Judy Hambeck Milhon

Judy and I knew each other for 30 years. We met while working at the Best Western motel in Dillon, MT. Our friendship blossomed and she became a part of our family. She bonded with our children and grandchildren. She spoiled our grandchildren as much if not more than we did. She wittingly named our dog Mr. Mutt and they became the best of buddies. Judy was as tough as nails on the outside but gentle on the inside. She never tried to impress anyone or put on airs for anyone. If you liked her, that was great, but if you didn't, she couldn't have cared less. She was affectionately known as "potato Jude" to her close friends. A nickname she acquired while working at Cottoms. She doled out pounds of potatoes to lots of people. Judy lived her life on her terms and her terms only. If you ever got a tongue lashing from her, it was something you wouldn't easily forget.

Judy helped many people get on their feet even though she was struggling to make ends meet. She fed them and let them stay with her for a few days. She liked her space and shared it only with her bird. He was a great companion for her and no one will ever replace her for him. I can't imagine how much he misses her. Lelan, Judy and I were the 3 amigos. We spent every holiday together, gambled together, and took many road trips, watched Labor Day parades and many Super Bowl games together and even drank a few beers together. I don't know how Lelan put up with the two of us sometimes, but he survived! Judy introduced Lelan and I, and celebrated 24 of our 27 wedding anniversaries with us. We'll always cherish those times. We often talked about Jim Brunzell, his wife Laura, her co-worker Tona Lawson and her husband, Alan, and the owners of the Dillon Bar. She especially liked visiting with Albert Madson because she liked hearing about the history of Dillon, and not many people knew more about Dillon than he did.

Of course she had numerous other friends. Judy liked her doughnuts and coffee in the mornings and sometimes had a doughnut for a midnight snack. She enjoyed doing word search puzzles and listening to her music. We enjoyed meeting her mom and sisters when they visited her in Dillon. We now reside in Ogden, UT but Judy knew we'd have been there in a heartbeat to help her. She said she had no emotional ties to the people who were helping her and that's the way she wanted it. She didn't want us watching her waste away day after day, but instead to remember her when she was healthy and full of life. She knew how much we cherished her, and we knew how much she cherished us. We had a wonderful 30 years together. Now, dear friend, fly with the angels, my son, my daughter, and stepson. Until we meet again, your BFF's Lean and Joan Mcquiston and family.

Building An Active Dillon Community Event September 17

On September 17th from noon to 4pm, the Building Active Communities Initiative (BACI) is hosting a community event at the Jaycee Park. BACI (made up from representation from Public Health, City of Dillon, Beaverhead County, Walking School Bus, Beaverhead Trails Coalition, Dillon Main Street, Beaverhead Development Corporation, University of Montana Western, Dillon Police Department, and interested community members) has been working collaboratively to develop a common goal and develop strategies to educate and inform our community of the walkability and bikability out their backdoor and beyond. To kick start this goal, the group wanted to bring attention to the pathways in and around Dillon that can be accessed either by walking, biking, or using a wheelchair. We are working towards creating a safer and more accessible transportation and recreation environment for Beaverhead County citizens and visitors whether they walk, bike, take a bus, use a wheelchair, or drive a car.

This is a family event where kids can play in the model splash park (wear your swim suits!) and participate in the Bike Rodeo with Police Chief Paul Craft. We encourage kids to bring their own bikes and helmets. If a child does not own a bike, we have bikes they can borrow as well as a few helmets. Bike safety checks and helmet fitting will be available to ensure the kids' bikes are in good shape. Information will be provided on the Walking School Bus, Rx Trails, Beaverhead Trails Coalition, and Safe and Accessible Streets along with guided tours at the following times:

- Walking School Bus Route - 12pm
- Historical Business District - 1pm (takes 1.5 - 2 hours)
- Rx Trails - 2pm
- Beaverhead Trails Coalition - 3pm (tour to the "M")

Food will be available at $6/plate starting at noon and until we run out. For more information, please contact Sue Hansen at Beaverhead County Public Health, 683-4771.

Montana Western Finishes Strong in Rodeo Opener

The University of Montana Western Rodeo team rode into action for the first time this past weekend for two rodeos at Northwest College. The two day rodeo saw the men's team finish in the top three on both days, while the women's squad also finished with high results on both Friday and Saturday.

On Friday, the men finished second, only 22 points behind Montana State University. Jeret Angell led the scoring team with 145 points, finishing first in the saddle bronc competition. Tanner Butner and Caden Wiley finished third and tied-seventh in the same competition. In bareback riding, Tristan Hansen shared first place honors with Montana State's Jesse Nelson, garnering the team 135.5 points. Brody Smith and Talon Schneider placed behind Hansen in fourth and fifth place.

In the men's all-around competition, Michael Vines finished second overall with a score of 290, after winning performances in steer wrestling and team roping. Smith finished fourth in the all-around with 176 points.

On the women side of things, Tess Turk preformed at a very high level, finishing in the top five in all her events (team roping, breakaway roping, and goat tying). Her performance secured herself second place in the individual standings, and helped the team secure second in the overall behind Montana State. Other results included Jessica Partner finishing tied for third in breakaway roping, as well as points team members Marlee Mussmann and Regan Wubben finishing fifth and six in goat tying.

