Bernard Jules Wenger

Bernard Jules Wenger, 85, passed away Oct. 12, 2016 after a long, courageous battle with cancer. He was born in Jackson to Jules and Leonne (Foussard) Wenger. At 17, he joined the Air Force and proudly served through the Korean Conflict. Afterwards he returned home to Dillon and received a bachelor of science in education at Western Montana College.

While attending college he met and married Cleo Bagley on Aug. 22, 1954. A year later they started their family with the birth of their first child. After graduating in 1956 he moved his family to Townsend where he began his teaching career. In 1959 he moved Cleo and their three children to Columbia Falls where he built his family the home where they lived for 35 years. During his time in Columbia Falls he went back to school and earned a master's degree in counseling and psychology.

When not attending school during the summers he worked on building the Plum Creek Particle Plant and for Glacier National Park.

Upon retiring from the Columbia Falls School District he worked full time in Glacier National Park which left the winters open for Cleo and him to travel south.

They eventually became snowbirds and lived in Florence, Arizona. In 2011 the yearly trip became too much and they moved to Florence, Arizona as permanent residents. In January, his health failed and he and Cleo moved to Casa Grande, Arizona to live with their daughters, Debbie and Dianna. In August, Cleo and Bernie proudly celebrated 62 years of marriage.

He is survived by his wife, Cleo Wenger, his daughters Debbie Wenger, Dianna Wenger, and Kari Wenger (Leroy Slicker); his sons Rodney Wenger (Pegi), and Charles Scott Wenger (Susan); his sisters Peggy Actis and Yvonne Hull (Frog) and a brother, Richard Wenger (Rosemary). He is also is survived by nine grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Bernard was preceded in death by his parents, an infant son, his youngest son, John Jules Wenger, and a grandson, Mathew Thomas Slicker.

A memorial will be held sometime next Spring in Dillon with burial at Fort Missoula.

Montana Western professor attends National Science Foundation workshop

Michelle Anderson, professor of biology at the University of Montana Western, is attending a workshop in Baltimore, MD with the National Science Foundation Research Coordination Network.

The National Science Foundation is an independent federal agency created by Congress in 1950 whose mission includes support for fields of fundamental science and engineering.

The workshop, titled Next Generation Careers: Innovation in Environmental Biology Education, supports workforce development for college graduate career progression into environmental biology, including fields such as ecology, evolution, conservation, plant biology and natural resource management.

"I look forward to bringing ideas back to campus to share with students and colleagues and discussing ways to grow our science and math programs and provide our students with excellent post-grad opportunities," Anderson said.

Next Generation Careers (NGC) is an incubator projected funded by the National Science Foundation in the undergraduate biology education track of the Research Coordination Network Program.

Anderson, a member of NGC, is attending the workshop with 35 other academics, professionals and industry participants from around the country.

Anderson said she plans to integrate the information she gathers into science career workshops offered to students and faculty late in the fall semester.

A professor at Montana Western since 2009, Anderson's research explores how ecological and social systems based on marine and freshwater resources respond to natural and human mediated disturbance.

For more information about Next Generation Careers visit nextgen.org.

Multiple Award-Winning Author of The Ghost at Beaverhead Rock to Appear Here

Carol Buchanan, author of "The Ghost at Beaverhead Rock," will sign books and talk with readers about her books at The Bookstore, 26 N. Idaho, in Dillon, MT, from 12 – 2 PM on Saturday, October 22, 2016.

The Bannack-Alder Gulch region had more gold than most people could conceive of lying ready to hand for those who didn't mind a lot of back-breaking work.

However, there were those who wanted the gold but scorned the labor. SIn this vacuum of law, a group of men took responsibility for law and order and earned their place in history as the Vigilantes of Montana. All four books will be available at the event. If you have any questions or would like to reserve your copies please call 683-6807.

Just so you know:

A lot of people have this title confused.
The Greatest Boxer of All Time didn't die recently...he died 47 years ago. He didn't have 5 losses, he had 0.
He didn't have 37 Knock Outs he had 43 (88%).
He didn't dodge the draft. He wasn't a race baiter and sure as hell didn't convert to Islam.
He was a local kid named Rocky Marciano, aka The Brockton Blockbuster.
Don't let the mainstream media idolize false prophets.
When he was asked on TV if he could've knocked out Ali in his prime his response was oh so classical!!

HUNTER PARTICIPATION UP DURING ANTELOPE SEASON

Biologists report antelope season hunter participation is up in southwest Montana given early data gathered at the Kidd check station south of Dillon on opening weekend and anecdotal reports from around the region.

