Will Hollywood Officially Switch To Artificial Intelligence?

Tyrades! By Danny Tyree

Remember classic Hollywood films in which someone like Mickey Rooney or Judy Garland gushed, "C'mon, gang, let's get a Long-Short Term Memory (LSTM) Neural Network to put on a show"?

Um, well, neither do I; but someday that could be the cliché our children remember.

According to CBS News, filmmaker Oscar Sharp and his technologist collaborator Ross Goodwin have built a machine that can write screenplays. They fed the neural network (named Benjamin) hundreds of movie scripts and some prompts and it regurgitated a sparse script, which was turned into the short YouTube video "Sunspring".

I'm sure a lot of you assumed that Tinseltown was already using artificial intelligence (AI) to crank out its endless sequels and knuckleheaded knockoffs; but, no, this is a new "thought experiment," as CBS calls it.

Scripts are a fairly minor expense in the movie business (compared to star salaries, special effects, and paying MIT mathematicians to imagine new ticket prices); but I'm sure studios will be tempted to eliminate temperamental humans. Don't expect the end of scripts by committee, however. ("Benjamin, see what the photocopier and the fax machine care to contribute.")

Look for some schlockmeister producers to try saving even more money. ("Who needs fancy schmancy neural networks? We'll get some six-year-old Chinese kids to program their abacus to write a script.")

As a writer myself, I feel sympathy for the scriptwriters, although Hollywood "key grips" and "gaffers" are probably kicking them while they're down. ("Maybe you'll wish you had settled for being a 'best boy' instead of a Dalton Trumbo wannabe!")

I'm sure there is a place for AI in scripting, but without that human "ear," can they ever catch all the nuances of timeless films? I expect AI to ruin iconic lines if classic movies are remade. Would "Cool Hand Luke" be as memorable with "What we have here is failure to communicate — maybe the HTML coding needs some troubleshooting"?

Would "Silence Of The Lambs" be as memorable with "Who eats human liver with fava beans and a nice chianti, anyway? Get me a proofreading app"? Would "Deliverance" still chill us with "I bet you can squeal like a collection of ham, bacon, sausage, jowls..."?

Not even film titles will be safe. I can just imagine an AI machine muttering, "Fast and Furious, my shiny back side! Get a load of how fast and furious this algorithm is!"

Will AI be able to develop a true sense of humor, or will we get too-literal jokes such as, "Yo' momma is so fat... she really ought to eat smaller portions, avoid trans fats and develop a better exercise regimen"?

If scripts catch on, look for AI writing to expand to eulogies, sales spiels, T-shirt slogans, greeting card and the like. Bumper stickers may become brutally honest. ("My grandchildren are on the Honor Roll at Midland Elementary and -- oh, what difference does it make? Machines will take all their jobs, anyway!")

Someday even the human audiences will be written out of the equation, as AI starts producing scripts for other machines. Stay away from the porno theaters with all the trenchcoated blenders and weed whackers in the back row.

I'm trying to keep a positive attitude, but I fear that someday movies will end with disclaimers such as, "No humans were injured in the production of this motion picture. Yeah, right. Bwahaha..."

Creation Seminar With Creation Speaker

The First Baptist Church in Dillon will be holding a Creation Seminar with creation speaker, Dr. Jobe Martin, beginning on Sunday, June 26, through Wednesday, June 29. The Sunday morning sessions will be held at 9:45 and 11:00 a.m., and each evening, Sunday through Wednesday, the sessions will begin at 7:00 p.m. Dr. Martin's sessions are augmented with video which helps people of all ages enjoy his presentation.

There will also be a Children's Creation Day on Monday, June 27th, with two sessions specifically designed for elementary age children. These sessions will be from 10:30 a.m. to noon and then from 12:45 p.m. to 2:00 p.m. Individuals can plan to attend one or both of these sessions. Children should be accompanied by an adult, and you are encouraged to bring a bag lunch that can be eaten on location.

Jobe Martin was a biology major at Bucknell University and a 1966 graduate of the University of Pittsburgh Dental School. After spending two years in the Air Force where he was a dentist for the Presidential flight crews of Air Force One (the 89th Airlift wing), he established a private dental practice at NASA in Houston, Texas, and was involved on the Board of Campus Crusade for Christ as well as an Elder for Clear Lake Community Church.

Jobe and his wife, Jenna Dee, moved to Dallas in 1971 when he assumed a teaching post at the Baylor College of Dentistry. In 1982 he left his tenured position as Full Professor to enroll at Dallas Theological Seminary, graduating in 1986 with a Masters in Theology and founding the Martin family ministry, Biblical Discipleship Ministries (BDM).

