Nez Perce Fire Activity Picks Up

The Nez Perce Fire grew over the weekend and on Monday displayed darker smoke from individual tree and group torching. Warmer temperatures the rest of the week will produce similar results. The fire is currently estimated at 50 acres and continues to burn in steep, rocky terrain.

Priorities for this fire remain unchanged; limit fire growth to the south and west, and continue assessment work in cooperation with area residents and property owners. Firefighters have monitored the fire every day since it began and will continue to do so.

Smoke will continue to be visible to anyone in the Interstate 15, Elk Park corridor, over the coming days/weeks. At this time there are no area closures associated with this fire. Visitors to the Nez Perce Creek area are reminded to expect fire related traffic on roads.

For more information call the Butte-Jefferson Ranger District at (406) 494-2147 (M-F) or Dillon Dispatch on weekends at (406) 683-3975. Information is also posted on Inciweb at http://inciweb.nwcg.gov/.

THANK YOU

On Monday morning, August 29, a black German Shepherd, named Turloc, got out of his kennel at the Beaverhead Animal Shelter. He had a good romp around town, but thanks to MANY telephone calls to both the local authorities and the Shelter, he was found and safely returned to the Shelter by early-afternoon. We thank each and every one of you who took to time to make a call. Turloc appreciates it too !!

NEPALESE TREKKING GUIDES VISIT MONTANA WESTERN

Chemistry Professor Steve Mock recently hosted Khumbu Climbing Center instructors Mingma Sherpa and Keshar Shrestha at the University of Montana Western.

Mock works with the two men in his capacity as co-director of the Khumbu Climbing Center (KCC) in Phortse, Nepal with climber Pete Athans, KCC's other director. KCC was founded by world-famous climber Conrad Anker along with his wife Jennifer Lowe Anker.

The KCC is a non-profit organization working with Nepalese climbers and high-altitude workers. Their goal is to increase responsible climbing practices within Nepal's economically vital tourism and guiding industry.

Shrestha has been an assistant climbing instructor at

KCC for four years and Sherpa has served in that role for 10.

"It's been fun showing Mingma and Keshar around this part of the country and letting them climb in different terrain and conditions than they're used to," Mock said. "They're some of the best guides in the world, trained to climb Mt. Everest, so it's an honor to spend time with them and be their guide for a change."

It's the first visit to the United States for both men, who so far have summited Grand Teton in Grand Teton National Park and several other local climbing spots near Dillon, Mont. during their stay.

Sherpa and Shrestha are spending nearly two months in the United States receiving additional training with the National Outdoor Leadership School (NOLS) in Lander, Wyo. They are this year's recipients of scholarships established through the KCC and NOLS.

NOLS was founded in 1965 by mountaineer Paul Petzoldt. They take students of all ages on remote wilderness expeditions and teach them technical outdoor skills, leadership and environmental ethics.

The training and techniques Sherpa and Shrestha learn with NOLS will be taken back to Nepal and utilized in their roles as high-altitude guides on Mt. Everest, Mock explained.

Sherpa started working as a guide on Everest in 2001 at age 29. He has since summited the world's highest peak 11 times.

In addition to working on and around Mt. Everest, Shrestha has also worked as a trekking guide in Austria. He is fluent in five languages, which serves him well as a guide in an area where climbers come from all over the world.

Letter to the Editor

The next President will have a big challenge on their agenda. How do they satisfy everyone? Who will they help and who will get left out? Here are just a few wishes of individuals and groups that want their needs met. In no special order.

College students want less expensive tuition. Women want equal pay for equal work. The military want more war materials. Big business wants more tax abatements. Ranchers and farmers want higher prices, but consumers want lower prices. Oil companies want more money for oil and gas, but car and truck drivers want lower gas prices. Students want less homework and need more time for themselves. Senior citizens want better and lowers medical costs. The war mongers want war so they can make more money but the peace people want no wars. The polluters want less regulations so they can pollute more and make more money, but the environmentalists want more regulations.

The Republicans and the Democrats have forgotten how to work together. All they want to do is get even with each other and forget about helping the people in the United States. Most citizens want a government that works for all.

Elephants don't forget and donkeys are stubborn. You put them both in a room together and what do you get? A lot of manure. People want less manure and better accomplishments for America.

It seems like many of the politicians in Washington are like a vacuum sweeper. You plug them in, turn them on and you know what they do?

Everybody wants something but usually everything and something turns into nothing! We need harmony and if we have harmony we need a conductor. A conductor needs a baton. A baton is a stick that the Republicans and Democrats use to hit each other. We need harmony and progress. What do you want?

LaVon D. Brillhart

DUCK IDENTIFICATION CLASS SEPT. 14 IN BUTTE FREE FAMILY FRIENDLY EVENT!

Calling all waterfowl enthusiasts, hunters, birdwatchers and anyone looking to hone their duck identification skills! Montana Fish, Wildlife and Parks is hosting an event geared just for you and your kids.

Retired FWP wildlife biologist Jeff Herbert will lead a duck identification class in Butte on Wednesday, Sept. 14 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the Butte Archives in uptown (17 W. Quartz St.). Herbert will have wings, bills, and feet from Montana's duck species and will show participants how to use them to identify waterfowl.

The class is free and open to the public.

This is also a great opportunity for Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts that need to earn their wildlife badge, 4H students, and families looking for an interesting educational evening.

Bulldogs Rutherford Named Frontier Conference POTW

Following a convincing victory against No. 21 Dickinson State University on Saturday night, the Frontier Conference has recognized a member of the Bulldog offense for his outstanding play in the season opener.

Sam Rutherford, a 6-foot, 225 lbs., senior running back out of Great Falls, Mont. was named as Offensive Player of the Week for week one. During the game in Miles City, Mont. Rutherford broke Montana Western's career rushing record. While accomplishing this historic feat, he also rushed for three touchdowns to go along with his 169 yards. His performance ranks him third in the nation for total rushing yards after one week, and second in total touchdowns.

"Sam is an incredible competitor and a huge part in the turnaround of our program," said Head Coach Ryan Nourse. "Getting the Frontier Conference Offensive Player of the Week the same week that he not only breaks the Bulldog career rushing record, but breaks his hand shows that he is the blue collar person that Southwest Montana is all about."

Rutherford will look to increase his newly found school record when the team heads to Caldwell, Idaho to take on the College of Idaho on Saturday, September, 3. Kickoff is scheduled for 1 p.m.