Saturday saw the women take revenge on Montana State, winning the team overall competition by over 100 points, thanks to Bulldog riders taking first in every female singles event. Jaylee Stimpson won barrel racing, turning in a time of 17.69 second. Stimpson also won breakaway roping in a time of 2.7 seconds, securing her victory in the individual all-around. Turk finished first in goat tying, with teammates Abigail Wilkerson, Charleyne Yeager, and Lorrie Smith following close behind.

The men finished in third place on day two, despite Tanner Butner winning the saddle bronc riding competition, as well as Tristian Hansen securing the victory in bull riding. Garrett Mussman and Jake Worthen placed strong in Tie Down Roping, finish in second and fourth.

After two rodeos, the men's team sits securely in second place overall with a total of 869.50 points. The women find themselves in the same position, unchallenged in second with 906.00 points overall.

Both teams have a quick turnaround, heading back into action this coming Friday and Saturday when they head to Helena, Mont. For the Big Sky Regional Rodeo. For full team and individual results, please go to www.collegerodeo.com

Patagonia Dillon hosting fundraiser for Khumbu Climbing Center in Nepal

University of Montana Western Professor Steve Mock and Chhonga Sherpa will be featured at a fundraiser for the Khumbu Climbing Center (KCC) on Thursday, Sept. 15, 2016 at the Patagonia outlet store in Dillon, Mont.

The KCC is a non-profit organization working with Nepalese climbers and high-altitude workers in the Mt. Everest area. Their goal is to increase responsible climbing practices within Nepal's economically vital tourism and guiding industry. Mock serves as co-director of the KCC located in Phortse, Nepal, just 15 miles from the base of Mt. Everest.

Sherpa's father was involved with the 1953 Sir Edmund Hillary Everest expedition. Sherpa served as a base camp cook for author Jon Krakauer's 1996 Everest expedition. Krakauer's book about the trip, "Into Thin Air," tells the story of the tragic events that killed eight climbers on the mountain.

Sherpa will share stories from the expeditions he's been involved with and a slideshow will be presented.

The event begins at 6:30 p.m. and includes complimentary Nepalese food. Beverages will also be served.

Patagonia Outlet Dillon located at 16 S Idaho St, Dillon, MT 59725.

Hey Jude, is there anything wrong with texting?

There is nothing wrong with texting using some general guidelines. I ran across an article that gives some texting tips. "Jw. org Young People Ask."

*WHO to text! If you give out your number to just anyone you could get into trouble. Be selective, have a small group of friends who can be trusted not to share your #. Don't become overly familiar with everyone. You may receive unwanted texts or pictures from people that you don't know well, or at all.

Proverbs 22:3 tells us to "be shrewd, an to think before we do something to avoid problems down the road."

*WHAT to text! Text message is fast an fun, but also very easy for someone to read between the lines an develop romantic or wrong ideas. With texting you can't sense emotions, or the tone of voice. Even with emoticons, people can misunderstand. Your reputation can quickly be ruined thru texts.

Proverbs 15:21, tells us to "think before we say or do something, don't just blurt out (or text) something that could hurt someone." Don't put photos of yourself, especially suggestive ones on your site for the "public" fix your settings to "friends only." They could quickly pop up anywhere, & end up in the hands of pedophiles or worse. Keep yourself safe. Ask your friends NOT to share. Don't text anything that you wouldn't say in person. Reread a text before sending it. Think, "is this something that should be said" "in person" rather than informally thru text? All situations are different.

*WHEN you text! Use "texting etiquette." You don't want to come off rude or repel your friends. Definitely "don't text while driving." Don't endanger yourself or others on the road. Turn your phone off while driving so not to be tempted. Don't text when with others in a group, it is rude an disrespectful.

Phillipines 2:4, helps us to "look out for other persons best interest."

Spay/Neuter Clinic

The Next Spay/Neuter Clinic will be held at the Shelter this coming Friday, September 16. The fee will be $20 for a male cat, $40 for a female cat, and $40 for either male or female dogs. This is a very affordable price so we encourage pet owners to take advantage of this offer. Please call the Shelter at 406-683-8119 to schedule your pet.

Dear Livestock Producers,

Montana State University Extension beef cattle specialists will host summer meetings across Montana to help livestock producers understand the new ruling by the United States Food and Drug Administration concerning feed-grade antibiotics.

The veterinary feed directive, or VFD, was developed by the USFDA and will impact how producers feed their livestock. The VFD impacts feed-grade antibiotics that are medically important, which are antibiotics used in both human and animal medicine.
The VFD rule will be implemented on Jan. 1, 2017.

In preparation for the rule, MSU Extension Beef Cattle Specialists Megan Van Emon and Rachel Endecott and Montana Veterinary Medical Association President-Elect Katie Rein will present a series of meetings throughout Montana. The meetings will focus on the VFD basics, label changes, veterinary-client-patient-relationships, required information on a VFD form, impacts on minor species and other information.

Meeting attendees will be given information in a binder, courtesy of the Western Extension Risk Management Education Center. They will also receive a certificate of completion which should make the process easier moving forward. All meetings will be held from 1-5 p.m. Following is the date and contact information for the agent. Please contact the office and RSVP if you intend to attend the VFD meeting in Dillon so we can create enough binders for each participant. (Please call soon!)
