Letter to the Editor

Isn't it funny? Just a few months ago the Republican Party demanded that Donald Trump sign a pledge to run as a Republican. Now the Republican Party wishes they had used invisible ink.

But the Republicans in Washington have created Donald Trump over the past seven years because they have been the party of "no", creating a broken system.

The Republicans in Washington said on the first day that President Obama took office they would not support him and would vote against anything President Obama presented.

Then the Republicans said we need more jobs. So what did the republicans do? They shut down the government. This put thousands out of their jobs, closed our National Parks, closed our National Monuments and the United States lost millions of dollars.

Then the Republicans said they were conservatives. But this cost the taxpayers $24 billion dollars to reinstate what they shut down. This is a funny way to call themselves conservatives.

Then the Republicans promised to cut Social Security and forget about the senior citizens who worked all their lives to receive a small retirement check.

The Republicans then said they will change the Securities and Exchange Commission budget. Which meant fewer regulations to control Wall Street, which in turn means probably another financial crisis, which means the middle class will get cheated and the rich will get richer.

The Republicans in Washington have done little to help America in the past seven year. They work very little, get a big pay check for doing very little. So this is one of the big reasons we now have Donald Trump. The Republicans, the party of "no" created him and now they are saying "no" to the man they created.

Letter to the Editor

Re: Candidates Forum – May 12, 2016

Dear Sir or Madam:

I attended the candidates' forum, with some enthusiasm, held at the Depot in Dillon on May 12, 2016. I am of the opinion that a candidates forum should be fairly and impartially run. I do not believe that this was true with respect to this particular forum.

The candidate forum with for the local House of Representative race was anything but fair and impartial. It was patently obvious from attending the forum that one of the candidates had access to the questions in advance. This particular candidate obviously read off most of the answer at the forum from a notebook. I do not know, but I suspect, that this particular candidate was advised of the questions in advance so that this candidate could formulate the answers in advance and write down answers. I am not certain as to how the questions for candidates were acquired, but I suspect that possibly most of the questions were questions submitted by supporters of that candidate and then those supporters advised the candidate of the questions that were submitted. Either that or someone involved with the forum provided the questions to this candidate. I strongly suspect the former.

For future forums, whoever is going to ask the questions may attempt to make sure that the questions to be asked are not provided in advance to any individual or candidate. That may entail an independent entity formulating the questions rather than have the questions submitted by the public and then not provide the questions to anyone in advance. I realize that this is politics, but the forum held last night was not fair to all candidates. The fix was definitely in at this forum. I appreciate the radio station conduction the forum, but it could be better.

Sincerely yours,

Thomas R. Scott

Letter to the Editor

I am a veteran, a disabled police officer and have served in the South Carolina House of Representatives for fourteen years. During my tenure I have spent over a decade fighting for the rights of hunters, anglers and trappers on the state and national stage. I chaired the Wildlife and Natural Resources committee, received Safari Club International National State Legislator of the Year award, a Congressional Sportsmen's Foundation Brad Rouse award, a Rocky Mountain Elk Foundation award and am Past President of the National Assembly of Sportsmen's Caucuses Executive Council. We outdoorsmen share two common enemies with ranchers and farmers. The Humane Society of the United States (HSUS) and PETA. These two well-funded and politically active organizations want to stop us from pursuing our traditions and our way of life. Federal overreach exacerbates their efforts with closures of access to public lands.

I want to offer my support as a hunter and words of encouragement for my good friend Brooke Erb who is running for the Montana House of Representatives. I believe she will work to unite hunters and ranchers for a strong front against the political charges of HSUS and PETA just to name a few. I know Brooke Erb personally and her commitment to ensuring open space and great hunting and fishing access for future generations.

I have hunted all across our beautiful nation with Bethany Erb who serves on the Board of the Mule Deer Foundation. She introduced me to the Big Hole Valley and Beaverhead County where over the years I came to know Brooke, Cal and the entire Erb family. My love for the area has grown to the point of requesting that my ashes be spread along the North Fork of the Big Hole River where I killed my first bull elk. My life has been blessed with many great hunting partners but I have never hunted with anyone more skilled and professional than Collin Erb. Brooke raised her three children to cherish the outdoors just as much as I do.

Recognizing Brooke's passion for natural resource conservation and pro-Second Amendment stance I encouraged her to run for state office. Her voice will be an absolute counter in our battles with those truly opposed to hunting. Upon retirement I plan to leave my beloved South Carolina and make Beaverhead County, Montana my home. I would be proud for Brooke Erb to represent me.

Sincerely,

Michael A. Pitts
