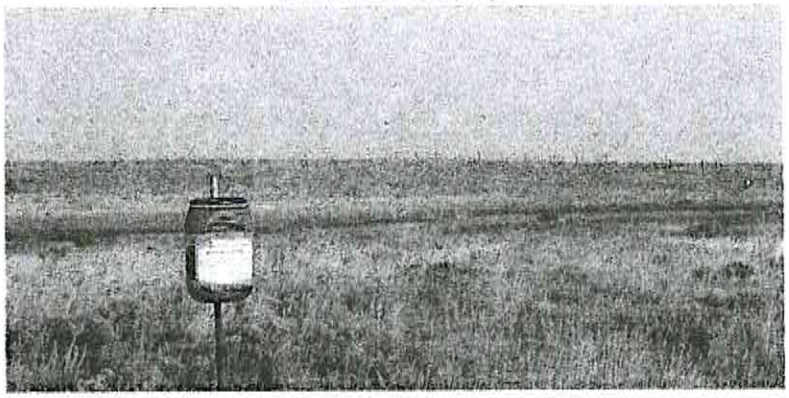
WHAT'S A WING BARREL? UPLAND GAME BIRD HUNTERS ASKED TO SHARE A WING TO HELP BIOLOGISTS



Montana Fish, Wildlife and Parks biologists will be collecting wings from hunter harvested sage-grouse, mountain grouse, and Hungarian partridges across southern Region 3 this fall.

Wing collection barrels will be placed in the following locations during the sage-grouse hunting season:

- Hook and Horn Mercantile, Wisdom, MT
- Sportsmen's Campground along the Big Hole River (Highway 43)
- Montana Fish, Wildlife and Parks' office in Dillon;
- The intersection of Big Sheep and Muddy Creeks;
- Snowline
- The intersection of the Ruby River and Sweetwater Creek Roads;
- The upper Sweetwater Creek Block Management sign-in box;
- The intersection of the Blacktail Deer Creek and Rock Creek Roads;
- The Lima Reservoir;
- The east side of the Monida Hill along the South Centennial Road,
- The intersection of the North and South Centennial Roads on the east side of the Centennial Valley;
- Near the mouth of Sage Creek;

If hunters pass by a wing-barrel while traveling from a hunt, please put one wing from each harvested bird into the barrel. Wings can also be turned into area Wildlife Biologists or Game Wardens. Wings will be used to identify birds by species and age class (juvenile or adult). This information allows biologists to monitor juvenile recruitment. If you have questions, contact Sheridan-based biologist Dean Waltee (dwaltee@mt.gov), Dillon-based biologist Craig Fager (cfager@mt.gov), or Butte-based biologist Vanna Boccadori (vboccadori@mt.gov).

Cruise for Charity

The 1st Annual Cruise for Charity event held on August 30th, 2016 was a success! The event was put on to raise money for a local non-profit organization that the attendees got to vote for. There was a great turn out and a lot going on.

We had local artist Jacob Cleverly do a LIVE art show, which was amazing, the local dance studio, Shine Studio, did a great job performing, the Humane Society walked a few dogs currently up for adoption, the Masonic Lodge sold hamburgers and hot dogs, there was a pink zebra booth, a lemonade stand and several businesses stayed open late during the event. A silent auction was also held with some amazing items and Longhorn Ropers opened their patio specifically for this event and brought Steve Catir from Neptunes Brewery in Livingston to do some "Beer For Good".We're excited about the success of the event and can't wait to do it again next year!

The Cruise for Charity non-profit organization with the most votes is...the VFW!!!!! We would like to congratulate them and thank every individual and business that made this all possible!!

See you next year!

Dear Jude.

"I'd like to have a happy marriage. We don't seem to talk an I feel resentful. Is there anything God says to help with that?"

To: Happy Families,

The Bible does give counsel to each family member, that will be helpful.

1. For husbands, Ephesians 5: 28, 29, & 33, says '..men should love their wives as they do their own bodies, no man ever hated his own flesh but nourishes and cherishes it." If a husband treats his wife like this, she will lovingly respond in kind, don't you think?

2. Wives: Ephesians 5:33 .."the wife should have 'deep' reverance (respect) for her husband." When a husband treats you like he does himself, you will develop deeper love & great reverence (or respect) for him, an this can only add to a happy relationship. They should work as a team, loving & listening to one another, an raising the children together.

3. "Children obey (listen, follow) your parents. Honor your father and your mother. So that things will go well for you." Ephesians 6:1-3 Another nice scripture helps us to remember that we must have God in our life an marriage. Isaiah 48:17 where God tells us that by listening to Him, 'he leads us an guides us.. & he guarantees you will have peace....'There are numerous other scriptures to help. Email & I can help you with those as well.

Thank you.

FUTURE FISHERIES IMPROVEMENT PROJECTS APPROVED FOR SW MONTANA

The Montana Fish & Wildlife Commission recently approved almost $250,000 in funding for 10 projects to improve Montana fisheries as part of the Future Fisheries Improvement Program (FFIP).

Five projects, with a total grant award of $179,550, are located in Southwest Montana.

These projects include the installation of riparian fencing on the Big Hole River, the creation of Arctic Grayling spawning habitat on Elk Springs Creek, a fish screen on Mulherin Creek to protect Yellowstone Cutthroat Trout from entering an irrigation ditch, a fish barrier on North Fork of Spanish Creek that will lead to protected Westslope Cutthroat Trout Habitat, and the reconnection of Yellowstone Cutthroat Trout habitat in the upper Shields River watershed.

The fisheries improvements will help native species including Arctic Grayling, Westslope Cutthroat Trout, Yellowstone Cutthroat Trout. Brown Trout and Rainbow Trout will also benefit. Improvements are intended to improve fish reproduction, survival, and population size. These grants promote conservation of native species and are also expected to improve sport fishing.

Applications for the FFIP winter-cycle grants are due by December 1 to FWP's Fisheries Habitat Bureau. Any individual or group with a project designed to restore or enhance habitat for wild or native fish may apply for FFIP funding. Applicants are encouraged to work with local FWP fisheries biologists. Landowners and other project partners usually share project costs, extending FFIP dollars.

More information and FFIP applications are available on FWP's website at fwp.mt.gov. Visit the Fishing home page, and scroll down to find the link to the Future Fisheries Improvement Program in a blue information box. Applications are also available from FWP regional offices or headquarters in Helena.
