from ignoring Montana's calls for water in the future.

In 2014, Attorney General Fox presented the state's closing arguments in the Montana v. Wyoming water trial. The attorneys general of Montana and Wyoming presented their arguments before Barton Thompson, the special master appointed by the U.S. Supreme Court. Thompson is a professor at Stanford Law School.

Montana filed suit against Wyoming in 2007 for failing to release water to the Tongue and Powder Rivers as required by a 1950 compact between the two states.

A copy of the order is available here: <https://dojmt.gov/wp-admin/upload.php?item=37161>
