Zoning - Compliance Applications

By: MJ

The merry-go-round keeps turning. The bearings are well greased with the zoning document. Seven (7) zoning compliance certificates were applied for and two (2) were approved, one (1) was denied, and four (4) were tabled for more information. Question: Should the committee be looking at this document as something that may or may not benefit the people but is causing hardships? Is this document actually supporting the economics of the community? Several committee members keep telling the applicants that they must deny their application because; "their hands are tied and they must follow the zoning document." NOTE: The zoning committee is the committee that can start a process to change the document. In my opinion to say "we have to follow the document because our hands are tied" is saying the committee is not going to take a hard look at the document, the problems it is causing people or ways to make creative changes that would support the community in a positive and practical way.

You can make a difference by bringing your ideas forward to the people involved and create that community friendly document. Committee decisions follow.

#2305: John Brigg's greenhouse at 108 N. Nevada Street. Approved.

#2309: Steven Scott's application for a garage to be built at 442 Kentucky Ave. Approved.

#2312: Hinojosa located @ 705 N. Mt. St for an addition on existing house. Tabled for more information. Application did not say how many bedrooms there would be which in turn determines how many parking spaces would be required.

#2312: Wehri house addition located at 629 Thomsen Ave. Denied. Wehri will have to apply for a variance permit that will cost him $300±. The variance committee will sent out notification letters to any neighbor within 200 feet of Wehri's property and will hold a public hearing before making a decision. The reason the zoning committee denied the permit was because it does not meet the ongoing required setbacks in the new zoning document.

#2313: Cypher's application for an addition; located at 18 S. Dakota St. Tabled for further information. The committee ask for a lot plan and how many bedrooms there will be.

2314 & 2316: Brigg's boundary adjustment. Tabled for further information and clarification of laws. Issues that came up were 5,000 SF lots, property against lot line, and question on whether the following zoning document needs to be followed for boundary adjustments. Clarification for the dreaded "setbacks" on pre-existing property, discussion on how or if general land use laws, 17.20.030 & 17.20.40 applies.

Also brought up was the fact that the majority of lot sizes in Dillon are 25 x 115 feet which does not comply with new zoning document regulations. Don't worry though. If you make any changes to your existing property you probably will require you to follow the new zoning document regulations, apply for a variance or just not make any repairs or additions.

Kevin H. Brown, Senior Chief, U.S. Navy (Ret)

I have witnessed the disintegration of our society for a long time. The fabric of what our country once was has diminished. Here are some of the reasons why:

1. Our political representatives could care less about the populous once they are elected into office. All they want is a seat at the table of power and will stop at nothing to achieve it. Most of our politicians are dishonest, deceitful, and show no remorse for their actions. They've all become narcissists. What is worse are the misinformed voters who have lost their moral compass, voting for "pipe dream" promises, looks and charisma; instead of the politicians track record.
2. Adults today act like petulant children who have no respect for the law. They are quick to blame others for their misdeeds. Reality TV and network news glorify bad behavior. The lack of parental guidance is one of the major reasons why our society is rapidly eroding.
3. The political correctness has taken us by the throat. It has made our country into a bunch of wimps! Restore the Pledge of Alliance! Put prayer back into our schools. Fly the American Flag! Erect crosses throughout our nation for all to see! Speak English! Don't let a few who are offended dictate to the majority who aren't. For our politicians - quit desecrating our Constitution!
4. America's "Everyone gets a trophy" syndrome in our schools (Academic/Athletic) has become a national joke. Does everybody have to receive an award for mediocre performance or for just participating at an event? This method does not build self-esteem; instead it builds this empty sense of "I'm just fantastic, not because I did anything but just because I'm here". Go into the real world, get a job and see how far it'll get you with this attitude.
5. The Entitlement Generation - Without an education, training, job skills, and earning a management position, they immediately want a supervisors position believe they are entitled to more pay for working less hours, and have the "What's in it for me". They do not want to take responsibility if something were to go wrong on their watch. What happened to the American attitude, hard work and discipline equals success.
6. Crime does pay in our justice system. Criminals today have more rights than their victims. There is no accountability or repercussion. The appeals processes are endless. There are many legal loopholes. Criminals conjure frivolous lawsuits while incarcerated. Who's paying for the legal bills?? You - the taxpayers!

