Montana Western completes an eventful block one

University of Montana Western students completed their first "block" of 2016-17 this week. The university is the only public four-year institution teaching under Experience One where students take a single-class-at-a-time in 18-day blocks.

"At Montana Western, faculty provide concentrated, hands-on experiences allowing our students to become fully involved in their education. They learn while doing and Experience One makes education much more meaningful now and into the future," Chancellor Beth Weatherby said.

Weatherby said examples of Experience One in action during block one include:

Geology Professor Rebekah Levine's hydrology class was busy assessing beaver activity and wetlands generation on Alkali Creek southeast of Dillon, as well as assessing restoration work by The Nature Conservancy on Long and Middle Creeks in the the Centennial Valley.

First-year environmental sciences Professor Spruce Schoenemann spent eight of the 18 block days in the field with his geology of the American west class. Students experienced class subject matter by traveling to areas including the university's Birch Creek Outdoor Center in the Pioneer Mountains, Yellowstone National Park, Craters of the Moon National Monument and geologic locations throughout Beaverhead County.

"It was great spending so much time out in the field obtaining experience I will be able to use after I graduate and begin my career," junior Sharon Williams said.

Williams is currently pursuing an environmental sciences degree with an emphasis in geology. She plans to later obtain a Master of Science in cartography and geographic information system (GIS) and begin working in GIS.

"By the end of the 18-day class, my geology students are able to assess the landscape around the intermountain west, interpret the geologic and surficial processes at work, and predict how the landscape may evolve in the future," Schoenemann said. "This wouldn't be possible without the fieldwork exposure and the immersive nature of classes at UMW."

Longtime Professor of English Alan Weltzien took students from his English composition class outside of the classroom to experience scenes from Norman Maclean's books, "A River Runs Through It" and "Young Men and Fire." For the former, the class was given a guided tour of the Blackfoot River near Seeley, Mont. and shown the locations mentioned in Maclean's classic novel.

"Spending the day sitting on the bank of the Big Blackfoot River listening to a kind, old fly fisherman read passages from "A River Runs Through It" was the best way to spend an English class," freshman Madison Singleton said. "I'm blessed that I get to go to a school where we can have experiences like this. I have never felt anything so powerful as hearing Norman Maclean's words while sitting in the very scenes he was describing."

Weltzien's class also traveled just north of Helena, Mont. to the Gates of the Mountains Wilderness to hike into Mann Gulch and discuss the tragic true story of "Young Men and Fire." Maclean's book deconstructs the Mann Gulch fire and events that led to the death of 13 smokejumpers in 1949.

"It's not enough for my students to simply read Norman Maclean. They need to get outside and experience his words firsthand," Weltzien said. "Experience One affords the opportunity to go on these kinds of trips that have a profound impact on students' ability to comprehend the material."

Under Experience One, Montana Western students attend eight blocks, or classes, throughout the school year receiving the same amount of credit as under traditional semesters.

Dyeing with Native Plants Workshop

Join the U.S. Forest Service and the Calypso Chapter of the Native Plant Society in a fun workshop using native plants to extract natural dyes. Participants will learn how to use some of our local, and not so local, flora to extract dyes for coloring silk and wool materials.

Participants are asked to bring a small item of silk or wool to dye, or items can be purchased at the event to dye.

The workshop will be held in Dillon on October 2 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Beaverhead County 4-H Building at the Fairgrounds. Participants are advised to bring a sack lunch and beverage.

The event is free and open to the public, however, space is limited and reservations are required. Contact Jessie Salix at (406) 683-3947 to reserve your spot in the workshop.

LIFESTYLE MATTERS: THE BODY AND BRAIN CONNECTION

Guest Speaker: John Underwood

We would like to invite you to an event that Montana Be The Change 406 Coalition and Beaverhead County Adverse Childhood Experiences Task Force are excited to bring to our community. Be the Change 406 Coalition works toward reducing underage drinking, binge drinking and prescription drug misuse. The ACEs study looks at the impact of adverse experiences on children and how that affects lifelong health.

John Underwood, former Olympian and Olympic coach, and human performance expert, will present on:

Tuesday, September 27th at 7pm at UMW Beier Auditorium.

The topic for the evening is "Lifestyle Matters: The Body and Brain Connection" which will include information about the importance of sleep, nutrition, central nervous system recovery, and perhaps most importantly, being drug/alcohol free. Kids perform better and make better choices when they're given information about how choices affect their overall well-being.

Professional ball teams and Olympians spend thousands of dollars to have Mr. Underwood work with them. I hope you'll be able to take advantage this free educational opportunity aimed at raising awareness of the direct correlation between lifestyle choices and the human body.