BDM will have additional resources at the seminar, including a book in which Dr. Martin shares his personal journey from evolutionary scientist to creationist (The Evolution of a Creationist). The following DVDs will be available: Incredible Creatures that Defy Evolution (3 vols.), the Creation Proclaims series (Climbers and Creepers, Flight and Spike, Silent Hunters, The Amazon and Beyond and The Wonders of Alaska), and The Evolution of a Creationist, five-part mini-series (6 hrs.). The resource table will include other helpful materials.

The public is cordially invited to attend the sessions. Each family in attendance will receive a free copy of Dr. Martin's book, The Evolution of a Creationist. If you would like additional information about the Creation Seminar, feel free to call the church at (406) 683-4438.

Summer Reading in full swing at the Library!

Dillon Public Library is humming with the excitement of our Summer Reading program. Over one-hundred and sixty children have sign-up already, and we hope there will be over a hundred more yet to come. Registration for this program is ongoing through the months of June and July, but we encourage you to come in as soon as possible and sign up so that you can participate in your choice of our program offerings. The summer reading program is designed for you to participate on whatever level your schedule allows. The week of June 20th, the following programs are planned:

Tuesday, June 21st and Wednesday, June 22nd
9:30 am – 11:00 am 11 South Idaho St.

Maker Space – This is a program for children ages 7 and older. There are a variety of projects the children can participate in during these sessions, including Legos, Techno-Legos, K'Nex, sewing, duct tape, circuitry, robotics, and much more.

Tuesday, June 21st – 7:00 pm Library backyard

Pajamas in the Parks – This is a story time for younger children. Bring them in their pajamas, with blankets and stuffed animals. We'll read stories, sing lullabies, and end the program with cookies and milk before the kids head home to bed.

Wednesday, June 22 – 3:00 pm – 5:00 pm, approximately Old Depot Theater

Our afternoon matinee series continues with the showing of Sandlot. Beyond the fence at the back of the sandlot menaces a legendary ball-eating dog called The Beast, and the kids inevitably must deal with him. Scotty Smalls is the new kid in town and all he wants is to make friends before summer. The town's best baseball player Benny "The Jet" Rodriguez takes him under his wing.

Thursday, June 23 – 10:00am – 11:00 Old Depot Theater

Steve Mock, UM Western Professor of Environmental Studies and co-director of the Khumbu Climbing Center in Phortse, Nepal will present a slide show and talk about the work he does training Nepalese Sherpas for the country's vital tourism and guiding industries. Steve will also offer an update on the earthquake recovery efforts in that country, with a special update on the Magic Yeti Library to which last year's summer readers donated $150.

The library provides jump ropes, kids do the jumping! We'll watch videos of jump rope skills and tricks and then practice those moves. You'll also learn traditional and new jump rope songs.

In addition, for the first time this year Dillon Public Library is inviting Adults and Young Adults to join in the summer reading fun. It's easy to participate. Stop in the Library after you've read a book and fill out a coupon for a drawing for a free lunch. You can fill out one coupon for every book you read. Drawings will take place every Friday - one free lunch for both an adult reader and a young adult reader. The drawings will continue through the month of July.

There's something for everyone this year in Dillon Public Library's Summer Reading Program - Ready, Set, READ!

Agencies Mobilizing to Assess Causes of Beaverhead Algae Blooms

The Montana Department of Environmental Quality, Montana Fish, Wildlife and Parks, and the Bureau of Reclamation have recently begun monitoring several parameters that may have contributed to severe turbidity and algae blooms in Clark Canyon Reservoir and the Beaverhead River the past two summers.

DEQ has deployed instruments to continuously measure dissolved oxygen, pH, water temperature and turbidity in the Beaverhead River, the Red Rock River, and Horse Prairie Creek every half hour throughout the summer. Each month from May through September, DEQ will be monitoring nutrients, common ions, total dissolved solids, total suspended solids, volatile suspended solids, dissolved oxygen, oxidation reduction potential, and phytoplankton in Clark Canyon Reservoir, the Beaverhead River, the Red Rock River, and Horse Prairie Creek. Monitoring of these parameters may increase in frequency if the clarity issues of the past two years begin to reoccur this summer. DEQ also has a plan to utilize Sontek Doppler Sound Scatter technology to assess whether mobilization of sediment from the reservoir bed is a contributing factor.

The Bureau performed a bathymetric survey of the reservoir bed elevations at the end of April. This will help to assess whether filling of the reservoir dead pool is a contributing factor to the clarity issues. Analyses of the survey will likely be available this fall or winter.

FWP will continue to do its routine monitoring of fish population and condition in the reservoir and the Beaverhead River, and will assess whether there are any observable impacts as a result of the clarity problems.

For more information about these multiagency monitoring efforts, or to report concerns regarding this issue, please visit www.beaverheadwatershed.org or email beaverheadwatershed@gmail.com.