- We will never win the war on drugs/alcohol. Billions upon billions of dollars have been spent on drug/alcohol prevention, health care expenditures, lost earnings, and costs associated with crimes and accidents. These enormous burdens affect all of us. Lives, as well as families, have been destroyed with no end in sight.
- Bring the American companies who operate overseas back to the US of A. Reduce the corporate tax and use the resources in America. Stop providing technology and aid to countries who hate us. Politicians, can you hear us? For once, think about America!
- Foreigners coming to America do not want to assimilate. Why should they, when our state and federal governments allows them to speak their own language (i.e. DMV drivers test, user manuals, job applications, "Press 1 for English"). Speak English, you're in America!
- Family values - there aren't any. Grandparents should be enjoying their retirement years instead of raising their grandchildren because their children are too messed up on drugs/alcohol. Education standards have fallen; children aren't being taught how to behave in public. Children have no chance if their parents are drugged out or drunkards. "Bad breeds bad." See reasons #2 and #7.

I could go on and on, but I am sure you get the point. I served with honor and distinction in the US Navy for over a quarter of a century. Make no mistake, it was an honor and privilege to serve, but when I see the ruination of what this great nation once was, I feel frustrated! I was born in a third world country and lived in third world countries. Believe me when I say this about third world countries, unless you are one of the "privileged", you are nothing. You have no rights, no reparation, little or no chance of a good education. If we continue our current way of life, this could happen to us.

I wonder about a lot of things concerning this nation; 1) How long will the U.S. continue to spiral downward? 2) Will this nation be great again? 3) Will our country exist when our grandchildren are grown? I know one thing is for certain... It's only human nature to self destruct when a nation has too much freedom. Democracy lasts on/around 300 years. We are now at the 240 year mark. Do the math, and tell me if you're not worried!

The uncertain origins of a foolish day

by David Johnson and Shmuel Ross

April Fools!

History of the New Year

April Fools' Day, sometimes called All Fools' Day, is one of the most light-hearted days of the year. Its origins are uncertain. Some see it as a celebration related to the turn of the seasons, while others believe it stems from the adoption of a new calendar.

New Year's Day Moves

Ancient cultures, including those of the Romans and Hindus, celebrated New Year's Day on or around April 1. It closely follows the vernal equinox (March 20th or March 21st.) In medieval times, much of Europe celebrated March 25, the Feast of Annunciation, as the beginning of the new year.

In 1582, Pope Gregory XIII ordered a new calendar (the Gregorian Calendar) to replace the old Julian Calendar. The new calendar called for New Year's Day to be celebrated Jan. 1. That year, France adopted the reformed calendar and shifted New Year's day to Jan. 1. According to a popular explanation, many people either refused to accept the new date, or did not learn about it, and continued to celebrate New Year's Day on April 1. Other people began to make fun of these traditionalists, sending them on "fool's errands" or trying to trick them into believing something false. Eventually, the practice spread throughout Europe.

Problems With This Explanation

There are at least two difficulties with this explanation. The first is that it doesn't fully account for the spread of April Fools' Day to other European countries. The Gregorian calendar was not adopted by England until 1752, for example, but April Fools' Day was already well established there by that point. The second is that we have no direct historical evidence for this explanation, only conjecture, and that conjecture appears to have been made more recently.

Constantine and Kugel

Another explanation of the origins of April Fools' Day was provided by Joseph Boskin, a professor of history at Boston University. He explained that the practice began during the reign of Constantine, when a group of court jesters and fools told the Roman emperor that they could do a better job of running the empire. Constantine, amused, allowed a jester named Kugel to be king for one day. Kugel passed an edict calling for absurdity on that day, and the custom became an annual event.

"In a way," explained Prof. Boskin, "it was a very serious day. In those times fools were really wise men. It was the role of jesters to put things in perspective with humor."

This explanation was brought to the public's attention in an Associated Press article printed by many newspapers in 1983. There was only one catch: Boskin made the whole thing up. It took a couple of weeks for the AP to realize that they'd been victims of an April Fools' joke themselves.

Spring Fever

It is worth noting that many different cultures have had days of foolishness around the start of April, give or take a couple of weeks. The Romans had a festival named Hilaria on March 25, rejoicing in the resurrection of Attis. The Hindu calendar has Holi, and the Jewish calendar has Purim. Perhaps there's something about the time of year, with its turn from winter to spring, that lends itself to lighthearted celebrations.

Observances Around the World

April Fools' Day is observed throughout the Western world. Practices include sending someone on a "fool's errand," looking for things that don't exist; playing pranks; and trying to get people to believe ridiculous things.

The French call April 1 Poisson d'Avril, or "April Fish." French children sometimes tape a picture of a fish on the back of their schoolmates, crying "Poisson d'Avril" when the prank is discovered.

Appointments can be made by calling (406) 248-9168, or log on to www.bloodhero.com and use the sponsor code "Dillon".
