If Bill Clinton Becomes 'First Guy'

By Tom Purcell

I surely don't want Hillary to be our next president, but I think it would be great if Bill became America's first "first guy."

How can you not like the man? He's clever and witty. He was born into modest circumstances and, through his considerable wits, achieved a fine education and navigated his way into the biggest job in the world.

The truth is, I'd love to have a beer with him. I'd love to hear about the incredible experiences he has had in his truly remarkable life ---- but only if I am assured that my sisters are out of town.

If Bill ever does become first guy, we can only imagine what kind of trouble he might get into.

He'd probably stroll around the White House in a Hugh Hefner robe, chomping on roast beef sandwiches and winking at the staff. He'd probably ban children from the White House Easter Egg Roll in favor of coeds.

Always a pragmatic politician, he'd outsource the White House kitchen to Hooters. He'd establish a Domino's franchise in the Blue Room. He'd auction the Lincoln Bedroom to the highest bidder (again).

Goodness knows what his "first lady" mission would be. Michelle Obama promotes good nutrition for kids. Laura Bush promoted literacy. Barbara Bush promoted volunteerism. Nancy Reagan promoted her "Just Say No" to drugs campaign.

I think Bill would embrace "Just Say No," too ---- "Just Say No to Hillary."

With Bill as First Guy, there would likely be many new embarrassments.

While Hillary meets the leaders and dignitaries of other countries, Bill, like all first ladies before him, would be tasked with entertaining their spouses. What could go wrong there?

First ladies often direct remodeling at the White House. Under Bill's direction, would the billiard room would become a beer-pong parlor?

What if Bill takes "Department of Veterans Affairs" literally?

America is really struggling these days. Our economy continues to sputter and our debt keeps getting racked up.

Our government's attempt to transform America's health-care system is an unmitigated disaster and nobody knows how the chaos will further harm our already shaky economy.

Our freedoms are suffering now that the government is meddling with the most personal of matters, health care, and dictating how and when we go about getting it.

Boy, do we need some comic relief about now.

But, unlike many presidents before him, President Obama is just unable to provide it. Like or hate his policies, there just isn't much about Obama that is very funny.

Like I said, I hope Hillary doesn't become our next president, but if she does, Bill would become first guy and America would get its sense of humor back.

With Bill as First Guy, Hillary would need another "don't ask, don't tell" policy ---- not for the military, but for the White House.

America would need to establish a special Secret Service detail ---- not to protect Bill from the public, but the public from Bill.

Bill would be good for the economy, too. T-shirt and bumper-sticker sales would soar. This one would be a best-seller:

"What happens in the White House stays in the White House."

Alert: Fishing Restrictions On Shields River Effective Friday
River Experiencing Near Record Low Flows

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks is alerting the public that fishing restrictions on the Shields River will go into effect on Friday, July 29 at 2 p.m. High temperatures and lows flows triggered the restrictions.

The hoot owl restrictions being instituted on Friday will close the Shields from the Daisy Dean Road bridge to the confluence with the Yellowstone River from 2 p.m. to midnight daily until conditions improve.

The last time fishing restrictions were implemented on the Shields was in July of 2007.

Fisheries biologist Scott Opitz says the Shields is experiencing near record low flows.

"In 2007 the river temperature was comparable to what we're dealing with now. However, the flows weren't at the extreme low point they are today. We're only 20 cfs above record low flows."

Other fishing restrictions in Region 3 still in effect include:

- Big Hole River: Maiden Rock FAS to Notch Bottom FAS; Notch Bottom FAS to the confluence with the Beaverhead River; Saginaw Bridge on Skinner Meadows Road to North Fork Big Hole River Mouth
- East Gallatin River: Spring Hill Road Bridge (Hwy411) to the confluence with the Gallatin River
- Gallatin River: Confluence with the Madison River at Three Forks to Sheds Bridge (Hwy 84) near Four Corners
- Jefferson River: Entire river
- Madison River: Ennis Dam to the mouth
- Ruby River: Duncan District Road to the confluence with the Beaverhead River

For complete information on restrictions and closures, check out FWP's webpage at fwp.mt.gov/news/restrictions/.

Employment Poster Revision

US Department of Labor recently revised 3 of the employment posters included in our 5-in-1 poster. Very recently changes were made to the Employee Rights Under the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) and the Employee Polygraph Protection Act posters. It's especially important for employers to be aware of the revisions, as USDOL is requiring "employers must post the revised versions of by August 1, 2016."

Until we have a new 5 in 1 poster printed, you and/or businesses can download the new versions from our poster page at http://wsd.dli.mt.gov/employers/employment-posters.

As you know, the Employee Rights Under the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) poster was revised April 2016. A required posting date has not been provided for the FMLA poster. The US Department of Labor states: "The February 2013 version of the FMLA poster is still good and can be used to fulfill posting requirements. If you or your businesses would like a copy of the new version, it's also available on the WSD Employment Posters webpage.

Letter to the Editor

No Consideration for the Public

In the Beaverhead River Rules, the section of the river from Tash bridge to Selway bridge, is closed to float outfitting, from the third weekend in May to Labor Day. The intent was to give the non guided, public angler a section of the river to get away from the crowding and competition caused by commercial outfitting on the river. The Big Hole River has a section of the river closed to float outfitting every day of the week. Over the past few years some outfitters have got around the rules by walking clients to this section of the river, from Tash to Selway, closed to float outfitting. This has become so popular for outfitters that you can't float this section of the river without coming to a good fishing hole and having an outfitter, or guide with their with clients there. This goes against the intent of the rules, to have a section of the river where the general public, families, kids, elderly, beginning anglers could get away from the crowding and competition. Over the past 15 years, that the river rules have been in affect, I have attended every public meeting on the rules. I have never heard an outfitter or guide say that they support resident's day, or sections of the river closed to float outfitting. I hear comments from outfitters and guides opposing resident's day and that if sections of the rivers weren't closed to outfitting the crowding would be spread out. Many anglers no longer fish the Beaverhead because of the crowding and competition. I'm not going to name outfitters who are walking clients to this section of the Beaverhead closed to float outfitting, but it would be considerate, if the outfitting business as a whole, would appreciate that the public is sharing their public resource with them.
