Bette Louise Nelson

Bette Louise Nelson went home with Jesus on September 3, 2016. She was loved to the moon and back by her daughter Carrie Catling (Mike Marsh), son Tom Catling (Susan Catling), son Bill Catling (Hilary Catling), grandson Kyle Marsh (Whitney Marsh), grandson Jeremiah Catling, grandson Elias Catling and great grandchildren

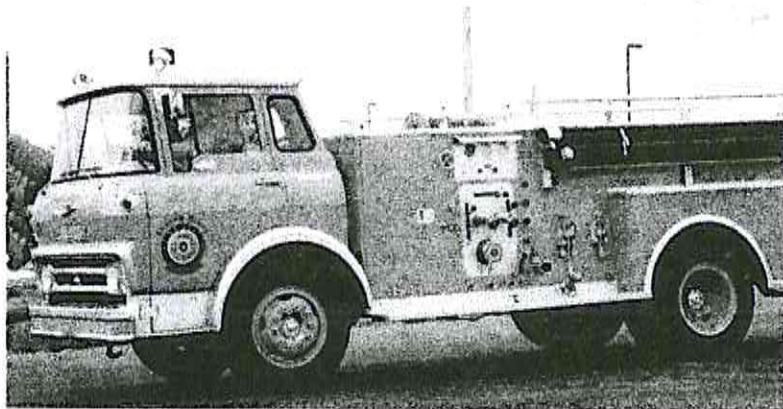

Kolby and Kyndall Marsh.

Bette was a resident at The Legacy for the past 3 years and loved calling Montana her home. She will be laid to rest next summer in Ketchikan, Alaska - where her life began 90 years ago.

Thank you Dillon for all your love and support.

Introducing Sharon Grace!

Paint and fabrication was completed by Montana Correctional Enterprises. They researched trucks from the National Pink Firetrucks website and did an awesome job! Helmets are being airbrushed and will follow soon. We delivered her in February and they kept the design secret while keeping us updated on progress. She was taken apart, totally to bare metal, and re-assembled. Tank and pump came out and seating and surface area for signing went in. Montana Womens Correctional Enterprises embroidered her name and logo into the seat covers and visor. These awesome workers should be very proud of what they have succeeded in creating!

Russ Schwandt drove her home from Deer Lodge to Dillon on Sept 1st, riding along was Joan Grogan. They were

 YELLOWSTONE TO FISHING

Montana Fish, Wildlife and Parks reopened the upper stretch of the Yellowstone River and its tributaries to fishing Tuesday – from the border of Yellowstone National Park to the Carbella Fishing Access Site. Recent surveys show this stretch has not experienced additional fish mortality since the department moved to open it to non-angling activities last week.

The section of the Yellowstone from Carbella Fishing Access Site downstream to Highway 89 Bridge Fishing Access Site remains closed to all use. FWP continues to see some dying fish in portions of this reach.

FWP will continue to monitor Yellowstone River conditions, and take into account fish mortality and test results when making decisions as to any changes in closure status.

More information on the Yellowstone fish kill can be found at http://fwp.mt.gov/news/newsReleases/headlines/nr_4278.html.

FWP also reminds recreationists to Clean. Drain. Dry as this mantra is the key to preventing the introduction and spread of aquatic invasive species and other harmful organisms.

Dreading Life

By: Marg Davis

Do you dread getting up in the morning, dread going to work, doing dishes, driving in traffic, paying bills and more? All of above are part of being a living human being in today's world.

How we approach a situation makes a difference as to whether we will enjoy it or not. When we start the day with dread, we will have a negative complaining attitude. Dread or negativism does us no good because we must drive to work, pay bills and confront other issues in our life. Why do we dread things we must and will do? Dreading the day steals the JOY of life from us.

Negativism drains our body -- Positivism energizes us.

We go to doctors hoping they will give us medication that will return our energy and give us happiness. If we approached life, no matter what it brings, with a pleasant, thankful & thoughtful attitude, displaying a smile, we would find a much different life. Could we save that doctor visits & expensive prescription if we eliminated fear, and dread from our lives?

Smile your way through a day and lighten the load on your shoulders. It will give you a different perspective and you will get out of the dread rut you might be in.

Sundaes on Wednesday Sept. 14 5-7 pm at Saint James Episcopal Church

Everyone is invited to celebrate the recent renovations at Saint James Episcopal Church at a Homecoming Open House on Wednesday, Sept. 14 from 5 to 7 pm. A ribbon cutting will take place at 5:30 pm. Ice cream will be served in the Guild Hall. You watched this work progress. You accommodated the construction workers and equipment on the corner of East Glendale and Washington Street for months. Now come see how it turned out!

The 134-year-old church itself has not changed, but there is now ramped access to the church entry and to the Guild Hall. Above the new entry door, the bell has been re-hung on a new bell tower, taking its weight off the old church and protecting the stained glass. A vaulted ceiling with skylights has replaced the leaky, low-ceilinged flat roof, and there is now a handicap-accessible restroom in the entryway. A new sidewalk curves gently up to the Guild Hall door. The project was designed and supervised by architect Kreg Jones. Jared Payne of Bridger Creek Development was the general contractor. Darrell Johnson of DJ's Signs made the new church signs. Many hands worked countless hours. Funds for the project were raised through a capital campaign among church members and friends.

Thank You's from the Garden Club

The Dillon Garden Club would like to Thank: Safeway, Wild Wood Floral and Ace Hardware for the Donation of Seeds and Flowers that were going to be handed out during the Parade on Mon. Due to the Weather The Garden Club opted out of the Parade. The Flowers were given to Legacy Assisted Living, Renaissance Senior Care centers and Park View Nursing home. The seeds will be used at a later date. Sorry we had to disappoint Parade Viewers.

Garden Club would also like to Thank: Anna Rhodes, Catherine Caine and Relay for Life members for doing such a good job taking care of the Medians on Helena Street this summer. If you see any of these people let them know how much we all appreciate and enjoy the beautiful medians.

Garden Club will be having a Speaker at our Meeting on Thurs. Sept. 15 at 7:00 at Legacy Assisted Living. Every one is invited to join us. Hope to see you there.