Mr. Underwood has trained or advised more than two dozen Olympians including many World and Olympic Champions. He studied Human Performance at the Sport Institute of Finland. He holds three International Olympic Solidarity diplomas for coaching and has been a crusader for drug-free sport at all levels. John is an internationally recognized human performance expert, specializing in recovery, peak training, and lifestyle as it impacts mental and physical performance. John has worked extensively with professional players and with nearly all sport federations including the National Federation of High School Athletics, NCAA, NHL, NFL, and the NBA. He has worked for three decades with the USOC, Sport Canada and the International Olympic Committee. He is also a human performance consultant for the U.S. Navy SEALs. John's innovative "Life of an Athlete Program" has gained international prominence and has presented at hundreds of schools throughout the country and abroad.

We look forward to seeing you the 27th.

Bulldogs Break Losing Streak by Steamrolling Lights

The University of Montana Western (3-2, 2-2) found themselves back home after two road defeats looking to break their losing streak, and they did just that. Behind an explosive offense and stifling defense, the Dawgs thrashed the MSU-Northern Lights (1-3, 1-2) 50-6 at Vigilante Stadium on Booster Bash Weekend.

The Bulldogs came out of the gates as if they had something to prove, and by the end of the first quarter had built a substantial lead. Hunter Thomsen (Great Falls, Mont./CMR) found pay dirt first, as he scampered 30 yards for the touchdown. Not to be outdone, fellow running back Austin Urlacher (Pasco, Wash./Chiwanna) was next to find the end zone. This time it was by way of a 37-yard run to make the score 14-0. The passing game joined in on the fun as the quarter came to a close when J.D. Ferris (Dillon, Mont./Beaverhead County) connected with George Sherwood (Kalispell, Mont./Sentinel) on a 4-yard touchdown pass to bring the score to 21-0 after one.

MSU-Norther finally got on the board when Tommy Langley hit his first of two field goals, a 38-yard attempt, at the 10:19 mark in the second quarter making the score 21-3. Seth Mason (Hamilton, Mont./Hamilton) would go on to add a field goal of his own, a 29-yard try to bring the score to 24-3. Less than three minutes later, Ferris would hit Charlie Switzer (Richey, Mont./Richey-Lambert) on a 2-yard touchdown pass to make it 31-3. The Dawgs closed out the scoring in the first half when Urlacher would once again run for a touchdown, this one good for 22-yards to make the halftime score 38-3.

In the third, Langley hit his second field goal with 8:54 on the clock to make it 38-6. That would be the last time that the Lights would score in the ballgame. Mason would go on to hit a 35-yard field goal late in the third, and J.D. tallied his third touchdown of the game by hitting Tyler Murray (Hamilton, Mont./Hamilton) for an 8-yard strike. A Northern safety would add two more points on the board for the good guys, and wrapped up the scoring to give us our final of 50-6.

Ferris finished the game with three touchdowns and 274 yards. The Bulldogs as a team racked up 517 yards compared to the Lights 226. Thomsen ran for 117 yards on 21 carries, including a touchdown. Urlacher averaged more than 8-yards a carry and finished with 85 on 10 attempts. Urlacher also had a 100 yard receiving day, catching two passed with a long of 45. Murray caught three for 63 yards, and Sherwood tallied 45 yards with the same number of catches. For the Lights, Zach McKinley rushed for 71 yards on 23 carries and Jess Krahn passed for 139 yards on 20 completions.

On the defensive side of the ball, T.J. Benson had 11 total tackles, Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks is seeking applicants to fill several volunteer positions on the Region 3 Citizens' Advisory Committee (CAC). FWP is interested in selecting members from a pool of candidates who represent a variety of interests and communities within the region. Terms will begin in 2017.

The Citizens' Advisory Committee helps FWP achieve its goals by sharing information, ideas, emerging trends and initiatives from the public in a setting that welcomes differing points of view. Citizen advisors serve in a voluntary capacity with meals and travel expenses provided. Meetings are generally held quarterly in Bozeman. All meetings are open to the public.

Specifically, the functions of the CAC are to:

- Help promote Montana's strong outdoor recreation traditions
- Provide a forum for ongoing two-way communication with our neighbors and communities in southwest Montana
- Help FWP personnel maintain and improve responsiveness to the public
- Help FWP identify emerging issues
- Provide advice and perspective on important resource and management issues
- Assist FWP with crafting local, sustainable solutions on regional and statewide issues

Applicants will be asked to provide an overview of their interests and involvement in natural resource issues. Finalists may be asked to interview by phone or in person.

To obtain an application, visit the FWP Region 3 office at 1400 S. 19th Ave., call 406-994-4042, or email anjones@mt.gov. Completed applications must be returned to FWP by Oct. 31, 2016. Applicants will be notified by email (or mail if requested) by the end of the year about the results of the selection process.