Specifically at the Kidd station on Oct. 8 and Oct.9, staff spoke with 251 antelope hunters. 158 Harvested at least one antelope. A total of 173 antelope were checked over the weekend leading to an overall success rate of 63 percent, up from 61 percent the year before.

Area Biologist Dean Waltee says weather conditions and population numbers contributed to hunter success, and says even the unsuccessful hunters saw antelope during their outings.

"All but a few hunters reported at least observing antelope, and only one percent saw no game animals at all," said Waltee.

In general, Waltee advises hunters to avoid large crowds to improve the experience and chance of harvest – especially on opening weekend.

Waltee also reminds hunters they are required to stop at check stations whether they were successful or not, and that they need to keep evidence of sex naturally attached to one hind quarter of a headless or quartered big game animal, or to a muscle from one hind quarter of a boned out big game animal.

Mt. Jefferson Closure Boundaries Updated

Officials at the Beaverhead-Deerlodge National Forest have issued a revised forest order that identifies boundaries of the area north of Mt. Jefferson in SW Montana. This area is closed to all winter motorized off highway vehicle use.

"The reason for this closure is that it has been identified in the 2009 Forest Plan as Wolverine habitat and as a proposed wilderness area," said Madison District Ranger Dale Olson. "This new order clearly identifies and updates where the boundaries are located. We had land surveyors complete formal boundary delineation of the area this spring so that we can accurately describe the boundary locations for this closure."

This order helps to support and improve Beaverhead-Deerlodge NF's collaboration with area partners to improve the description and communication with all winter recreation users of this popular area. To find out where the boundaries are located, go online to view the order at: http://www.fs.usda.gov/alerts/bdnf/alerts-notices.

The Beaverhead-Deerlodge NF Snow Ranger education program will actively monitor and educate users in the Mt. Jefferson area during the 2016-2017 winter season.

For more information contact the Madison Ranger District in Ennis at (407) 682-4253.

EBMS IS NEW CORPORATE SPONSOR OF FRONTIER CONFERENCE

Frontier Conference commissioner Kent Paulson announced today that Employee Benefit Management Services, Inc. (EBMS) has joined the Frontier Conference as a corporate sponsor.

"We are delighted to add EBMS to our Frontier Conference family of sponsors," Paulson said. "EBMS has a long history as a health care company in our region and we in our league truly welcome them as the 'Official Healthcare Provider of the Frontier Conference'. I want to personally thank the Larson Family for their company's support and in particular want to thank Kevin Larson and Rod Kastelitz for their work in making this partnership a reality."

As part of their corporate sponsorship, EBMS will receive premium ad placement on the Frontier Conference website with name mentions during conference athletic events including PA, radio, webcast and television. In addition, EBMS will receive signage in arenas and stadiums as a league corporate sponsor.

"EBMS is proud to sponsor N.A.I.A.'s Frontier Conference," Rod Kastelitz, EBMS Executive Vice President of Sales said. Do You Know the Truth... "What method of baptism was practiced in and required by the Bible?"

(We believe the following: (1) the Bible was given by the inspiration of God as stated in 2 Timothy 3:16-17; (2) all statements made in this and any ensuing articles will be based on what the Bible says; (3) the Bible only is a reliable source of spiritual & doctrinal truth; (4) all beliefs in conflict with Biblical teachings are false.)

There are three methods of baptism practiced in the religious world today: (1) by complete immersion; (2) by sprinkling water, usually on the head; (3) by pouring water, also usually on the head.

This provokes an interesting question: are all three methods authorized and accepted by God? As with all other subjects related to spiritual truth, the Bible, written by the inspiration of God, is the only reference that offers the answer to this question. If there are examples of all three methods being practiced in the scriptures, then obviously all three are valid. But of only one method is taught and practiced, then only that method is valid and acceptable to God.

The following facts point out that baptism in the scriptures was always by immersion.

When the Bible was translated into English, the word baptism was translated from the Greek word "baptizo" or some of its derivatives, which only had one meaning – "to dip, immerse, or plunge" – with reference to a person being baptized. The Greek words meaning to sprinkle or pour were never used in reference to this ordinance.

All N.T. references to people being baptized show it to be immersion.

We also see that baptism is referred to as a burial and a planting in Romans 6:4-5, "Therefore we are buried with him by baptism unto death: that like as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life. For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection."

Conclusion: All the evidence reveals that only baptism by immersion is considered valid in God's word.
