Montana Western Campus Community Garden Begins Fall Harvest

The annual campus community garden Work for Food program begins on Wednesday, Sept. 28, 2016 between 3:30 and 5 p.m., Professor of Environmental Sciences Linda Lyon announced today.

"On and off-campus students are encouraged to come to the garden ready to help out with this year's harvest," Lyon said. "They will be rewarded with a box of delicious, organic vegetables for their hard work."

The campus community garden serves as a learning resource for UMW students and members of the community and features integrated renewable energy systems, two greenhouses, a native plant trail and over 20 community garden plots.

This week's harvest includes pumpkins, tomatoes, cucumbers and zucchini. The program will run from Wednesday, Sept. 28 through Friday, Sept. 30.

The garden is located behind the Youth Challenge building at 790 E Cornell St, Dillon, Mont. 59725.

TWO RECENT INCIDENTS INVOLVING GRIZZLIES; ARCHERY HUNTERS REMINDED TO STAY ALERT IN BEAR COUNTRY

Montana Fish, Wildlife and Parks is urging archery hunters to stay alert for bears, to know what to do in the case of an encounter, and remember that all of southwest Montana is bear country. Two weekend incidents involving grizzly bears drive this message home.

On Saturday afternoon, a hunter received minor injuries after encountering a presumed grizzly while calling for elk in the Cabin Creek area north of Hebgen Lake.

Then Sunday morning, another man hunting elk with his bow on the north side of the Tom Miner basin north of Gardiner was mauled by what his hunting party believes was a female grizzly with two cubs. He suffered bite injuries.

Both hunters were treated at local hospitals and released.

While it is impossible to prevent all events like these, archery hunters should understand the inherent risk of hunting in bear country and do what they can to avoid encountering grizzlies.

Before venturing into an area, hunters should take notice of warning signs at trailheads, observe the brush at a distance for movement and look at the ground and trees for bear sign (i.e. tracks, scat, and trees scratches). Bear spray should be carried in an accessible place and hunting with at least one other person is highly recommended (in all cases).

Note that areas with high deer and elk hunting success may attract bears (ravens circling may indicate a kill). Elk bugling and cow calling also may bring in bears. It is important to stay alert.

Hunters should have with them what they need to immediately field dress their game. If hunters have success in the field and can't haul their meat out right away they should remove the meat from the kill site and hang it at least ten feet off the ground and at least 150 yards from the gut pile.

Returning to the meat later, a hunter should check with his or her binoculars to see if the meat has been disturbed. Hunters should never attempt to haze a bear off a kill.

More information about safety in the outdoors and bear awareness can be at FWP's website here: http://fwp.mt.gov/recreation/safety/wildlife/bears/bearsAndHunters.html.

IRS and Security Summit Partners Warn of Fake Tax Bill Emails

The Internal Revenue Service and its Security Summit partners today issued an alert to taxpayers and tax professionals to be on guard against fake emails purporting to contain an IRS tax bill related to the Affordable Care Act.

The IRS has received numerous reports around the country of scammers sending a fraudulent version of CP2000 notices for tax year 2015. Generally, the scam involves an email that includes the fake CP2000 as an attachment. The issue has been reported to the Treasury Inspector General for Tax Administration for investigation.

The CP2000 is a notice commonly mailed to taxpayers through the United States Postal Service. It is never sent as part of an email to taxpayers. The indicators are:

- These notices are being sent electronically, even though the IRS does not initiate contact with taxpayers by email or through social media platforms;
- The CP 2000 notices appear to be issued from an Austin, Texas, address;
- The underreported issue is related to the Affordable Care Act (ACA) requesting information regarding 2014 coverage;
- The payment voucher lists the letter number as 105C.

The fraudulent CP2000 notice included a payment request that taxpayers mail a check made out to "I.R.S." to the "Austin Processing Center" at a Post Office Box address. This is in addition to a "payment" link within the email itself.

IRS impersonation scams take many forms: threatening telephone calls, phishing emails and demanding letters. Learn more at Reporting Phishing and Online Scams.

Taxpayers or tax professionals who receive this scam email should forward it to phishing@irs.gov and then delete it from their email account.

Taxpayers and tax professionals generally can do a keyword search on IRS.gov for any notice they receive. Taxpayers who receive a notice or letter can view explanations and images of common correspondence on IRS.gov at Understanding Your IRS Notice or Letter.

To determine if a CP2000 notice you received in the mail is real, see the Understanding Your CP2000 Notice, which includes an image of a real notice.

A CP2000 is generated by the IRS Automated Underreporter Program when income reported from third-party sources such as an employer does not match the income reported on the tax return. It provides extensive instructions to taxpayers about what to do if they agree or disagree that additional tax is owed.

It also requests that a check be made out to "United States Treasury" if the taxpayer agrees additional tax is owed. Or, if taxpayers are unable to pay, it provides instructions for payment options such as installment payments.

The IRS and its Security Summit partners – the state tax agencies and the private-sector tax industry – are conducting a campaign to raise awareness among taxpayer and tax professionals about increasing their security and becoming familiar with various tax-related scams. Learn more at Taxes. Security. Together. or Protect Your Clients; Protect Yourself.

Taxpayers and tax professional should always beware of any unsolicited email purported to be from the IRS or any unknown source. They should never open an attachment or click on a link within an email sent by sources they do not know.

Bulldogs Close Out Home Stand With Huge Win

Looking to battle themselves back to a .500 record and first place in the conference, the University of Montana Western Bulldogs (8-8, 3-1) welcomed the No. 25 Lewis-Clark State Warriors (6-7, 2-2) to the Straugh on Sunday afternoon. The Dawgs all-around team performance helped them beat LC State, a team they haven't beaten in over 10 years, in four sets (25-21, 25-13, 22-25, 25-18).

Shaking off the tough loss against Tech on Thursday, the Lady Bulldogs came right out of the gate taking set one 25-23 and set two in a very convincing score of 25-13. The Warriors, a team that lost two straight coming into play, sensed another tough battle and never trailed in set three, winning 25-22. Try to prevent LC State from climbing back into the game, the Dawgs played a teeter totter fourth set before pulling away to win 25-18, and to take the match 3-1.

Cady Siemion, Bailey Wilson, and Kylie McCree each had 10 kills on the afternoon. Wilson also had three blocks. The cornerstone of the assist game, Callie Hanson, once again had a very solid match, tallying 41 total assists. Dylan Fowler led the Dawgs with 17 kills, followed by Siemion and Wilson with 13. Along with Wilsons three blocks, Britney Chilcott added three of her own to the teams total of 9. For the Warriors, Kennadie Clute had 11 kills and 17 digs and Amber Hillstead had 19 assists.

Heading into today's play, the Warriors had beaten the Bulldogs in 29 straight contests going back to 2006. Those 29 straight victories included 24 wins by a match score of 3-0.

Coach Brent Lewis was thrilled to hear that that streak had been broken, but said the success was all on his players. "I didn't mention anything about LC being ranked before the game. I just didn't want that in their heads. But we obviously had girls that wanted to prove something and they went out and did it."

In regards to his team never giving up and having a strong willed tenacity, Lewis said, "I really don't know where that came from. They've just taken it open themselves to get the job done and push when it matters the most."

The Bulldogs will now have the week to practice before heading out on a lengthy road trip, which starts in Billings against Rocky Mountain on Friday, Sept. 30th. The next home match will be Oct. 20th versus University of Great Falls. A full recap of all games will be available on umwbulldogs.com
