Dorothy Rebich Meine, 86

Dorothy Rebich Meine passed away Thursday morning, October 6th, at Barrett Hospital in Dillon surrounded by her family. She died of a broken heart which the best medical care and loving support and encouragement from her entire family and close friends could not fix.

Dorothy Ann Rebich was born September 4, 1930, the sixth of eleven children of Joseph G. and Mary Malesich Rebich. She was born and raised at the original Rebich ranch home near Barretts Station on what is known as Old Stage Road and now owned by her brothers Phil and Joe, Jr. She attended grade school at the old Blacktail School and high school at Beaverhead County High School in Dillon with the class of 1948.

Dorothy Ann and Robert E. "Bob" Meine were married May 11, 1947, by Justice of the Peace Louis Stahl at the old Stahl house in Dillon. Dorothy was only 16 years old at the time and living at home. She was supposed to braid her two youngest sisters' hair for their First Communion the next day; and when her mother, "Ma", told "Pa" to get Dorothy up so she could braid the hair, he told his wife that Dorothy didn't come home last night and he was sure she'd gotten married. Her sisters claim to this day that Dorothy got married because she was tired of braiding their hair.

Being one of the older siblings of six girls and only two boys, Dorothy did a lot of work on the ranch and was especially helpful to her dad during the haying season. It's said that her new father-in-law, Henry Meine, was pretty excited to get the new hay hand on his ranch. Bob and Dorothy's wedding reception held in the granary at the Meine ranch was a talked-about event for many years to come. In fact, there are still people around Dillon who remember that reception with a great deal of enthusiasm.

Bob and Dorothy lived and worked on the Meine ranch most of their lives, and Dorothy helped with all aspects of the work, along with raising five children. They spent summers in the Centennial Valley from approximately 1955 until 1960, where they lived in a summer home with an outhouse, wood cooking stove, and only gravity fed cold running water. Her children remember there always seemed to be extra kids around, and none of them remember ever helping with the cooking or dishes. After Bob's father's death in 1960, summers were spent in Small Horn, where Dorothy once again cooked for the entire family and extras on a wood stove, only this time with no running water. Even after they began spending summers at their "new" cabin up on the Flynn Meadow in Small Horn, Dorothy was the one who did the spring cleaning, oiling the wood, and hosting.

Bob and Dorothy moved into their new log home on Flynn Lane south of Dillon in 1978, where they spent the rest of their

Attorney General Fox Joins Brief to U.S. Supreme Court in Support of Human Trafficking

Attorney General Tim Fox announced Montana has joined 20 other states in filing an amicus brief in support of three young human trafficking victims who filed suit against Backpage.com, a website that is known for hosting advertisements for prostitution, including advertisements involving minors who are victims of sex trafficking.

The case centers on whether a website owner/operator may be civilly sued for designing its website to facilitate sex trafficking by third parties. The U.S. Court of Appeals for the First Circuit ruled in March of this year that the federal Communications Decency Act (CDA) precludes such lawsuits. The brief, Doe, et al. v. Backpage.com, LLC, et al., urges the U.S. Supreme Court to hear the case and reverse the First Circuit's decision. The victims contend the CDA does not shield Backpage from liability for deliberately making tools available on its website that facilitate sex trafficking.

"When the First Circuit interpreted federal law this spring to shield Backpage from liability for designing its website to facilitate sex trafficking, it resulted in states being extremely handicapped in how we prosecute websites that are complicit in sex trafficking," Attorney General Tim Fox said. "The internet is the primary method of advertising the availability of children for sex; operators of these websites should not be immune from liability for the serious harm inflicted upon the children they actively exploit."

Fighting human trafficking and providing victims with services to rebuild their lives has been a priority for Attorney General Fox. In the 2013 legislative session, his office supported HB 478 (Rep. Sarah Laszloffy), which criminalized the transport of persons across state lines for the purposes of commercial sexual activity and established the crime of subjecting a child to sexual servitude. The Attorney General's Office also supported HB 488 (Rep. Jenifer Gursky), which required the Montana Department of Justice to create a poster with the contact information for the National Trafficking Resource Center and place it in interstate and highway rest areas.

In 2014, Montana joined other states and territories in asking members of the Senate Judiciary Committee to support the Stop Advertising Victims of Exploitation Act (SAVE) Act (S. 2536) to provide more oversight of websites like Backpage.com. Their letter is available to read or download here.

During the 2015 legislative session, HB 89 was drafted by the Attorney General's Office and sponsored by Rep. Kim Dudik. This legislation, which became law last summer, updated Montana's human trafficking laws to reflect the model state human trafficking act and gave state statutes the clear definitions and penalties needed to protect children and help sex trafficking victims on the road to recovery. As a result of this legislation, a national non-profit ranked Montana last fall as one of the top three states in America for its efforts to prevent child sex trafficking.

Volleyball played well against Butte East in Butte. Neither 7th nor 8th grade teams could pull off a win. The girls, however, played hard and are much improved. This was the last B game for 7th and 8th.

Boys basketball begins Monday, October 24th. 8th grade will practice in the new gym, while 7th grade practices in the DMS gym. Remember, you will be unable to participate until you have your concussion packet completed - which includes 5 pages that need to be signed. Three pages regard concussions, one is your physical, and the last is the parent permission form. If you participated in football or cross country you only need to fill out and sign a new parent permission form. 6th grade boys' basketball will begin Monday, October 31st after school in the Parkview gym.

ALERT: ANGLING RESTRICTION LIFTED ON LOWER BIG HOLE RIVER

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks is alerting the public that the angling restriction on the Lower Big Hole River is being lifted; effective Friday October 7th due to improved stream flows.

The restriction being lifted Friday will open the following section of the Big Hole River to all-day fishing:

The Big Hole from Notch Bottom Fishing Access Site to the Confluence with the Beaverhead River

Regional Fisheries Manager Travis Horton says the recent weather pattern have resulted in stream flows reaching drought plan reopening criteria. This section of the Big Hole River was the last remaining fishing restriction due to drought conditions in Southwest Montana.

"Recent weather patterns have brought much needed precipitation, and drought plan reopening criteria have been met."

For up-to-date information on restrictions related to drought, visit <http://fwp.mt.gov/news/restrictions/>.
